FAVORS THE UNION "Q" IS TOO PRECIOUS IN SPORTING CIRCLES

IT WOULD GIVE INFLUENCE TO THE CHURCH. TO ALLOW THE ORDINARY STUDENT TO WEAR.

Other Unions Had Worked Out Successfully—Great Saving in Money and Men.

Rev. Samuel Sellery, of Queen Street Methodist church, on Sunday morning, reviewed church union, recalling the great benefits that had flowed from the unions of the Methodist churches in Canada in 1874 and 1887. Opponents to both these unions have since recognized their mistake and admit that it has worked out most successfully. He predicted that this would be the result in connection with the proposed union of the Presbyterian, Congregationalist, and Methodist churches. He spoke of the advantages of union and among these was the great influence that the church would have on moral and social lines. Politicians would not feel like turning down the wishes of such a strong organization. The great influence of Roman Catholicism was due to its solidarity. There would be a great saving in money and men. The needs for both would be better met and there would be little overlapping or crowding, or rivalry. The west, the problem of Canada, at the present time, would find that men were available to enter the field and to aid in nationalizing the great mass of foreigners crowding to our shores. Touching on the doctrinal points he admitted there was Calvinism and Congregationalism in the basis, but there was nothing in any Christian religion not accepted. The motive in connection with the union was not how much they could hold, but how much they could give. Men of piety and learning have been at work on the basis for years and the best theologians of the country had no fear as to the doctrines set forth.

He agreed with the ministerial arrangements and thought that the best in the settled pastorate and the itinerancy had been retained and the settlement committee the best feature of the proposal.

Bulletins have been distributed and the members and adherents have until the 15th of April to return them.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"Daniel Boone on the Trail" Produced on Saturday.

At the Grand Opera House, on Saturday afternoon and evening "Daniel Boone on the Trail" was presented before good-sized audiences. The drama deals with life on the western frontiers in pioneer days with a vein of comedy running through it, which makes the play interesting. Col. Henry K. Hamilton, as "Daniel Boone," and Ritchie Brown, as "Blackfish Chief," with their associates, Helene Keieker and Evelyn Rose, displayed capable work in their roles. "Bobby" Gosson, as "Rastus, the Nigger," armed with a shield and a razor, backed by the Irishman, George Weston, kept the audience convulsed with laughter. The piece was well staged.

"Madame Sherry."

The haunting strains of "Ev'ry Little Movement," which forms the musical theme of "Madame Sherry" will be recalled by all their deep and hidden significance to the playgoers of this city, for "Madame Sherry" comes to the Grand on Thursday, February 29th. Though there are twenty-two musical numbers in "Madame Sherry," charming and alluring, the motif song has become epidemic and for many months it has been played, hummed, whistled and sung wherever music is known. Several new songs have been added to the already delightful score. A significant feature of the overwhelming success in New York of "Madame Sherry" is the lavish praise the show elicited from every theatrical reviewer in the big town. For instance, the Journal said: "Nobody can get enough of it." The American states: "It's a new 'Merry Widow.'" The Evening Sun remarked: "Madame Sherry is the talk of the town." The Telegram's verdict was: "The funniest musical play that has come to town for a long time."

The Big Event of the Season.

The Toronto Symphony Orchestra, announced for Monday, March 4th, promises to be the greatest musical treat ever offered to our citizens. This orchestra has attained a position of excellence which might be envied by any musical organization on the continent. The programmes presented are always sufficiently diversified in character to please the general public as well as the connoisseur. It plays great music with a power and reverence that do honor to the men of genius who created it. An opportunity of hearing an organization of this kind is rarely given, and every student and music-lover should help to make the concert such a success that those in charge may be encouraged to venture like undertakings more frequently. Plan at Uglow's.

Richardson's Brilliancy.

Toronto Telegram.

It was a great uphill fight that the Frontenacs put up; they tried hard to pull that lead of nine goals to even, and at times they looked 'dangerous,' Brouse, Richardson, and Reid, keeping the Eaton defence and Bricker on the jump continually. Richardson played a game of hockey that has seldom been equalled. Out of the game for three years, he came back with a vengeance. There is no dispute as to him being best man on the ice. He rushed brilliantly all night, and his rushes were hair-raising.

The Maple Leafs Won.

The Maple Leafs defeated the K. C. L. juniors at the Stadium Rink, Saturday morning, by 3 to 2, thereby winning their group in the juvenile league. Young Rockwoods and the Maple Leafs play this week in the finals.

Hockey This Evening.

The first of the two games of the Intercollegiate semi-finals will be played Monday night, between K.C.L. and Queen's III, at the covered rink. The second game will be played on Wednesday. The winners of the round in the eastern section will play Varsity in Toronto on Saturday, in the final championship.

All-Round Athletes.

Toronto Globe.

The Queen's men were all round athletes, showing that while a lot of bad men go to Kingston, a few good ones there are who come from that great centre of learning. The Eastern Ontario university had representatives in all the boxing and wrestling finals in the city. The winners of the round in the eastern section will play Varsity in Toronto on Saturday, in the final championship.

Richardson Without a Peer.

Toronto News.

There is no doubt existing in the minds of those who witnessed the match; but that the game was won on its merits, but greater change in form has never been known in the history of senior O.H.A. hockey. For the loss of the match one can point out several very excellent reasons, the acquisition of George Richardson strengthened that Frontenac forward line fully 100 per cent. The former 14th Regiment star is the same hockey player of old. He is without a peer as a wing player and without his terrific speed and cyclonic dashes the Kingston seven would have had an exceedingly hard time winning the game.

TRIED TO BREAK JAIL.

Gordon La Motte Was Out of the Penitentiary on Parole.

Gordon La Motte, one of the young men who tried to break jail at London on Saturday, was recently released from the penitentiary on parole on a charge of theft. La Motte comes of very respectable parents for many years his father being one of the best known merchants in a western Ontario town. His father worked hard to get his son out of the penitentiary, and the son returned his thanks by 'holding-up' at the point of a revolver the man who had purchased his father's store, robbed him of his valuables, and then afterwards went to the store and stole goods. He was captured, and was waiting his trial at London. He and a prisoner named O'Brien, a noted criminal, made a scheme to get their liberty. They assaulted one of the turnkeys and escaped to the jail yard, but were recaptured.

SPECTACLE FRAMES

Correctly Fitted to the Face are as Essential as Properly Fitted Lenses are to the Eyes.

A Lens should be mounted so that the centre will be exactly opposite the pupil of the eye. In any other position it will cause strain and have a tendency to produce double sight. The bridge or nose-piece should fit so well that wabbling will be impossible, and it should bear equally at all points.

The Right Way Is Just as Easy as the Wrong.

We Fit the Frames As Well as the Lenses.
