proposed by George Richardson. He dwelt on the standard of citizenship, which is to dominate the dominion, and build up the bright gem in the British crown, and struck a highly optimistic note.

hope of the dominion, and through it the young men.
D. M. McIntyre, K.C., also responded to this toast, and indeed very eloquently. Mr. McIntyre, expressing the fear that there was too great a tendency to glory in the magnitude and physical size of the dominion, said all through the world history it has been the spiritual forces which have really developed humanity. He pointed out the lack of homogeneity in Canadian character. He feared this lack of sameness, identity of purpose and united effort, with the problem of the immense immigration. Canada is a dependency of the British Empire, and at present not able to present a definite conception of nationality. Our school system, public and separate, was another barrier to united effort.

But among our accomplishments is our genius for government, and this, with the Canadian faculty for assimilation, will the speaker hoped, overcome these disadvantages. Our connection with England, with the moral and spiritual qualities she glorifies in, he hoped would forever hold firm.
Principal Gordon's address followed and, in his opening remarks, the principal congratulated the congregation on the attainment of its sixtieth anniversary. He paid a glowing tribute to the lives and memory of the deceased members, and placed unlimited value on the inheritance left in the present congregation. They were men of broad vision and stout heart. Sixty years had given tone and expression to the church's life.

Dr. Gordon went on to say that the church laid more stress upon social service now, than individual work. He felt that we should see to it that the churches were carrying this out, and not merely religious clubs.
The principal then struck out on a union. He felt that because fifty years ago, the church people conscientiously thought the numerous churches were most advantageous, it was no reason why we should perpetuate that division. The churches now imitate each other in methods of work; our hymns are greatly in common.

The principal said we have a varied, racially, population to deal with, and asked what is going to mould them into unity. The church is the supreme agent—the church of Christ. It is our manifest duty and privilege to mould the various churches into, if not organic union, more fraternal relationship.

"Our Church—Past and Present," was proposed by Dr. W. G. Anglin. He said Sydenham always had and will continue to stand for everything good and best in the life of the city. He spoke of the pastors, and referred, in very complimentary terms to the present incumbent. Dr. Anglin called to mind some very interesting reminiscences of the old church and the basement Sunday school. He also mentioned, as among the hardest older workers, now living, Mrs. J. Gardiner, Mrs. Armstrong and Joseph Clark.
Lieut.-Col. A. B. Cunningham responded and related some amusing and interesting recollections as a boy and young man in the church and school. He made reference to the old church, its boxed pews, high pulpit, and to the Sunday school. His recollections of the Band of Hope, under the late Mrs. McRossie, of which he was a prominent member (holding down the secretary-treasurerhip for a number of terms), and of the old-time socials, brought forth much laughter. He also spoke of the beneficial result of these organizations.

Rev. T. W. Neal also responded, and spoke of some essentials which are necessary to further the success of the church—a sane, intelligent, aggressive choir, a strong pulpit, an efficient choir and hand-working officials, the future is assured.
Thomas W. Mills proposed "Church Organizations," which brought able responses from A. Shaw, for the "Class Meeting"; Miss H. Anglin, for the "Epworth League"; and Joan Plewes, in most striking way, on behalf of the choir.

T. F. Harrison also represented the Bible school, in his ardent manner. During the evening Mrs. James

WILL BE FINE SHOW.

Beautiful Kitty Gordon in "The Enchantress."
Joseph M. Gaites has made his famous production of Victor Herbert's most delightful operetta, "The Enchantress," in which beautiful Kitty Gordon will appear at the Grand on Thursday, March 21st, with a company of 100 people, and special orchestra of twenty, a delight to the ear and to the eye. It is lavishly spectacular and is moreover presented by an exceptional cast. Miss Gordon not only charms her audiences with effective singing and acting, but she also knows how to wear gowns. She has several elaborate creations, among them a dress of gold to fascinate every feminine beholder and every susceptible man.

"Jumping Jupiter."

At the Grand on Saturday, March 23rd, matinee and night, Richard Carle will be seen in the latest of his musical comedies, for which he finds the title of "Jumping Jupiter."

Mr. Carle is amusing after his own fashion, and he brings along a company, the excellence of which is not lightly to be overlooked. Principal of these is Edna Wallace Hopper, who sings very pleasantly. Wears some handsome gowns and shows herself to be pretty much of a comedienne.

The piece tells an entertaining story of a spin doctor, whose wife is suffering from the toothache. He is invited to a wedding and accepts, leaving his better half to fight the pains of the throbbing molar alone. The bridegroom, for purposes of his own, finds it convenient to introduce a handsome young woman as the wife of the professor. Everything seems to be running along smoothly until the professor's wife unexpectedly recovers, and joins her spouse.

This creates obvious embarrassing difficulties, which are solved by the professor, inducing his newly-found wife to pose as a maid.

MADE A BIG HIT.

Miss Grace Lyon Proved a Fine "Josephine."

"Pinafore" has been produced at Winnipeg by amateurs and among the number was Miss Grace Lyon, a former Kingstonian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Lyon. The papers praised her work. The Free Press said: "Miss Grace Lyon was a very great success as Josephine. She has a well trained soprano voice of much beauty and flexibility, a charming personality and the appearance of being at home on the stage. All her singing was listened to with very great pleasure, and the enthusiastic way in which she exclaimed, 'Gracious, how I love that man!' evoked the full sympathy of the audience." The Telegram remarked: "Miss Grace Lyon, as Josephine, sang sweetly and acted superbly. She scored a distinct hit."
Miss Lyon is but eighteen years of age and at the production appeared in public for the first time. She took the theatre-going public by storm. A carriage had to be secured to carry her bouquets to her home.

A New Stomach

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Restore Lifeless Organs to Normal Condition.

A Trial Package Free.

Many a sufferer from dyspepsia, indigestion and kindred ailments of the digestive organs carries around an absolutely useless stomach—a dead load, and a cesspool for ever-increasing disorders. The muscles that so long hinged worn out, the mucous lining has lost its secretive power, and food taken into the stomach lies there and ferments, causing sour eructations, belching, heartburn, dizziness and other distressing conditions. Many sufferers have given up in despair until they have been induced by some interested friend to try a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the dyspeptic's hope. They are a natural restorative of healthy action to the stomach and small intestines, because they supply the elements that the weak stomach lacks—pepsin, golden seal and other digestives.

If you are afflicted with any of the symptoms above described, be assured that your digestive organs are losing power—they need help and there is no more sensible help to be given them than to supply elements which will do the work of digestion for them.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been found by test to have digestive powers, one grain of the active principle of these tablets being sufficient to digest 3,000 grains of ordinary food. It is plain that no matter what the condition of your stomach, or how far your disease has progressed, one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets taken at meal time will do the work—give your stomach an opportunity to regain its lost powers, the muscles will be strengthened, the glands invigorated, and you will be a new man.

It costs nothing to prove the effectiveness of this cure. Send for a free sample package to-day. F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich. All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at 50 cents a box.

HARBOR FRONT ACTIVITY.

Marine Men Are All Getting Their Boats Ready.

This is great weather for the ship carpenters to work upon the boats before the ice goes out. A number of vessels are receiving necessary repairs and when the ice breaks they will all ready.

As soon as navigation opens there will be two new boats launched, one from each of the dry-docks. Last spring two boats were launched.

Owners of motor boats are getting busy, so as to have their boats ready to lower into the water as soon as the ice breaks.
A number of the local marine men say that it will be at least three weeks before the ice starts to break up. Even if it does open up in that time it will be looked upon as a very early opening. The steamer Wolfe Islander will not likely be the first boat to break the way as she is grounded over on the Wolfe Island shore and will likely have to be pulled off. Last year the harbor was opened on April 10th. If mild weather continues, navigation may begin here about April 15th.

SIEGE OF DEVIL'S DEN.

Allen Outlaws Surrounded in Impregnable Mountain Fortress.

Hillsville, Va., March 20.—Sidas Allen, leader of the outlaw clan, with probably a score of desperadoes, is believed to be retrenched at Devil's Den. It is the most inaccessible spot in the Blue Ridge. Devil's Den is a natural fort. There are two approaches on opposite sides, guarded by huge rocks. On the other two sides are sheer cliffs, from fifty to one hundred feet in height. The "den" is a spacious cave, in which is a mountain spring. There is ample room for half a hundred desperadoes. The gang probably will have to be starved out.
