THE SPORT REVIEW

TORONTO COMMENTS ON THE FRONTENAC'S VICTORY.

Tribute is Paid to George Richardson, Who is Declared to Have Been the Best Player on the Ice. Toronto Star. There is no denying the fact that after the first ten minutes of play the Eaton players suddenly slackened up, and except for spasmodic periods of short duration, the Frontenacs had it all over them "like a tent," as the reporter's master, James Sutherland, son of the manager, and Ralph Brown, brother of Capt. "Bouncer," expressed it.

The outstanding feature of the game was the sensational playing of George Richardson, who came out after two years' retirement to help his team and his city in the final game for the championship. Before the game, George McKay, the old Wellington captain, and now president of the Frontenacs, prophesied that if Richardson would be able to last the game he would show the people something really sensational in the way of speed and stick-handling. Mr. McKay was right. The old-time Kingston star demonstrated that it is possible for an athlete who takes care of himself to "come back," and he was undoubtedly the most brilliant player on the ice.

WOLF ISLAND WON.

The game between Cataragui and Wolfe Island at the Palace rink on Saturday afternoon, resulted in a victory for Wolfe Island, the score being 2 to 1. This makes Wolfe Island champions of Southern Frontenac. Sydham are winners in Northern Frontenac. The first of the finals will be played in Sydham between Sydham and Wolfe Island on Wednesday, February 28th, and the return game which will close the round is to take place on Friday, March 1st, at the Palace rink.

Holds Kingston Record. "Art" Anglin, the well-known Toronto sporting writer, is now champion holder of Kingston. He went down with the Eaton hockey team yesterday, and during his stay time dropped into a Kingston alley and rolled 263, which is the Kingston high water mark. Anglin had a split in the fourth frame, then he braced up and struck out.

They Certainly Will Be. W. A. Hewitt, in the Toronto Star Weekly, says: "It was expected that the Eaton team would shine on the large Kingston ice, but they require a lot of practice on a big sheet before they go to Winnipeg, or they will prove a great disappointment, not only to themselves, but to the public of Ontario."

Way to Gain Flesh. There is only one way for thin, weak persons to gain flesh, and strength and that is to eat and digest more food.

"That's just the trouble," says one. "I don't want to eat at all and the doctors say it does more harm than good to eat what I don't want." That is true. The thing to do is to get an appetite and good digestion. Miss Henrietta Huber, of the Bronx, N.Y., says on this subject: "I was very weak and had been for several months, so I thought I ought to take Vitrol to gain strength. Since taking Vitrol I have gained over fifteen pounds in weight and my appetite is good. Now I am as strong as ever."

This is a remarkable case, but there were a number of others, proving that our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, Vitrol, is a certain body builder and strength creator. If you are weak and thin, you should buy all the Vitrol you can get. The benefit of Vitrol for it will build you up and make you strong. We guarantee it to do this. CANADIAN M.P.'S.

British Commons Has a Quota of Fifteen Big Ones.

If you were taken to the Strangers' gallery of the British House of Commons, at some rare moment when the House is full, you would find quite a considerable number of Canadians seated on or near the gallery, on account of the iniquity of seating accommodation—crouching near the famous green benches. There are no less than fifteen members of that historic assemblage who are regarded as Canadians. In other words, out of six hundred and seventy members of Parliament, one man in about every forty-four is a Canadian, either by birth, by long residence, or by intimate personal and business relations. Of these fifteen members, ten are Conservatives, namely: Mr. Bonar Law, M.P. for the Booth division of Lancashire; Sir Gilbert Parker, M.P. for Gravesend; Sir Max Aitken, M.P. for Ashton-under-Lyne; Mr. D. McMaster, M.P. for Chertsey; Mr. J. Malcolm, M.P. for Crosby; Captain Hamersley, M.P. for the Woodstock division of Oxfordshire; Mr. Shirley Benn, M.P. for Devonport; Mr. Hamilton, M.P. for Kidderminster; and Captain Campbell, M.P. for North Ayrshire. The five Liberals are: Sir Philip Ross, M.P. for Newmarket; and Messrs. T. J. Macnamara, M.P. for North Camberwell; J. Allen Baker, M.P. for East Finsbury; Hamar Greenwood, M.P. for Sunderland; and Joseph Martin, M.P. for East St. Pancras. And it is somewhat curious, when one considers the large number of Canadians with Scotch and Irish blood in their veins, that, with the exception of Captain Campbell, every one of the gentlemen named sits for an English constituency. But it is perhaps even more striking to note the military atmosphere which seems to surround the Canadian members of the British House. There are only five of them—Sir Max Aitken, and Messrs. Bonar Law, MacMaster, Baker and Martin—who are not either the sons of soldiers, or men who have, in whole or part, embraced a military career themselves, and Sir Max Aitken married a general's daughter. With the exception of Captains Hamersley and Knight and Mr. Shirley Benn, all the fifteen gentlemen named above were born in Canada.

Now of the fifteen men of whom mention has been made, as forming a sort of "Canadian group," it is interestingly said that taken collectively, they are distinctly above the average of House of Commons ability. Wales returns more than fifteen members, and the Irish Nationalists number more than five times as many. But it is by no means certain that the fifteen members could be named either from Wales or from the Irish Nationalist benches, who collectively, attain as high a political standard as the fifteen who hail from, or are connected with, the Canadian group.

Mr. W. T. White, the new Minister of Finance, ever cherished a dream of occupying a position in the Dominion Cabinet, if it must have been a brief one. Any way that is the dream we're going to talk about. Mr. White, they say, had a really much more interesting dream a very long time ago, and it came true, as most dreams of that kind do, through a mixture of good fortune and good, hard work.

The story goes that when "Tom" White was a student he used to greatly admire a certain house in Queen's Park which he passed daily in going to the university. The fancy-stranger, in his mind that it had just opened and lived in that house some day, he would be perfectly happy. When Mr. White got through with his daily walks through the Park to college, he soon had a lot of other things to think about. After newspapering some, he entered the city's assessment department. He worked pretty hard on that job, and gave people the impression he was "a coming man."

But Mr. White didn't forget the dream of his student days. He bought that house in Queen's Park and lives there to-day.—Star Weekly. Dankhobers Prosperous. Peter Veregin, the much-discussed leader of the large Dankhobor settlement at and in the neighborhood of Veregin, Sask., has been in the east on a holiday. In speaking of his colony in Saskatchewan he said that everything had prospered. There were about ten thousand Dankhobors there at the present time, and they had proved themselves the best of settlers. Last year, he said, the settlement had raised 3,000,000 bushels of oats, and most of this crop had already been sold. The average oat crop last year, he said, was sixty bushels to the acre; the wheat crop averaged 25 bushels; and the barley 30 bushels to the acre. Mr. Veregin acts in the capacity of business agent for the colony, which is run on a co-operative basis.

To Join Grenfell. Miss Forbes, a society girl, is studying to be a nurse that she may join Dr. Grenfell in his labors in Labrador. She is one of the young women who are devoting their wealth and leisure to some form of social amelioration, of which the world is much in need.

But if a man thinks he knows all that is worth knowing, he doesn't. A little outside assistance might have improved some self-made men. Nothing is really sacred until all things are.

SHAM CHRISTIANS.

(Continued from Page 5.) The yellow streak in so-called religious people is sure to creep out. We are what we are as God sees us, our conduct is our character. There has to be in us, as in Jacob, a change. The next point the preacher emphasized was that the price has to be paid for prevailing prayer. Jacob paid it. It was not the preacher or evangelist, or anybody, but God could give this prayer. The preacher went on to speak of the prevailing prayer in the garden of Gethsemane. Thirdly, we must have faith to get this prevailing prayer, it insures a final victory. True faith cannot be unassured. But how far we fall short? We preach, talk, think, hear about it, pray about the things, and our faith measures about three inches. Mr. Yatman, on this point, used the modern telephone as an illustration. What electricity is to the phone, faith is to our petition. When faith gets a grip on God, then will come an answer.

In closing, the evangelist reminded his hearers, that delay, does not mean denial. In this connection, he gave a very touching account of his conversion. He had come into a changed life many years, after his other brothers, and it had all been brought about by the faith and prayer of his Scotch mother. At this time he said he did not wonder that many of the churches were not being successful in winning souls. They were as cold as ice, and Christless. There is nothing so cold as the religious ice box, and they are, unfortunately, widely distributed. Speaking of the thinkers of the day, Mr. Yatman fired a shot at some college professors, who in their lectures, and discourses, are trying to think God's thoughts after Him. "Poor souls," said the evangelist, "if it were possible for these modern scholars to think one of God's great thoughts, their brains would crack."

It is said that nationalists' demands regarding separate schools in Keewatin, and the Premier's promise to postpone the introduction of the Manitoba boundaries resolution.

COUGHS AND COLDS

Are Preceded by Mothers Who Fear For the Safety of Their Children. DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE

What a weight of responsibility rests on the mother of the family during the winter season! In every cough and cold she recognizes the voice of croup, bronchitis, consumption or other deadly throat ailment. Few people, even among those who are convenient to doctors, can afford the luxury of a physician, for every cough or cold, even though they realize the seriousness of neglecting such ailments.

For all such Dr. Chase has provided a prompt means of cure known as Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. One reason why mothers prize this treatment above all others is because of its suitability for children. It is sweet and pleasant to the taste, and does not irritate the throat, and children like to take it. By its soothing, healing action it is wonderfully prompt in curing croup, bronchitis and whooping cough, and can be used by children with perfect safety so long as directions are followed. Thousands of families in Canada keep Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine in the house at all times for use in cases of emergency. This is the only way to be sure of protecting the bronchial tubes and lungs against coughs and colds. 25c. A bottle, family size, 98c. at all dealers or Edman, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A TON OF ICE FELL From the Roof of a Princess Street Store.

An accident occurred on Saturday evening which might have proved fatal had not there been some sound of warning about 9.30 o'clock, as people were on their way home, they heard a rumbling of ice moving on the roof of Brewer's clothing store, and within less time than it takes to tell the tale, about one ton of solid ice fell to the walk with a great crash. Luckily people who were coming along the street got out of the way, or else there might have been some killed. James Dunlop, who is employed at the Kingston and Pembroke railway freight station, was right in front of the store at the time, and escaped by a narrow margin. After the accident occurred, a large crowd gathered. It will now be the duty of the civic authorities to see that the snow and ice on buildings on the business streets is cleared away.
