HANGED BY FINGER PRINTS.

Only Evidence That Sends Negro to Scaffold.

Ottawa, Dec. 30.—Inspector Foster who has charge of the Canadian criminal identification bureau, has received word of a judgment rendered in the supreme court of Illinois at Chicago, in which finger prints were declared sufficiently strong evidence to send a man to the scaffold.

The case, which was that of Thomas Jennings, a negro murderer, in Cook county, Illinois, marks a new era in the identification of crime, and has an especial interest for Inspector Foster as he himself was called in as an expert witness in the first trial, which took place in the Cook county court during November of last year.

In rendering judgment the judge, who tried the case, said: "There is a scientific basis for the system of finger print identification, and the courts are justified in admitting this class of evidence. This method of identification is in such general and common use that the courts cannot refuse to take cognizance of it."

Inspector Foster was recalling some of the interesting features in the Jennings trial, and said: "Except the fact that he was lurking near the spot where the murder was committed, and that finger-prints were found on a two-by-six scantling outside the kitchen door, there was no evidence against Jennings. A comparison of these prints with impressions of Jennings' fingers confirmed the suspicion that they were his. My part in the trial was simply to testify that the impressions on the scantling and those on paper were of the same man."

"I remember Lincoln well," said Mrs. Thum. "He was so glad to see us. He had a kind, sweet face, and I do not see how anyone could kill him."

THE SECRET OF A GOOD COMPLEXION GIVEN TO THE PUBLIC.

This is the season for evening parties, social evenings, etc. Why not look your best? Why let your complexion suffer by contrast with other ladies? Why not ensure a good complexion? You can do this on sound natural lines by using Zam-Buk, nature's herbal balm.

Zam-Buk is a skin food, and complexion is purely a matter of skin health. Zam-Buk smears lightly over the face each night acts as a skin tonic. It stimulates the cells beneath the cuticle to healthy action, makes the capillaries and pores work, and the vigorous circulation thus started carries away secret impurities. Wax, yellow deposits are thus removed. Hard, pimply growths are softened and disappear. That yellow tinge gives place to the pink of health and the white, velvety "loot" and "leek" which healthy skin alone has.

Just this winter than relying upon talcum powder and cosmetics? This only put on a "complexion" from the outside. It doesn't last. Zam-Buk helps nature to build up a complexion from blood and tissue. It lasts.

Zam-Buk also cures skin diseases, pimples, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poison, eruptions, cold, burns, scalds, chapped places, scalp sores, piles, etc. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, but beware of harmful substitutes and imitations.

"The Chocolate Soldier." In equipping "The Chocolate Soldier," now with scenery and costumes, Mr. Whitney has rivalled his own accomplishments in former seasons of this opera. Everything is new throughout, and everything has been done on a more sumptuous scale than heretofore. The wildness of the Bulgarian landscapes, the picturesque costumes of the soldiers and peasants, the profusion of ornament and the gaudy of color representative of the tastes of the people, offer opportunities that Mr. Whitney has impregned with all the resources at his command.

Mr. Whitney believes that he has given "The Chocolate Soldier" this year the best cast he has ever provided for it. George Tallman and Francis J. Boyle originated their parts in this country. Alice York, Juanita Fletcher and Mildred Rogers were in the leading "Chocolate Soldier" company last season and Vivian Wendell, who alternates in the prima donna role, sang the part in New York. Charles H. Rogers is said to be an ideal chocolate soldier, and the part of Popoff is played by George O'Donnell, the well-known grand opera basso. A symphony orchestra travel with "The Chocolate Soldier," company, which comes to the Grand on Wednesday, January 3rd.

TWO DROWNED AT SMITH'S FALLS—11 ESCAPE DEATH.

Treacherous Ice Brought Peril to Skaters—Keble Gibson and Minnie Pruner Perished Before Might Became Known.

Smith's Falls, Jan. 2.—A sad drowning fatally took place here on Sunday evening, the victims being Keble Gibson, aged sixteen years, a clerk in the Frost & Wooten office, and Minnie Pruner, only daughter of J. J. Pruner, aged fifteen years.

With hundreds of others, the young couple were skating on the river, and at the time of the accident, were skating together. At a point near Beech Island, the ice gave way beneath them. Despite the fact that there were so many on the river, no one witnessed the accident. Both bodies were recovered in a short time but life was extinct.

Miss Pruner's body was frozen to the ice at the place where she went in and Gibson's was found just below in seven feet of water. The two were great favorites with their young companions and their tragic death has cast a gloom over the town. The parents of both victims are well-known residents of Smith's Falls.

In addition to the two who were drowned, eleven others had miraculous escapes during the day. The ice appeared to be solid, but it had numerous weak spots and in these the unwary were caught. Among those who had narrow escapes were Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Warwick, Ottawa, who are spending the holidays in the town. They were returning home after spending the afternoon on the river, and when half a mile from town, they skated into an air hole. As in the case of Gibson and Miss Pruner, no one saw them go in, and a trying search by the most heroic efforts on the part of Mr. Warwick that he succeeded in getting his wife and himself out, as the ice kept breaking away as soon as they seized hold of it.

Mrs. Warwick seemed from shock, which made it all the harder to effect her rescue, she being in a precarious condition for some time after being taken out, but is now recovering from the effects of her experience.

Roy Boyd, a clerk in the Bank of Ottawa, and Miss Eliza Caswell skated into the hole where Gibson and Miss Pruner went in, and after a trying experience, succeeded in reaching the strong enough to support their weight. They were in the water ten minutes.
