TRAGEDIES IN ONTARIO

A NEWBORN BABE WAS THROWN FROM A TRAIN.

A Woman Died in Church at London—A Man Fell 160 Feet Down an Embankment and Was Not Seriously Hurt.

Barrie, March 25.—Somebody dropped a baby, containing a new-born babe, out of a Canadian Pacific train near here, apparently with the object of having the train run over it, but it fell between the tracks where the child died of exposure and the body was found this morning.

Died in Church.

London, Ont., March 25.—Mrs. Matthew Dickson fell dead in Turin church, last evening, just as the pastor was about to commence his sermon. She leaves four small children.

Fell 160 Feet and Hives.

Millhurst, March 25.—Frederick Pratt, fell sixty feet from Canadian Pacific bridge, here, Saturday, striking the embankment and then dropping another hundred feet against the abutment, but was not seriously hurt.

Boy's Awful Fate.

London, Ont., March 25.—Allan Jeffrey, aged eight, of Ridgetown, was probably fatally injured when playing about a mill. He slipped into an opening leading to a chute, which fell a big corn sheller. Before the machinery was stopped the boy's legs had been drawn into the rollers and were terribly crushed. He has also serious internal injuries.

DIED FROM INJURIES

FOREIGNER WAS HURT IN ACCIDENT ON SATURDAY.

Which Occurred in Construction Camp of Canadian Northern Railway Near Sydenham—Another Man in Critical Condition.

Two foreigners were brought to the city on Saturday morning from Sydenham, by Drs. Sargeant and Farrell, and removed to the general hospital, having been hurt near Sydenham while working on Canadian Northern railway, and one of the men died on Sunday morning.

It seems that the men were at work on Friday afternoon, and in some manner, while they were making a cut through the rock foundation, a part of the bank caved in on the two men, with the result that one of them died in the general hospital on Sunday. The accident occurred just after the dinner hour. A blast had been set off some time in the morning, and it loosened a large boulder on the top of the hill. When the stone tumbled down the hill, it struck the two men with the result that it crushed one of men's arms.

The injured member was amputated in the hospital, on Saturday morning, but the strain was too much for him, and he died from the result. He was also injured internally.

About fifty men were employed at this place and it is very fortunate that the accident happened when it did, or others might have been hurt. The other man now lies in a very low condition.

Neither of the men could speak a word of English and so no person is sure of the names.

Coroner Dr. Mandell ordered an inquest to be held at the police station, on Tuesday night, and on Monday, Constable Samuel Arndt went out to Sydenham to serve the witnesses.

Kingston Board Protested.

L. L. Henderson, general manager of the Montreal Transportation company, will go to Washington on the depot that Francis King will also act upon, and which will protest against the diversion of the waters of Lake Michigan by the Chicago sanitary district, and against the lowering of the levels of the great lakes and St. Lawrence river. It will be remembered that at the meeting of the Kingston board of trade, held on March 23rd, a strong resolution was passed, protesting against the matter. Mr. Henderson will represent the interests of his company and Mr. King appears for the Dominion Marine Association.

To Repeat the Concert.

A meeting of the choir of Queen street Methodist church was held at the service on Sunday evening, to consider the request of Princess street Methodist church, that it repeat the Village Choir concert in Milltownville in the near future. It was decided to put on the concert if the proceeds were evenly divided. It is likely the choir will repeat the performance in their own Sunday school's well.

Hotel Promoter Here.

C. E. Phoenix, of Boston, Mass., one of the promoters of the new hotel, arrived in the city, this afternoon, and is going over plans, etc., with Architect William Newlands. As far as can be learned, everything is progressing nicely with the arrangements, and as soon as possible work will be started.

DENY INFLUENCING RAILWAYS TO WITHDRAW STUDENTS' RATES

Winnipeg, March 25.—The withdrawal of the railway of special rates for students from the west attending eastern colleges is greeted with approval by western colleges and universities. Educationalists say this move will keep many western students at home, and cut off a large part of the attendance in eastern institutions from west of the lakes.

CLAUSE BROAD ENOUGH

TO ENABLE HEBREWS TO BE APPOINTED.

To the Teaching Staff of Queen's—“Christian Character” Capable of a Broad Interpretation.

Although the Hebrews seem dissatisfied with the revised test clause in the Queen's University bill, the view of the trustees of the university take of it is that Hebrews cannot be debarred from the teaching staff whether they are Christians or not. During the discussion on the amended clause offered by Rev. Dr. Love, on behalf of the general assembly commissioners, the understanding seemed to be that "Christian character" implied living a Godly and upright life, or following the example of Christ. Creed is entirely eliminated from the clause. It is pretty well understood that the trustees heard, in dealing with appointments and considering the "Christian character" of an applicant for a position on the teaching staff, would not debar any Hebrew of Godly life, so long as he believed in the general principles of Christianity, which can be done whether or not he is a professed Christian or not.

One of the assembly commissioners told the Whig that what they wanted to guard against was the placing of professors on the staff who would teach things opposed to the principles of Christianity. As the university was to be "distinctively Christian," he said it was necessary that Godly men should direct the students.

Principal Gordon made a strong appeal for a more modified test clause, when it looked as if there was danger of the deadlock between the trustees remaining, and it is understood that the amended clause was largely due to his pleading that some satisfactory agreement should be reached. The statement was made by one of the trustee representatives that had the assembly commissioners not agreed to modify the clause, the trustees would have withdrawn the bill from the senate for the time being.

G. M. Macdonnell, K.C., is in Ottawa to appear before the senate private bills committee on Tuesday morning, with W. F. Nickle, M.P.

A despatch from Ottawa says that Queen's graduates in the capital approve the step taken to modify the test clause.

QUEEN'S RINK PLAN

THE RINK TO BE CONDUCTED FOR THE PUBLIC.

It Will be Enlarged in Another Year—Eventually it Will be Moved from the Present Site.

The arbitration between the Kingston Skating Rink company and Queen's University authorities over the skating rink, which the university is to take over on July 1st, will not take place till the summer. It is understood that the company wants $20,000 for the rink, and that the university people do not want to pay more than $12,000 or $13,000. It is the intention of the university athletic committee to enlarge the rink during the summer and fall of 1913. Nothing can be done this year. About twenty-five feet will be added by cutting the rink in two. More seating accommodation will be provided. Eight years hence, it is figured, the rink building will be moved from its present site on the university grounds to the lower portion of the university's new campus grounds on Union street, between Albert and Alfred streets.

The secretary of the athletic committee says that the rink is not to be merely for Queen's students. The intention is to conduct it along present lines for the public, only that a better service will be given. Arrangements will also be made with the curling club to retain its present building.

The athletic committee expects to have enough ground on its new Union street field for two campuses, one running north and south and the other east and west. It has no intention of erecting stands on this ground. The present university athletic grounds will be retained for all matches, and perhaps in a year or two, a clubhouse will be erected. At present the committee has not the money to add the improvements to these grounds which it plans, but they will come some day.

A track is to be constructed around the old campus on the grounds in front of the new arts building.

To Report on P.E.I. Route.

Prof. A. K. Kirkpatrick, of the School of Mining at Queen's University, who was appointed to enquire into the best route for the ferry service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland, went east yesterday.

With Prof. Kirkpatrick was another member of the School of Mining teaching staff, Prof. Alexander Macphail, who was elected at the last local election in Prince Edward Island to represent the Belfast division of Queen's. Mr. Macphail is en route for the capital of his native province, to take his seat, as the legislature will be opened in a few days.

Dr. Adam Shortt Chosen.

The graduates of the Kingston School of Mining have elected Dr. Adam Shortt to the position of governor of the institution.

Authoritative Styles In Spring Suits and Coats

Many of the customers who have taken advantage of our early showing of Suits, and who bought, have told us frankly, they were purchasing because we had the correct things, and it was only after a careful looking over everything in town they decided.

The Suits

Many of the latest Suits have the cutaway effects with slightly shaped backs in the 29 inch Coats. Skirts show new and several decidedly original ideas.

The Spring Coats

Are prettier than ever, and we ask you to come and see our collection

Remember

We never urge any person to buy. You are at perfect liberty to come and examine freely, and not even a hint from us as to purchase.
