HE'S WINNING HEARTS

BETHEL MEETINGS BEGIN TO SHOW STRENGTH.

Evangelist Yatman is Preaching With Power—The Church Was Filled on Tuesday Evening.

You don't heat a church up with a heater, but with the heat of the heart.

Selfishness is the damnable sin of the age. I preach a sermon on charity, and then run to get the best seat in the street car.

"In these seven great wonders of the scripture world we can see the savior and by them be like Him," said Evangelist Yatman, yesterday, at the beginning of the afternoon meeting in Bethel church. Then there poured out of this man "mighty in the scriptures," for an hour a statement and illustration of this truth. Christians who know something of the Bible must get a smiting rebuke and aching hearts of regret as they hear and see heavenly truths so potent in the Bible stories.

The side remarks of this "keen knutter" are the greater than the paragraphs.

"You don't heat a church with the heater in the cellar but with the heat of the heart."

Selfishness is the damnable sin of the age. It is in us all and we must watch out. I preach a sermon on charity and then run to get the best seat in the street car.

A woman will wrangle at a bargain counter with her neighbor and then be found in the Ladies' Aid Society dealing out coffee and sandwiches for love's sake. Christ put off and put on to suit the mind.

Water put on a tree makes it grow; on a fence post makes it rot. Human nature in the human is bad, but human nature in the regenerate is sanctified.

The church gets fixed up so fine and looks so nice in its looking-glass it's like a new and finely-poled fire engine in a western town that was muddied after a two weeks' rain.

At the first fire all the people, chief of police, court and all, feverishly awaited the arrival of their new engine. A man on broncho swiftly rode to the fire house to see what the matter was. The firemen said, "You don't suppose we're going to run this clean thing out in this mud do you?"

The church and people must go and come through the sleet and slush at a dirty world. It isn't for looks, it's for service.

The Bible address every day at 3.30 o'clock is really the richest thing Kingston folks can get out of this remarkable preacher.

The Evening Meeting.

Last evening's meeting was a big one. The church was nearly filled. This evening it will overflow most likely. For Mr. Yatman came into his own last evening. The man who preached every morning for three months for twenty-five years at Ocean Grove summer seaside resort, and then had eight thousand hearers at the twenty-fifth anniversary meeting, was in the saddle last night. The spirit of the lion of the tribe of Judah showed through the theatrical face. Yatman has come back after a year's sickness—that is dead sure.

Few in Kingston ever heard such a sermon as his on "Big Faith and Little Faith." The mental tramp the audience took with Moses and his crowd in the wilderness, the twelve spies.

Here the preacher offered a Bible to any in the audience who would give him the name of one of the ten little faith spies. The sons of Anak, across Jordan and around the walls of Jericho with the bedraggled, footsore ram's horn blowers, made a night, mentally and spiritually as dramatic as with Booth or Barrett in the scenic pictures of a playhouse.

Miss Wynne Woolgar sang a solo most sweetly. Mr. Trimble led his choir in solo, accompanied by them in chorus, in low tones. The choir is most efficient.
