POOR FOLK ARE HIT

MINERS. THEY SAY, WOUND THEIR OWN CLASS.

Fratricidal War—Victory May be Too Dearly Bought.

London, March 19.—One factor in the coal strike is assuming greater importance every hour. The miners are engaged in a great labor war. They are attacking the coal owners. But are the shots they are firing damaging the enemy alone? They are not; the enemy has not suffered much so far, but the friends of the miners—their fellow trade unionists—are suffering very much indeed. The shafts aimed at the employing classes have missed their mark, only to spread destruction among the other workers of the land.

In all labor wars the capitalist classes suffer least. There may be annoyance for them in the shape of declining dividends, or shrinkage in the value of investments, but they do not taste the bitterness of want and hunger; their necessities are not curtailed and few of their luxuries. In some labor wars, the sufferings are confined to the workmen, who are engaged in them. In this one, the whole of the workers of the country are feeling the pinch more or less severely.

Every day the volume of evidence grows. From all parts of the country comes the disappointing news that factories are being shut down, that works are being closed, until the tale of unemployment is running into millions.

There is one phase of this which ought to have an especial interest to the miners as trade unionists. If the strike goes on for many weeks other trade unions will find their funds seriously decreasing, although they have not the slightest interest in the dispute. The railway servants unions, for instance, will play £20,000 in out-of-work pay this week, and that sum will be increased to £30,000 next week. The Amalgamated Society of Engineers, the Boilermakers, the Steel Smelters, the Patternmakers, Iron-moulders, and kindred unions which cater for industries entirely dependent upon an abundant supply of coal, are also being obliged to disburse thousands a week in out-of-work pay. The miners may conceivably win their battle. Their victory may bankrupt the other trade unions of the country.

But what about the millions who have not even the meagre pittance in the shape of out-of-work benefit from a trade union to fall back upon? Out of the 14,000,000 workers in the country only about one seventh are organized. The other six-sevenths are all being hit to a greater or less extent by the present dispute. And it is hitting them in all sorts of ways. Prices are going up everywhere. The bakers have had to raise the price of bread in some towns because of the difficulty of getting coal for their ovens.

From all parts of the country come these stories of privation inflicted upon the innocent victims of the fratricidal war. The 10,000 men employed in the docks at Cardiff will wish well to the Welsh colliers, but the battle for a minimum wage means for them minimum food and firing, and very soon no food nor firing at all.

On the other side of the country, the Grimby fishermen are standing idle on the quays, because there is little or no coal for the trawlers; and, in the same port, the dockers are hungering because there are few cargoes for them to handle. The Grimby Trades Council is moving to get the children fed; for these the minimum applies to their bread and butter, which has well-nigh disappeared.

From Sheffield comes the news that house coal has been advanced 4s. a ton, and the supply of electricity has been cut off from 6.30 a.m. to 6 p.m. This means that numbers of small factories which depend for their power on electricity will have to close.

In other towns, public baths, also, are to be closed several days during the week. So the tale of want and privation rolls on from all parts of Great Britain. There is scarcely a trade or industry in the country outside agriculture, which is not feeling the pinch.

In the Black country all the industries are at a standstill. Blast furnaces are being blown out—and once blown out experience shows that they are not lighted again in a hurry. The great clay and terra-cotta industries of North Wales have been closed. Iron and steel making has come to a complete stop. Lancashire will see short time on the textile trades before this week is out. While as for the transport trades—whether the railways, carters, dockers, or stevedores—they are dying away into stagnation and idleness.

How can we measure that sum of human misery that all this entails upon the workers of the land? We cannot measure by statistics the number of children who will go hungry to school this morning. We cannot tabulate the list of homes where there is no fire in the grate nor any food in the cupboard. We can only stand appalled at the vast mountain of human suffering which overshadows us.

But we can ask the miners to consider these things, when they are wrangling over sixpences with the coal owners. They are men, and the others who are suffering innocently are of the same class as themselves. Will not the story of what is going on around them—and which has been brought about by their action—make them pause before they give their voices in favor of prolonging this time of agony for so many hundreds of thousands of their fellows? A victory may be dearly bought which is obtained at the cost of untold sufferings on others who have no concern in the fight.

PRINCE EDWARD SUBSIDY.

Island Province to Get Additional $100,000.

Ottawa, March 20.—Hon. W. T. White has given notice of a resolution upon which a bill will be based, providing for the payment of an additional $100,000, subsidy to Prince Edward Island. Strong representations have been made to the government by Premier A. J. Matheson that the present subsidy is inadequate, that the province has been facing annual deficits and that the service between the island and mainland is insufficient and not such as was called for by the terms of confederation.

WHEN HEALTH IS RUN DOWN

A Tonic Such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Promptly Needed.

When the health is run down from any cause whatever, a tonic is needed. A feeling of weakness, poor appetite, loss of breath after slight exertion, indicates that a complete breakdown is near. Sometimes these troubles are due to overwork or worry, or again they may be due to the after-effects of fever or some wasting illness. But whatever the cause the trouble should not be neglected, and for the purpose of gaining new health and new strength there is absolutely no better medicine than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which fill the veins with new, rich blood, which tones and strengthens every nerve and every organ in the body. Mrs. Rose A. Smith, Roblin, Man., says: "Some years ago I had a severe attack of typhoid fever. When I recovered sufficiently to be able to get about I found that I was not able to gather up my strength. I tried tonic wines and other medicines, but without avail. For months I could hardly go up stairs, and I took a walk, I was always obliged to take a friend with me to help me home again. A doctor had again been called in, but he said I would grow out of it in time and gave me more medicine, but instead of gaining I kept getting worse, and was at last obliged to take to my bed. One day while lying reading I chanced to come across a cure made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and this decided me to try them. Before I had taken the pills long I began to feel a decided improvement and my friends also said I was beginning to look like my old self again. From this on the improvement was steady, but I continued to take the Pills for a couple of months, when I felt that the cure was complete. Several years have passed since then and I have remained in the best of health I am warranted in saying that the cure is permanent, and I freely give this statement for the benefit it may bring to others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

LACE FRILLS ON SUMMER FROCKS.

This pretty little debutante frock shows the new craze for frills. Rows of pleated lace frills follow the rows of lace insertion on skirt, sleeves and belt; the frock being a simple lingerie affair of bordered white batiste. The pleating of black net, tied with velvet bows, on the shoulder, is part of a new jabot which is intended to fall at the back, instead of at the front of the bodice. With this white frock are worn buttoned boots of white suede and the black and white parasol matches the hat.

THE COAL SITUATION.

How Matters Stand at Present in United States.

The coal situation and chief incidents in the controversy between operators and miners:—

February 27.—The mine workers submitted nine demands to the coal operators, including a twenty per cent. increase of wages, union recognition and an eight-hour working day.

March 12.—The coal operators formally rejected the demands and appointed a committee of ten to draft a reply to the mine workers demanding that the existing contract be renewed for three years.

Immediately following this announcement the retail price of anthracite was advanced by dealers $1 to $2 a ton. Operators began the erection of barbed wire stockades and fences around their coal storages, breakers and machine houses in the coal fields.

March 14.—The mine workers' representatives drafted a reply to the operators' ultimatum, which was presented Friday and which refused to entertain the counter proposal to renew the existing agreement.

Conference on March 15th adjourned without date on receipt of mine workers' reply and further negotiations were declared off. Operators issued a statement to the public in reply, defending their course.

The policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America will meet in Cleveland, Ohio, March 25th, when a new agreement will be drafted and submitted to the operators.

Existing agreement between operators and mine workers expires at midnight on March 31st, 1912.
