Direct From Pope

His Holiness writes to Archbishop Ireland. Urging All Pastors to Drive Plague of Intemperance From the Fold of Christ by Preaching and Example. In a full two-column advertisement of the liquor party in the issues of Friday's papers, the liquor people attempt to show the standing of the churches. They quote the Catholic church as being strongly against prohibitive measures, especially the pope. The articles they use is not a direct message from the pope, but only what another clergyman says. Here is a copy of a letter direct from the pope at Rome to Archbishop Ireland: "LET PASTORS DO THEIR BEST TO DRIVE THE PLAGUE OF INTemperance FROM THE FOLD OF CHRIST BY ASSIDUOUS PREACHING AND EXHORTATION, AND TO SHINE BEFORE ALL AS MODELS OF ABSTINENCE, THAT SO MANY CALAMITIES WITH WHICH THIS VICE THREATENS CHURCH AND STATE MAY BY THEIR STRENUOUS ENDEAVORS BE AVERTED."

Thomas Hewitt Retires

From the Position of Waterworks Superintendent. At six o'clock Friday evening the city officials gathered in a cosy room under the city hall dome in honor of their comrade, Mr. Hewitt, who has just retired from the position of waterworks superintendent. The program consisted of a toast to Mr. Hewitt, followed by a song by the choir of St. Mark's church, and a short address by the mayor. Mr. Hewitt, who has been in the city for twenty-four years, was born near Manchester, England, in 1839, and came to Kingston in 1870. He was in the city council for several years, and the council reluctantly accepted his resignation. He has not enjoyed the best of health for some time, and desires to take a good long rest.

The Man On Watch

His worship the mayor seemed determined, on Thursday, to show the anti-liquor delegation that he was just as independent as Premier Whitney, and wasn't going to allow any organization to dictate to him. The Lampan wonders what his worship would have done had the ladies of the A.C.T.U. appeared before him with a list of scrutineers. Would he have smiled benignly upon them, and granted every request they might have made? The Lampan thinks that David Laidlaw's portly society made a mistake in not sending a party of the fair sex to wait upon the mayor for he understands that his worship is quite gallant and that a few pretty faces would have softened his heart and caused him to chase the hotelmen out. The Lampan has looked over the list of scrutineers appointed and finds that all are good church attenders, and sees no reason for kicking. The mayor, he thinks, was quite right in refusing to be dictated to.

THOMAS HEWITT. Thomas Hewitt, who has been superintendent of the Kingston water works system since the city purchased it from the old company on January 1st, 1888, retires on the 31st from a position he has occupied for the past twenty-three years with diligence and faithfulness. He has been connected with the water works for the past forty-one years. Mr. Hewitt was born near Manchester, England, in 1839, and came to Kingston in 1870. Several times the city council refused to accept his resignation, but this year, Mr. Hewitt pressed for its acceptance, and the council reluctantly accepted to his request. He has not enjoyed the best of health for some time, and desires to take a good long rest.

Little Ones Made Merry

At Queen Street Sunday School Hall Thursday Evening. The Christmas entertainment, held Thursday evening, for the primary and beginners' departments of Queen street Methodist Sunday school, was much enjoyed by the little ones. Little entertainment was very bright. Ernest Allen made a very capable chairman. Chorus were well sung and songs were given by Fred Shannon, Mary DeKoon, Doris Williams, Mabel Clarke, Elma Byron, Violet Rusk, Harry McRorie, Muriel Dyon, Gordon and Osborne Bearance, Reta Gardner, Ernest Allen, Rita Parrar, Pearl Mail, Etta Stagnas, Margaret Allen and Ada Shannon and Margaret Corcoran. The program finished the children sat down to supper, after which perhaps the most looked-forward-to feature of the evening occurred. Santa Claus made his appearance and distributed presents and candy to the children, from a nicely decorated tree.

Seal-Yates Wedding

In Pittsburg Township Last Wednesday Evening. A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Charles Seal, Pittsburg, when her eldest daughter, Agnes Elizabeth, was united in marriage to Charles Seal-Yates. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Canon Loucks, in the presence of immediate relatives. The bride was daintily gowned in white embroidered silk and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Little Miss Nora Staples, Woodstock, attended the bride, and carried a basket of lovely pink roses and ferns. Many beautiful gifts showed the estimation in which the young couple are held. The bride was especially remembered by the choir of St. Mark's church, Barrieldale, where she is an active member, also by the Sunday school, where she was organist and Sunday school teacher for some years. Among the guests was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. McKillop, who is now her ninetieth year, and her granduncle, Capt. A. Dunlop, who is in his eightieth year.

Highest Grades

W. F. KELLY. Clarence and Ontario Streets. Toy's Building. The Chocolate Soldier Will Be Here on Jan. 3rd. "The Chocolate Soldier" is still the conquering hero in the vast army of light operas that assail the American theatre. It comes with his company of 100 people and special orchestra to the Grand on Wednesday, January 3rd. This superb operatic mixture of Viennese melodies and Celtic wit and satire, with Bulgarian scenes, manners and customs forming a splendid background of romance, is the work of Oscar Straus, the composer of "Vienna and Bernese Schaw," the Irish wit and playright, from whose romantic satire, "Arms and the Man" the libretto of "The Chocolate Soldier" is derived. It is chiefly the music which has given the opera its remarkable reputation. Such melodies as "My Hero," the waltz refrain which is the dominating theme of the entire score, and "The Letter of the Chocolate Soldier" are features. With the wealth of lyric gems, there is never lacking a dramatic situation to gratify the spectator.

Clark-McKivor Wedding

A quiet wedding took place in the city on Tuesday evening when Rev. S. Selley united Miss Florence McKivor, of Sharbot Lake, and J. Clark, of Mountain Grove, the groom being a prosperous farmer in that locality. The bride has many warm friends in the city, who extend congratulations.

Strong For Aid. Toys

A Sydenham ward resident writes: "For the life of me, I cannot understand why opposition should have been given to Aid. R. H. Toye in this ward. When a man has served the city faithfully in the city council for fifteen years, and is willing to continue as a representative of the people, he should be returned to office unopposed, especially when there is nothing against him. Aid. Toye has been a splendid representative, and I hope that Sydenham ward will show its appreciation of him, on Monday, by giving him a big majority."

Ald. Clugston For Rideau

Rideau ward ratepayers are saying nice things about Ald. W. R. Clugston who is seeking reelection. That ward has never had a more faithful representative, and to Clugston and Cooper is given the credit of securing the additional street lighting in that portion of the city. They are on the job all the time for the people. Aid. Clugston has been the most faithful at the city council meetings, not having missed one meeting during his three years' service.

Evading the Law

The moment you attempt to restrict and prohibit men in matters of eating and drinking that moment they begin to exercise their genius in evading the law. You can appeal to a man morally and accomplish something, but you can't keep him sober by laws or cause him to drink less by reducing the number of places where liquor is sold. Reduction of license in Kingston cannot possibly help our city morally.—Adv't.

How Voters Can Help

If you want to help Kingston, help your own home, and indeed help your own self, do not vote for intemperance. Reduction is not intemperance, it is purely a matter of dollars and cents to our city. We can't afford a cent of money that represents a capitalization of $50,000. Other cities are improving and growing. Why can't we? Because we have the destructive barrier of intemperance always with us, and such men drag us down to wreck and ruin. Shut the growler as you would the plague of leprosy, and you will find it is to your advantage to reduce on Monday next.—Adv't.

The Names Confused

Considerable confusion is being occasioned by there being two gentlemen of the name of Peters contesting for municipal honors. One of them, W. P. Peters, is the Brock street provision dealer, who is a candidate for alderman in Frontenac ward. The other is William Peters, president of the Ontario Cigar Manufacturing Company, who is offering himself as a school trustee candidate in Cataraugus ward, where he has lived all his life. He says that the voters here are confused by his name, and asks that they give it a special mention on the ballot on Monday next.—Adv't.

Will be a Good Game

The basketball game, between St. Paul's and Queen's, scheduled for Monday evening, will be one of the best of the season. St. Paul's team is made up of the best men in the city and Queen's has a fast team.

The Late Mrs. Burton

The funeral of the late Mrs. J. V. H. Burton took place from her late residence on Queen's street, Friday afternoon, at two o'clock, to the Cataraugus cemetery. The funeral service was in charge of Rev. Prof. A. Laird. The pall-bearers were James McCulla, J. Murray, Prof. Fowler, D. A. Shaw, M. Claxton and R. Montgomery.

HR MADE MONEY BY PAYING OLD DEBTS

F. A. Bean, Miller of Canada and the United States, Wipes Out $200,000—A Very Racy Story. Minneapolis, Dec. 30.—Penniless and $100,000 in debt twenty-one years ago, a north-western miller observed the 1911 Christmas season by distributing $200,000 among men who have absolutely no legal claim against him, but to whom he owed money when the crash came which left him stranded at middle age. The miller is now seventy-one years old. The story of F. A. Bean, of New Prague, Minn., reads like a business romance with a Dickens Christmas tale ending. It is a story of a man who lost his fortune when he was fifty years old, then started at the bottom and built up another fortune only to give $200,000 away because of a sense of business honor. Not a cent, of the $200,000 which Mr. Bean has distributed among his former creditors could have been collected and for every cent of the $100,000 which he originally owed he has paid six per cent interest for the entire twenty-one years. Mr. Bean was president of the Polar Star Mining company in Fairbault in 1890. The company had business reverses. Mr. Bean was unable to meet his obligations. He lost his business, his property and his credit, and found himself in debt to the extent of approximately $100,000. He was fifty years of age, but he was not discouraged. He went to his brother-in-law, J. H. Mallory, a Rice county farmer, and Mallory placed a second mortgage on his farm and let Mr. Bean have $1,000. With this sum Mr. Bean went to New Prague and leased the Zimmer mill. For years he did business under the name of J. H. Mallory. Finally the New Prague Milling company was organized with F. A. Bean as president. The company gradually acquired property in the United States and Canada, until it had five big mills. Recently the company became the International Mills company, with headquarters at New Prague. One of its mills, at Moose Jaw, Sask., was recently destroyed by fire. Mr. Bean is now seventy-one years old. Collins Bay as soon as they shut the hotel operation, the girls were dragged in the vile place.—See police blotter.—Adv't.

THE TOWN WATCHMAN

Should Not be Injured. The proprietor of every hotel in Kingston has complied with the law in providing meals, beds, stables, yards and fire escapes for the protection of his guests. It is said around by men who should be above conducting a campaign of falsehood and slander that this is not true. It is and you can easily prove it by enquiring from the license commissioners. This being true they are hotels in the strict sense of the law and should not be injured at a time when we need hotel accommodations so badly. License reduction is based on the bitterness of a few men who couldn't be satisfied. Vote against it on Monday.—Adv't.
