OTHERS IN DYNAMITE PLOT

And Detective W. J. Burns Expects to Bring Them All to Justice.

Samuel Gompers Says Labor Was Grossly Deceived by the McNamaras—Statement of American Federation of Labor—"Murder is Murder" Says Theodore Roosevelt.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Further arrests in the Los Angeles Times dynamite case may come at any time, according to Detective William J. Burns, who discussed the case of some length. "There are others in this case just as guilty as the McNamaras," said Detective Burns. "I do not think the pleas of guilty in the case of either man should stop the prosecution of the case and the search for others implicated in the plot. "We will soon have 'Dave' Kaplan and M. J. Schmidt, alias 'Smithy,' also wanted in connection with the blowing up of the Times building, and there are a number of others. It would be injudicious for me to say how many or of the nature of their positions."

WILLIAM J. BURNS. The great detective who ran down the McNamaras.

tion in organized labor, but I will say that there are other prominent men mixed up in this affair, and I expect to keep working until the last of them have been brought to justice. "This has not been a fight against organized labor, as many have said, but rather an expose of the worst part of unionism, and the part that should be removed by the better element."

"Labor leaders should have investigated the case before they cried 'frame up,' and 'conspiracy.' Laboring men should have known that one of the men arrested and two others sought in connection with the case did not even belong to organized labor. J. B. McNamara was not a laborer. Neither had he been for many years. Neither were Kaplan nor Schmidt union men."

Labor Grossly Deceived. Troy, N.Y., Dec. 4.—"Labor was grossly deceived," said Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, with considerable emotion. "Only a few days ago, and just before the close of the recent convention of the American Federation of Labor at Atlanta, we received a telegram from the McNamaras thanking the labor unions of this country for their confidence and help in their bamboozling."

"The assumption is that the labor unions will suffer as a result of the confession, but I do not think they will, even if it will do them no good. Of course, we stand for evolution rather than revolution, not stand for peace and the rights of man, rather than violence and brutality. No cause is advanced when violence is resorted to, but the severest criticism that can be made against us, meaning the federation, is that we had faith in the men who were accused of the crime. "We had every cause to accept their innocence as a fact. Think of those telegrams declaring that they were falsely accused and expressing the confidence that they would be adjudged innocent. When men proclaim on one or their honor that they are innocent guilty to a crime of the character of this, would it not unsettle any man interested in our cause? "I can't figure out the case of the McNamaras, as being anything else than the act of crazy men or fanatics," said Mr. Gompers, later pleading that the McNamara case was a "crime" which would benefit labor conditions in this country. Mr. Gompers said he would issue a prepared statement later in which he would go into the details of the case at greater length.

Henry George's Wild Talk. Washington, Dec. 4.—A tremendous struggle and even civil war, is foreshadowed by the confession of the McNamaras, according to Representative Henry George, Jr., (democrat, N.Y.). "It's a most ominous sign."

DAILY MEMORANDA. City Council, 8 a.m. Remember Chalmers' church is late. Thursday, Dec. 4. 2 o'clock. First congregational church tea and sale at Mrs. J. B. Henderson's, 117 East street, to-morrow (Tuesday), from 4 to 6.

PRICES OF HAY.

Crop 47,000,000 Tons Compared With 61,000,000 in 1910.

New York, Dec. 4.—"This year's hay crop is only 47,000,000 tons, against 61,000,000 tons a year ago. As a result of prices of hay throughout the country, principal consuming markets ranged from $26 a ton at New York to $17.75 at Minneapolis. New Orleans has to pay even more than New York for its hay supply, the latest quotations there being $27.50. Excepting prairie hay, which sells much below the standard varieties for stock feeding, there is little to be had anywhere in central markets, east or west, under $22 a ton. The rule in the east is $25, or 1 1/2 cents a pound. Whether the price advances or declines depends much on what the early winter weather is. If snow should cover the interior early in December, cutting off pasturage, the price of hay would advance still further with progress of heavy feeding for all kinds of live stock. For that reason those who have supplies for sale are holding their hay, but stocks are low and arrivals are quickly disposed of."

INVADES CANADA.

Big Factory Will Shortly be Established in Kingston.

Binghamton, N.Y., Dec. 4.—It is announced that Benjamin B. McFarland, of the Commercial Envelope Co., of this city, has been elected president of a concern, organized to be established at Kingston, Canada, where a factory covering four acres of land will be hurried to completion. The name of the combine will be the Commercial Box and Envelope Co., limited, of Canada, with a capital of nearly $200,000. It is planned to unite all the concerns in the United States and Canada under the corporation and control the envelope output of the world. Owing to the present trust agitation in the United States, the combination sought Canada as a location and the enterprise will be the largest of its kind ever undertaken in the dominion.

MRS. SCHENK DEMANDS TRIAL. Woman Accused of Poisoning Husband, Requests Hearing.

Wheating, W. Va., Dec. 4.—Mrs. L. Farnworth Schenk, who was tried early in the year on a charge of having attempted to poison her husband, John F. Schenk, has demanded a trial to prove her innocence. She has given her lawyer authority to give her another trial without delay, the jury in the first trial having stood eleven to one for acquittal. The case has been called in court several times since the first trial, and has been postponed each time at the request of the prosecutor.

A RELIGIOUS FUSS OVER MAN WHO DIED. Anglican Received Extreme Unction From Priest—Relatives Took His Body However.

Montreal, Dec. 4.—William Vaughan, an Anglican, of St. John's, Que., died in a hospital in that town, and just before his death received conversion and extreme unction from a priest. His remains were interred with Roman Catholic service in the winter vault. Then his relatives got the body and it was re-interred in the Anglican burying-ground, with a Protestant ceremony. There is quite a fuss over the affair.

May Have Apple Show. Spokane, Wash., Dec. 4.—William H. Bunting, St. Catharines, Ont., official representative of the dominion department of agriculture, who accompanied by Fred H. Grindley, Montreal, is making a tour of the Canadian and American northwest, said in the course of an interview in Spokane, that he is visiting the various fruit districts in this part of the country to gather data and other information for use in the event it is decided to hold a national apple show in Canada next fall. It is likely that Toronto will be the exhibition city.

James Ryan and family, Marmon, have moved to Tweed, where they will take up their residence. The Lynch & Ryan Lumber company has secured some valuable timber near Tweed and commenced operations. Sale at 327 Johnson street, of hand-made Christmas presents, will take place Dec. 14th and 15th.

Premier Whitney Condemned In The House Of His Friends

The Ottawa Journal, the Hamilton Spectator and many other conservative papers, condemn Sir James Whitney for his indifference to tax reform.

The Toronto Telegram condemns Sir James Whitney and Hon. Frank Cochrane for Rip-Van-Winking six years among the agricultural possibilities of New Ontario's 15,000,000-acre clay belt.

The Toronto News has at times condemned Sir James Whitney and his government as unfair, un-British and high handed.

The Toronto World condemns Sir James Whitney for his senseless opposition to Allan Studholme, the only labor representative in the legislature.

Many conservative papers and conservative members of the legislature condemn Sir James Whitney for his rash misstatements regarding bilingual schools. The Toronto World makes a cartoon of his blundering equivocations.

Thousands of conservatives, rank and file, condemn Sir James Whitney for his blustering discourtesy to deputations, in fact to everybody who differs from his opinions.

Never was a prime minister of Ontario so berated in the house of his friends.

They single out Sir James Whitney, because he is the government. Like Louis XIV, he says, "I am the state." Sir James Whitney is IT.

Rowell Wants to Know What Whitney's Opinion is on the Bilingual Question.

Woodstock, Dec. 4.—"The bilingual school question is becoming more and more embarrassing to the premier," said N. W. Rowell, K.C., provincial Liberal leader, in addressing the North Oxford Reform Association at their annual meeting here, on Saturday.

"He is being badgered by his friends and pursued by his opponents. He is evidently losing his temper, and he seeks to cover his own indecision by a truly characteristic compliment to his opponents. He stated last night at Lindsay:

"I have come to the conclusion definitely that a public man who hesitates to give his opinion on public questions is a public fool. A man who attempts to hoodwink the people of Ontario to-day will not succeed, and he ought not to succeed?"

"I wonder," remarked Mr. Rowell, "how Sir James would enjoy being misquoted by these yard sticks."

Toronto, Dec. 4.—The shareholders of the defunct York County Loan and Savings company, all over Canada, are being sent Christmas presents in the shape of checks for twenty-five per cent of their claims. EXPERTS SHOULD ASCERTAIN.

Why St. Lawrence Watershed is Diminishing.

Quebec, Dec. 4.—William Price, ex-M.P., in an interview, published in today's local papers, advocated the appointment of a special commission, composed of leading experts from England and other places, to report on the St. Lawrence watershed, with a view to ascertaining if the flow of water is diminishing from natural causes, and owing to the opening up of the country. If they found this to be the case they should then ascertain if it is possible to deepen the channel between Quebec and Montreal without building artificial barrages.

She lived in Toronto and moved in society there.

A MEXICAN GENERAL FOUND TO BE TRAITOR. Orozco Has Been Conspiring With the Rebels Against President Madero.

Mexico City, Dec. 4.—Government circles were shocked, to-day, by the revelations that Gen. Pascual Orozco, who was supposed to be one of President Madero's warmest friends, had turned traitor, and for months had been conspiring with the rebel general, Huerta, for Madero's downfall. Madero is getting more popular every day, and will soon doubtless put down the rebellion.

DR. A. E. ROSS

Elected Member For Kingston by Acclamation

WILL BE NO ELECTION IN KINGSTON FOR FIRST TIME ON RECORD.

The Only Other Acclamation Here Was When the Late Mr. Pense Was Elected at a Bye-Election in February, 1902.

Dr. Arthur E. Ross was, on Monday afternoon, elected by acclamation to represent Kingston in the Ontario legislature.

This is the first acclamation known in a general election in the history of the city. Old timers who were present at the proceedings could not recall an acclamation in their time, and it was stated as a positive fact that this was the first time.

Dr. Ross was declared elected by the returning officer, J. B. Walkem, K.C., and afterwards the doctor made a brief address, in which he returned thanks for the honor conferred upon him. The attendance at the nomination was very small, about sixty people in all being in the hall.

Dr. Ross was nominated at 12:10 p.m.

DR. ARTHUR E. ROSS. Elected by acclamation as member for Kingston in Ontario Legislature.

His nomination was moved by Harry Gray and seconded by William J. Vince.

After Dr. Ross had been nominated the returning officer announced that under regulations he was not forced to wait until two o'clock to receive nominations. One hour after the first nomination was made no more nominations would be received. Thus the opposition had until ten minutes after one to nominate their candidate.

However, no candidate was nominated and when the time expired this returning officer declared Dr. Ross elected.

In his address Dr. Ross returned his thanks for the honor. He considered it a great honor in view of the fact that this was the first general election by acclamation in the city. In taking his seat all he had to offer the people was his record in the past. At his nomination some weeks ago he was of the opinion that he had struck the keynote of the situation when he announced that the Whitney government was an honest and progressive government. He pointed out that the Whitney government was giving a far larger grant to education and agriculture. In fact all the departments, he pointed out, were receiving larger grants from the Whitney government than they did under the liberal government.

Continuing, Dr. Ross said that he hoped his course in the future would not bring disagree on the city or the people who had placed him in his new position. He felt that he was undertaking a great responsibility when he considered all the great men who had filled the position.

The small crowd gave Kingston's new member a hearty cheer as he finished his brief address.

In declaring Mr. Ross elected, Mr. Walkem said that the situation was unique within his recollection, which went back forty-two years. In that time he never knew of an acclamation in a general election. It must be a source of great pleasure to Dr. Ross to have nothing to do with an election. Everyone knew the work and trouble it gave a person; running a contest. He wished to extend congratulations to the new member. In an amusing way, he said, he felt sorry for some who were chosen to carry on the work in connection with the election, and had been looking forward to receiving a little extra pocket money for Christmas, and thus would be cut off, owing to the fact that there would be no election. Mr. Walkem said he had been returning officer nine times, and in that time he never knew of an acclamation.

In connection with this acclamation, it might be stated that in February, 1902, the late E. J. B. Pense was elected by acclamation at a bye-election, but at that time only occupied the seat for three months, when a general election was called on the following day, when he was re-elected.

The Toronto Mail and Empire in a forecast of the provincial elections, predicts a net gain of four in Sir James Whitney's majority in the legislature.
