

Neilson's

The Chocolates that are Different

Neilson's Chocolates are just what they are represented to be—real fruit, real cream, real sugar, real chocolate.

The Fruit Centers are flavored with fresh, ripe fruit put up in our own kitchens.

The Cream comes from the best dairy farms in Ontario.

The Sugar is refined from East Indian Sugar Cane—the sweetest and most delicious sugar in the world.

The Nuts are the pick of the world's crops—the kind you would buy for your table.

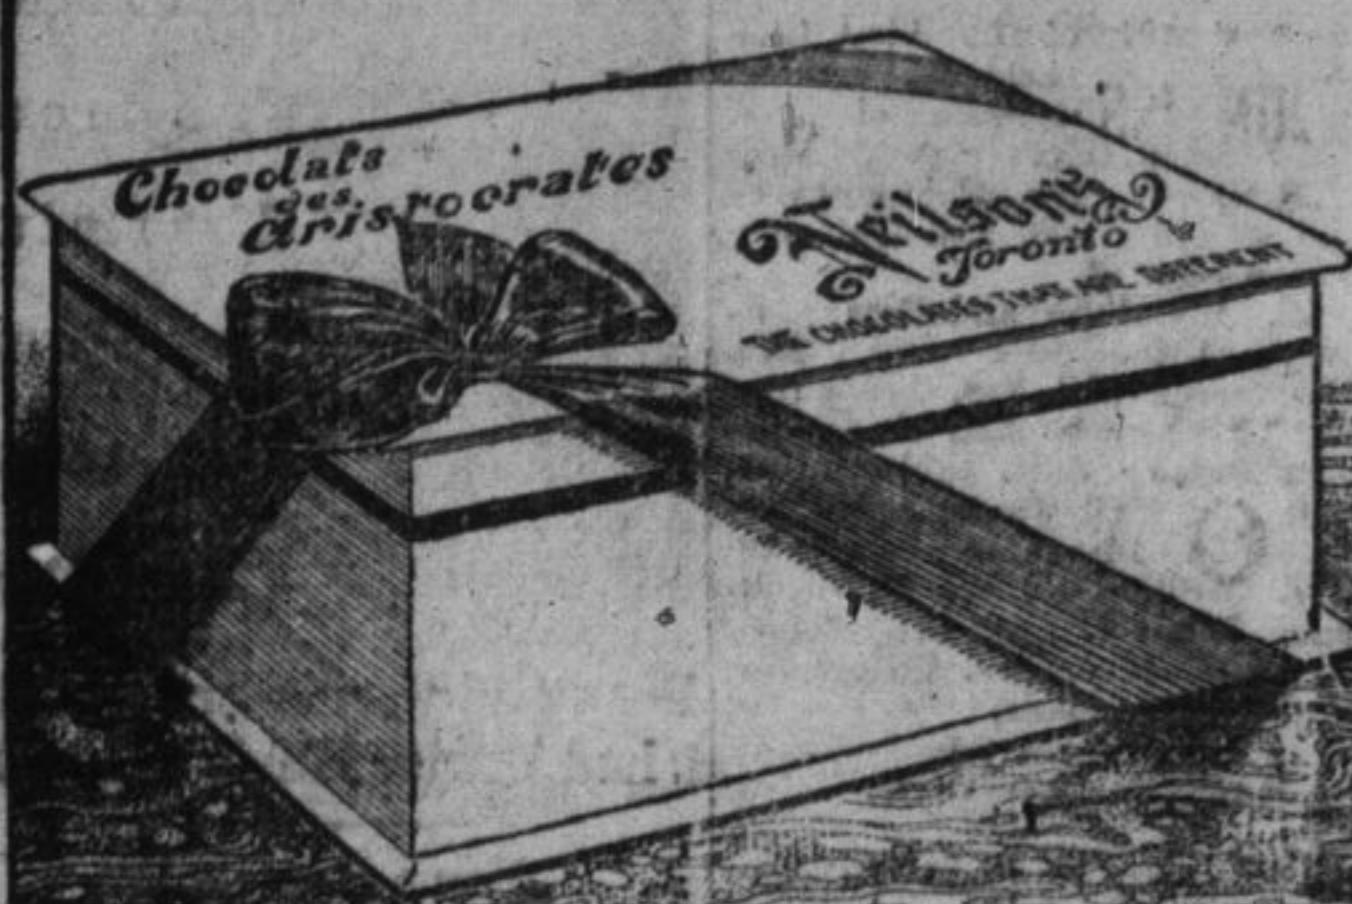

The Chocolate is pure Chocolate and all Chocolate—that makes a firm, crisp, thick, rich coating, unknown before Neilson's started to make these Chocolates that are different.

They are different—in their dainty appearance as well as in their enticing deliciousness. 33 different packages—each containing the most exquisite chocolates of their kind.

If Neilson's are not easily obtained in your neighborhood, send 80c. for a pound box of these deliciously different Chocolates.

WM. NEILSON LIMITED,

TORONTO.

N. R. GRIMM, 102 PRINCESS STREET, SOLE AGENT FOR KINGSTON, AND NEILSON'S CHOCOLATES CAN ONLY BE HAD AT THIS STORE.

Headaches—nausea—indigestion—muddy complexion—pimples—bad breath—these are some of the effects of constipation. The mild, sensible, reliable remedy is

NA-DRU-CO LAXATIVES

They contain the latest discovered and best evacuant known, which empties the bowels without its slightest discomfort and without disturbing the rest of the system. Consequently increased doses are not necessary. $2.50 a box. If your druggist has not yet stocked them, send 25c and we will mail them. 25 National Drug and Chemical Company, Canada, Limited. Montreal.

Goes farthest
for the money
LIPTON'S TEA
OVER 2 MILLION PACKAGES SOLD WEEKLY

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paretic, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substances. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulence. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years

INCANTAR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

A CHANCE IS AFFORDED

TO ANCHOR LOCOMOTIVE WORKS IN KINGSTON.

Company Asks For Fixed Assessment of $100,000—In Return It Will Double Its Plant.

Kingston, Dec. 6.—(To the Editor) Will you kindly allow me to state shortly the nature of the application of the Canadian Locomotive company to have a fixed assessment granted to their property.

In July last the control of the company passed from the then owners into other hands. Most of the capital stock is now held outside of Kingston, and five out of the seven directors live in other cities. As is well known, the works would have been removed from here to Montreal a few years ago had it not been for the loyalty to the city of the majority of the stockholders who were at that time Kingston men. The Hon. Mr. Hartley and myself, who are the two Kingston directors on the present board, have felt that those who now control the company have no sentimental attachment to Kingston, and we have been anxious to fasten the works more firmly here by inducing the board of directors to greatly enlarge the works and invest a much greater amount of capital in permanent extensions. In answer to our urging that they do this, they very naturally asked what treatment may we expect from Kingston if we consent. After some negotiation we got authority to make this proposition to the city council.

The company will agree to spend, within the next two years, at least $200,000 in the improvement and extension of the works, if the city will fix the company's assessment for municipal taxation, except school rates, at $100,000.

The works, under a by-law passed in January, 1906, were granted total exemption from all taxation, except school rates, until 1916. Under the new proposal the company waive this and, at once, to pay taxes on $100,000. Then, as the property is added to, the city will get the extra school tax on the increased value of the company's property. The plans have been prepared for the proposed enlargements and have been shown the board of trade and can be seen by any voter who so desires. The estimated cost of making them very much exceeds the $300,000, but the company, as in 1906, prefer in giving their undertaking, to be well within the mark. These enlargements will about double the present floor space of the shops, will increase their capacity to turn out work about one hundred per cent., and will enable the company to increase the present number of employees from 630 up to 1,000.

This seemed to Mr. Hartley and myself a pretty good business proposition for the city, and we are very glad to be able to offer it to our fellow-citizens for their approval. I need not dwell on the good to the city of having this industry here and the greater good it will be when so materially enlarged. It now pays out to its employees every fortnight at the rate of $400,000 a year, and this money passes immediately into the commercial life of the city, directly or indirectly benefitting all its citizens.—J. L. WHITTING.

THE LOST PARADISE

This Will be the Event To-night at the Grand.

The Queen's University Dramatic Club will present at the Grand Opera House to-night, "The Lost Paradise," in aid of the general hospital. As this talented club made a tremendous hit presenting "The Lost Paradise" last week, the theatre should be packed to-night with pleasure seekers, and especially when it is for such a good cause as the hospital. This is one of the most powerful social problem plays of the age, and as it is the first modern play for the club to present, no pains will be spared to make it an artistic success. Capital and labor is the keynote of this drama and it leaves behind it many thoughts worth carrying away.

Dear Old Billy."

It seems to be the unanimous opinion of those who have seen this offering that for clean fun and side-splitting situations and complications, "Dear Old Billy" excels even such of its illustrations predecessors from the pens of English writers of farce as "The Private Secretary," "Charley's Aunt," "Arabian Nights" and "Jacq."

The action of the piece is woven around a kindly, easy-going gentleman of middle-age (William Smith), who for twenty years has been harassed by a domineering wife. In an effort to secure much-needed liberty, rest and repose, he secures a legal separation, the terms of which stipulate that he shall pay her £250 annually. It is further arranged that in the event of their meeting she is not to interfere with him or in any way make their relationship known, or even speak to him, on penalty of forfeiting her yearly allowance. Smith's appearance at the scenes, where he is showered with attentions by well-meaning women, and the subsequent arrival, co-incidentally, of his wife at the same resort, where she never misses being present when her spouse is placed in an embarrassing position, furnished material for laughter; that is incessant. William Hawtry, in "Dear Old Billy," comes to the Grand on Tuesday, December 12th.

The copyright bill has passed the third reading in the house of lords. Copyright is to exist during the life of the author and for fifty years after his death.

Rosie's 82 camera makes a good and sensible present for a beginner. Mahon's Drug Store.

Australia bought the freehold of the entire Alabrech site in London for £364,000, and is going to liquidate part of the high commission.

The big 3, Huyler's, McConkey's, Kodak, Gibson's.

An Englishman named Groves landed from a train running forty-five miles an hour near Vagabond Hill. He was picked up with only a few scratches on his face.

A TRAGIC STORY.

The Mother Died From Starvation Last December.

This is one sentence from the records of Dr. Barnardo's Homes of the case of little Sarah and Jane, aged nine and four, and suffices to tell the whole tragic story. A good wife and mother, a decent husband, tramping week after week in search of work; these are the outstanding features in this sad narrative, and the end after all the striving is "Death from starvation." Think of it! The hard unequal struggle to keep death from the door in this land of civilization—willing to work, seeing wife and children wanting bare necessities, and yet unable to provide them. The heart-rending pity of it! Enough to drive man or woman to desperation under the strain. These, writes the honorary director of the homes, are two of the thousands of children, whom, by God's help, they are able to succour. In a booklet entitled, "It," is shown what would have happened if 75,000 children had not passed through the rescue doors. The great majority of these children would have become paupers, and been chargeable to the state. The average cost of each indoor pauper in England and Wales is £27. 14s. 10d., so that 75,000 extra paupers would cost something like two million pounds per annum. Many of these children would have drifted into crime; instead of that, they are being made into law-abiding and useful citizens.

The charter of the homes, is, as always has been, "No Substitute Child Ever Refused Admission," and an urgent appeal is made for funds to carry on this Christian, national and philanthropic work. The king and queen and Queen Alexandra are patrons.

Gifts of all kinds—money, clothing, blankets, toys, etc., will be specially welcomed at this Christmas season by the honorary director, William Baker, LL.B., at headquarters, 18, Stepney Causeway, London, E. 1.

KANSAS CITY GIRL RUNS AWAY WITH STEP-FATHER.

Thinks Eloping All Right When Two Women Love Same Man, She Says.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Whether or not it is wrong to elope with the husband of one's mother depends a good deal upon the relations of the mother and daughter, according to Bella Mitchell, sixteen years old, who fled here from Kansas City, and is under arrest with W. H. Schrollier, her step-father.

Bella declares she regarded her mother only as a sister, and that where two were in love with the same man, an elopement was justified.

The works, under a by-law passed in January, 1906, were granted total exemption from all taxation, except school rates, until 1916. Under the new proposal the company waive this and, at once, to pay taxes on $100,000. Then, as the property is added to, the city will get the extra school tax on the increased value of the company's property. The plans have been prepared for the proposed enlargements and have been shown the board of trade and can be seen by any voter who so desires. The estimated cost of making them very much exceeds the $300,000, but the company, as in 1906, prefer in giving their undertaking, to be well within the mark. These enlargements will about double the present floor space of the shops, will increase their capacity to turn out work about one hundred per cent., and will enable the company to increase the present number of employees from 630 up to 1,000.

This seemed to Mr. Hartley and myself a pretty good business proposition for the city, and we are very glad to be able to offer it to our fellow-citizens for their approval. I need not dwell on the good to the city of having this industry here and the greater good it will be when so materially enlarged. It now pays out to its employees every fortnight at the rate of $400,000 a year, and this money passes immediately into the commercial life of the city, directly or indirectly benefitting all its citizens.—J. L. WHITTING.

THINKS Eloping All Right When Two Women Love Same Man, She Says.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Whether or not it is wrong to elope with the husband of one's mother depends a good deal upon the relations of the mother and daughter, according to Bella Mitchell, sixteen years old, who fled here from Kansas City, and is under arrest with W. H. Schrollier, her step-father.

Bella declares she regarded her mother only as a sister, and that where two were in love with the same man, an elopement was justified.

The works, under a by-law passed in January, 1906, were granted total exemption from all taxation, except school rates, until 1916. Under the new proposal the company waive this and, at once, to pay taxes on $100,000. Then, as the property is added to, the city will get the extra school tax on the increased value of the company's property. The plans have been prepared for the proposed enlargements and have been shown the board of trade and can be seen by any voter who so desires. The estimated cost of making them very much exceeds the $300,000, but the company, as in 1906, prefer in giving their undertaking, to be well within the mark. These enlargements will about double the present floor space of the shops, will increase their capacity to turn out work about one hundred per cent., and will enable the company to increase the present number of employees from 630 up to 1,000.

This seemed to Mr. Hartley and myself a pretty good business proposition for the city, and we are very glad to be able to offer it to our fellow-citizens for their approval. I need not dwell on the good to the city of having this industry here and the greater good it will be when so materially enlarged. It now pays out to its employees every fortnight at the rate of $400,000 a year, and this money passes immediately into the commercial life of the city, directly or indirectly benefitting all its citizens.—J. L. WHITTING.

THINKS Eloping All Right When Two Women Love Same Man, She Says.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Whether or not it is wrong to elope with the husband of one's mother depends a good deal upon the relations of the mother and daughter, according to Bella Mitchell, sixteen years old, who fled here from Kansas City, and is under arrest with W. H. Schrollier, her step-father.

Bella declares she regarded her mother only as a sister, and that where two were in love with the same man, an elopement was justified.

The works, under a by-law passed in January, 1906, were granted total exemption from all taxation, except school rates, until 1916. Under the new proposal the company waive this and, at once, to pay taxes on $100,000. Then, as the property is added to, the city will get the extra school tax on the increased value of the company's property. The plans have been prepared for the proposed enlargements and have been shown the board of trade and can be seen by any voter who so desires. The estimated cost of making them very much exceeds the $300,000, but the company, as in 1906, prefer in giving their undertaking, to be well within the mark. These enlargements will about double the present floor space of the shops, will increase their capacity to turn out work about one hundred per cent., and will enable the company to increase the present number of employees from 630 up to 1,000.

This seemed to Mr. Hartley and myself a pretty good business proposition for the city, and we are very glad to be able to offer it to our fellow-citizens for their approval. I need not dwell on the good to the city of having this industry here and the greater good it will be when so materially enlarged. It now pays out to its employees every fortnight at the rate of $400,000 a year, and this money passes immediately into the commercial life of the city, directly or indirectly benefitting all its citizens.—J. L. WHITTING.

THINKS Eloping All Right When Two Women Love Same Man, She Says.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Whether or not it is wrong to elope with the husband of one's mother depends a good deal upon the relations of the mother and daughter, according to Bella Mitchell, sixteen years old, who fled here from Kansas City, and is under arrest with W. H. Schrollier, her step-father.

Bella declares she regarded her mother only as a sister, and that where two were in love with the same man, an elopement was justified.

The works, under a by-law passed in January, 1906, were granted total exemption from all taxation, except school rates, until 1916. Under the new proposal the company waive this and, at once, to pay taxes on $100,000. Then, as the property is added to, the city will get the extra school tax on the increased value of the company's property. The plans have been prepared for the proposed enlargements and have been shown the board of trade and can be seen by any voter who so desires. The estimated cost of making them very much exceeds the $300,000, but the company, as in 1906, prefer in giving their undertaking, to be well within the mark. These enlargements will about double the present floor space of the shops, will increase their capacity to turn out work about one hundred per cent., and will enable the company to increase the present number of employees from 630 up to 1,000.

This seemed to Mr. Hartley and myself a pretty good business proposition for the city, and we are very glad to be able to offer it to our fellow-citizens for their approval. I need not dwell on the good to the city of having this industry here and the greater good it will be when so materially enlarged. It now pays out to its employees every fortnight at the rate of $400,000 a year, and this money passes immediately into the commercial life of the city, directly or indirectly benefitting all its citizens.—J. L. WHITTING.

THINKS Eloping All Right When Two Women Love Same Man, She Says.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Whether or not it is wrong to elope with the husband of one's mother depends a good deal upon the relations of the mother and daughter, according to Bella Mitchell, sixteen years old, who fled here from Kansas City, and is under arrest with W. H. Schrollier, her step-father.

Bella declares she regarded her mother only as a sister, and that where two were in love with the same man, an elopement was justified.

The works, under a by-law passed in January, 1906, were granted total exemption from all taxation, except school rates, until 1916. Under the new proposal the company waive this and, at once, to pay taxes on $100,000. Then, as the property is added to, the city will get the extra school tax on the increased value of the company's property. The plans have been prepared for the proposed enlargements and have been shown the board of trade and can be seen by any voter who so desires. The estimated cost of making them very much exceeds the $300,000, but the company, as in 1906, prefer in giving their undertaking, to be well within the mark. These enlargements will about double the present floor space of the shops, will increase their capacity to turn out work about one hundred per cent., and will enable the company to increase the present number of employees from 630 up to 1,000.

This seemed to Mr. Hartley and myself a pretty good business proposition for the city, and we are very glad to be able to offer it to our fellow-citizens for their approval. I need not dwell on the good to the city of having this industry here and the greater good it will be when so materially enlarged. It now pays out to its employees every fortnight at the rate of $400,000 a year, and this money passes immediately into the commercial life of the city, directly or indirectly benefitting all its citizens.—J. L. WHITTING.

THINKS Eloping All Right When Two Women Love Same Man, She Says.

St. Louis, Dec. 7.—Whether or not it is wrong to elope with the husband of one's mother depends a good deal upon the relations of the mother and daughter, according to Bella Mitchell, sixteen years old, who fled here from Kansas City, and is under arrest with W. H. Schrollier, her step-father.

Bella declares she regarded her mother only as a sister, and that where two were in love with the same man, an elopement was justified.

The works, under a by-law passed in January, 1906, were granted total exemption from all taxation, except school rates, until 1916. Under the new proposal the company waive this and, at once, to pay taxes on $100,000. Then, as the property is added to, the city will get the extra school tax on the increased value of the company's property. The plans have been prepared for the proposed enlargements and have been shown the board of trade and can be seen by any voter who so desires. The estimated cost of making them very much exceeds the $300,000, but the company, as in 1906, prefer in giving their undertaking, to be well within the mark. These enlargements will about double the present floor space of the shops, will increase their capacity to turn out work about one hundred per cent., and will enable the company to increase the present number of employees from 630 up to 1,000.

This seemed to Mr