

WAS BRILLIANT EVENT

"AT HOME" AT ROCKWOOD HOSPITAL, FRIDAY EVENING.

Affair Was Voted as One of the Best Ever Held at the Institution—Delightful Programme of Music.

The annual "At Home" of the staff and employees of Rockwood hospital, held on Friday evening, was a brilliant event. Upwards of two hundred, or perhaps more, were present, and everyone voted the affair one of the best ever. The "At Home" of 1912 has now passed into history, but it will certainly be recorded as one of the best ever held at this institution. The management is to be congratulated on the success of their undertaking.

The hall room, with its beautiful decorations, was a bower of beauty. The room was tastefully decorated with pretty streamers, Chinese lanterns, and the corridors with their many "cozy corners," and the rooms, as well, were beautifully decorated. Colored lights were used to good advantage, and the moon gave a fine effect. It was indeed a merry crowd of dancers and the programme provided by the hospital or orchestra was a most delightful one and all that could be desired. There were twenty-one numbers, with many encores, and the "Home Sweet Home" waltz at two o'clock came all together too quickly for the happy gathering. The dancing programme included the ever-popular waltz and two-step, eye-waltz, barn dance, three step and lancers.

The musical programme was a well selected one, and included the following very popular numbers: Dollar Princess, A Stubborn Child, the Chocolate Soldier, Billy, selections from the Yankee Consul, the King Lady, Chicken Reel, Cuddle Up a Little Dear, Ch' You Beautiful Doll, The Quaker Girl, Ecstasy, Lehman, If Travellers, Roll a Little Pill For Me, selections from the Gay Musician, The Commander, Bean Club, Mesquing, Home Sweet Home. At 10 o'clock the orchestra rendered the National Anthem in fine style.

Tables were set in the downstairs rooms, where a dainty luncheon was served. All the arrangements in connection with the event were perfect, reflecting great credit on all in charge.

COMING TO THE GRAND.

Tyrone Power in "The Servant in the House."

"The Servant in the House," which Harper's Magazine calls "the most remarkable play in the English language," which the New York Evening Post says is "the greatest drama of the generation," and which the Chicago Daily News declares is "the most beautiful play of all ages," will be presented at the Grand on Thursday, February 13th, by Tyrone Power and a company that has achieved a reputation second only to the play. "The Servant in the House" was produced in New York three years ago. Last March, and ran all through the spring and summer at the Savoy Theatre, playing to crowded houses in spite of intense heat. Since then it has been presented in Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, Philadelphia, and other large cities of this country and Canada, and has been unanimously proclaimed by critics the most important contribution to the stage that has been seen within the memory of the present-day theatre-goer.

The central character of the play is a mysterious Hindu whom many critics call a reincarnation of the Christ. The play is, however, entirely modern. Its scenes are laid in England, and the events of the famous story are supposed to have occurred during a single morning in spring.

"Alas Jimmy Valentine."

Next Saturday brings to the Grand, matinee and night, the most famous of all detective-thief plays, "Alas Jimmy Valentine," with H. B. Warner starred in the title role which he created and played for two solid years on Broadway. The play epitomizes the strong, virile language of Paul Grunstrom, author of "Selmy Jane," and many other successes, is based on one of O. Henry's stories, and deals with a fine human specimen of a young fellow, a reformed bank robber, and pardoned from the penitentiary, who is trying to live right. When the risks come and he has to show his old cunning to save a child locked in a vault, one of the most appealing scenes ever shown on the stage is made. Mr. Warner will be surrounded by the New York company. The production is made by Liebler & Co.

THE ANNUAL REPORT.

Of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation.

On another page of this issue will be found the thirtieth annual report of Canada's premier trust company, The Toronto General Trusts Corporation. This report is most interesting, showing as it does the steady and steady growth of a company organized primarily for the administration of estates and the investment of funds, either as trustees or agents. The directors of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation from the inception of the company have steadfastly held to the policy of eliminating from its business all transactions of a speculative character, and while this policy may mean smaller profits at times it must appeal to all as the only proper and safe course for a trust company on which no duty is dependent. It is no doubt gratifying to the owners and shareholders to find that the policy adopted has been appreciated to such an extent as shown by the large volume of business entrusted to its care, the assets at present amounting to over $45,000,000.

Another important feature brought out by J. W. Langmuir, the managing director, is that the efficient and experienced services of the corporation for administering estates and investing trust funds may be obtained at a minimum of cost.

HARD ON THE OYSTERS.

Cold Weather Has Made the Situation Rather Serious. According to advice received by the local fish market, the oyster conditions are to-day the most desperate on Chesapeake Bay they have been at any time since the present freeze began on January 4th. Since a week ago, the thermometer has ranged from above zero, to thirty above. It is reported, that ocean steamships plying to Baltimore, have been caught in the ice, twenty-five miles down, the bay is reported frozen all the way across as far down as the Potomac river, and tributaries are entirely blocked up. Under most favorable conditions there cannot be any improvement in the situation, before next week, and there is a chance of the present situation prevailing for some time longer.

REPAIRING SHARPLES.

Boat Wrecked in Lake Being Placed in Commission. The steamer John Sharples, released from the rocks on the Galloup Island, in Lake Ontario, last spring, after having been wrecked in the previous fall during a heavy snow storm, will probably be placed in commission again this coming season. After Capt. H. W. Baker and his wrecking crew from Cleveland floated the boat and took her to Oswego the captain bought the craft from the wrecking party for $35,000 and had her towed to Port Huron. The work of repairing her will be done at the Reid dry-dock at that place.

Wedded in Clayton.

A pretty wedding took place on January 9th of Miss Anna Kianna to Clarence Percy. The bride's home is on Wolfe Island and the groom's home in Clayton. The bride was married in a blue suit with a pretty blue hat and a white crepe plume. Mr. and Mrs. Percy went to Watertown on their wedding tour. They will reside at the groom's father's home on their return.

Was Well Pleased.

An influential member of the federal government who has been travelling over the Grand Trunk Pacific railway, in the west, writes as follows: "I must say that I found the trip most interesting. The country is certainly much more picturesque than any other route across the prairies, and I have found the travelling comfortable and the service excellent."

Free Trial That Means Much.

Most of the "free offers" that appear in advertisements do not pan out very well. There are usually some conditions that amount to good price for all but you. A notable exception is the offer made by Mrs. F. E. Currah of Windsor, Ont., as stated on page 11 in her advert. entitled, "Proving by Actual Experiment." She sends absolutely free, a box of Orange Lily, an expensive, concentrated remedy, put up in pure gelatine capsules which is sufficient for ten days' treatment, and which is worth 35c. Mrs. Currah finds it pays to do this, for the reason that, being a strictly scientific preparation, its good effects are noticeable from the start, and almost all who give it a trial continue its use until completely cured.

Evangelistic Services.

The Free Methodists are holding a series of meetings in their church on Colborne street every night, except Saturday. Rev. J. S. Slingerland, conference evangelist, has been with them since Sabbath evening. The meetings are well attended, deep conviction rests upon the congregation, and a number have been seeking the Lord. The evangelist is clear and pointed in his denunciations of sin and present-day worldliness, and follows closely along the line of the old style Methodist teaching.

TO-NIGHT BIG BARGAINS AT ABERNETHY'S SHOE SALE

OPEN DAY OF Y.M.C.A.

MANY VISITORS WERE PRESENT AT THE BUILDING.

Mothers Were Pleased Over Their Physical Instruction Given Their Boys—Ladies' Auxiliary Entertained Them.

The open day at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday, was a huge success. In the afternoon many ladies and a number of gentlemen took a good look over the building. Every department was in full swing, and many were the remarks of praise on all sides. Special interest was shown in the boys' department in the afternoon, when the boys assembled from the schools and took their regular class work. The parents of the children were present to see the children go through the gymnastic work in the gym. It is a long time since there were as many school boys on the floor as there were on Friday. The mothers were all well pleased with what the Y.M.C.A. was doing for their boys. After the boys had gone through the work in the gym, their mothers were entertained with tea by the Ladies' Auxiliary. The evening was given up entirely to the seniors. A good number were present to witness their work in the gymnasium. Games and basketball were the chief items of the evening's programme. Refreshments were served in the reading room by the ladies. The visitors to the building could see just what was being done. The boys' department, under F. J. Wilson, is now an acknowledged success, and the gym classes, under Gordon Thompson, are well attended and helpful. F. Trimble, is, as usual, the genial and busy head. During Friday evening the directors had a meeting to further the financial campaign of next week. Sunday will be Y.M.C.A. day in the city churches, when George A. Warburton, M.A., of Toronto, one of the leading Y.M.C.A. men of America, and others will speak on the object and work of the "Y." The speakers will be posted as follows: Chalmers' church, p.m.; G. A. Warburton, Sydenham Street Methodist church, a.m.; G. A. Warburton, Queen Street Methodist church, p.m.; Messrs. George Mills, T. F. Harrison, F. J. Wilson; Brock Street Methodist church, p.m.; A. Shaw, First Congregational church, a.m.; Dr. C. C. Nash, Bethel, p.m.; A. Nash, Francis Hockett's, Cooke's Presbyterian church, p.m.; Rev. A. P. Mershon. A musical programme was given in the afternoon, those taking part being Master Willie Shaw and E. F. Trimble. In the evening F. C. Hunsang and also a quartette, composed of F. J. Wilson, F. Hafner, W. Thompson and F. G. Hunt.

CONSERVATIVE ASSOCIATION.

Elected Thomas W. Milo as its President.

The annual meeting of the Kingston Conservative Association took place Friday night. The president, W. B. Richardson; president, Thomas W. Milo; first vice-president, Mayor F. J. Hoag; second vice-president, John Seally; third vice-president, Robert Sutherland; fourth vice-president, Dr. R. J. FOOD SOURCE OF ILLS.

Large Number of Maladies Due to Its Improper Use.

Leaving out of consideration the infectious diseases, there is not the slightest doubt that more of the maladies of man are due to the food he taken than to any other one cause. Although it seems strange that anything so essential to health as food should also be so destructive both of health and of life, it is only an example of great difference between use and abuse. There are three ways in which food can injure the human organism—in its quality, and in the speed with which it is eaten—and most often we permit it to do us harm in all three. As to the quality or the kind of food we eat their is a constant fight between the vegetarians and those who eat animal as well as vegetable food. Arguing from the assumed descent of man from an ancestor common to him and the ape, the vegetarians hold that since the ape is a vegetarian man also must originally have been one. But perhaps it is because man differed in this respect from his cousin, the ape, that he got ahead of him in the race of development. That of course, is mere guessing but the fact remains that the teeth are adapted to chewing and the digestion organs to digesting meat as well as vegetables. The sin is not in taking all kinds of food, but in taking too much of any kind—meat. This is the food for which most persons have the greatest liking. So it is easy to take it too often and in too great quantity. The second dietetic offence is in the quantity of food that we take. We are prone not only to eat too much meat, but also to eat too much of all foods. Three hearty meals a day, whatever they are bread and pie or fish and meat, are too much for the average adult. A so-called "Continental" breakfast, that is, fruit a roll or a slice of toast with butter, and coffee; a light unwholesome luncheon or supper, according to the dining hour, and a substantial dinner, with fish and meat—if desired is a diet programme suitable for all men and women, except perhaps those who do the heaviest kind of physical labor. As to the manner of eating little need be said. It must be admitted that in his digestive organs man is more like the herbivora than the carnivora; consequently his food needs to be well chewed before it is swallowed. But who expect Horace Fletcher, can say, with his heart, that he eats slowly and chews conscientiously?

BEWARE OF THIS MAN.

Rev. J. D. Freeman Writes a Warning From England.

The Whig is in receipt of a letter from Rev. J. D. Freeman, pastor of the Belvoir street Baptist church, Leicester, England, who desires to warn the people of Kingston against an Englishman about fifty-four years of age, handsome in appearance, of engaging manners, well-educated and a good singer. This man has been in Kingston already. It is his custom to connect himself with a church or cathedral choir, and defraud hotel-keepers and wheedle money from kind-hearted and unsuspecting people. He has served in prison in England for fraud.

Squinting at the Thing.

Hamilton Times. Hamilton controllers and Aldermen have been squinting at the commission form of city government. Let us hope that no such methods will be adopted in seeking to introduce it. The ratepayers gain by publicity in such matters. Let the campaign of education on the subject precede the adoption of legislation putting it in force if we are to have it. We require fewer obstacles between the civic governors and the ratepayers, not more. Experimenting with civic government is a costly matter. Let us get used to our system before we set out to experiment with another.
