HE MADE HIS ESCAPE HAD A LIVELY TIME

FROM GENERAL HOSPITAL. WHERE HE WAS CONFINED.

Frederick Johnson, who has been confined to the general hospital, having been brought there from the county jail, where he was confined for cruelly mutilating a dog belonging to Arthur Willie, Earl street, escaped from the general hospital on Tuesday evening. For the last few weeks he was in the general hospital suffering from an attack of appendicitis. He was not watched any more than the other patients.

On Tuesday evening, as he was feeling a great deal better, he thought he had a good chance to escape, so made his way out of one of the windows at the rear of the building and down the fire escape, and away. It is thought that he has gone for the country, and perhaps he will not be seen for some time.

He had been held at the jail for some little time, and was to be sent to the asylum at Orillia, as it was thought that he was not sane.

The police were notified of the young man's escape, and are on the lookout for him. They are not responsible for his escape, as he was sent to jail on remand.

Brockville, May 27.—While driving across the Canadian channel opposite Rockport, Robert Hunt, of Larne Island, had an exciting experience by the outfit breaking through a point where the ice was thin. WHEN PET BEAR AT BATTERY ESCAPED FROM QUARTERS.

Made Visit to Elevator of the Montreal Transportation Company, and Had Workmen on the Run—Was Finally Overcome by Six Stalwart Soldiers and Taken Back.

Were you ever chased by an angry bear? If you never have had such an experience, and would like to hear an interesting story, just ask some of the workmen in the yards at the Montreal Transportation company. Wednesday morning the cub bear at Tote de l'out barracks broke loose from its quarters at the barracks and caused the liveliest kind of a time in the ship yards nearby.

Life in barracks gets a little tiresome at times, even for the bear, who after his long winter's sleep, wished to stretch his legs, so this morning, when the guards and sentry at the barracks were off duty for a short time Mr. Bear slipped out of the barracks and started in to make things interesting.

In less time than it takes to tell it the bear was over on the property of the Montreal Transportation company. The big elevator attracted his attention and he made a bee line for it. Growls and snarls followed in quick order and there was great excitement among the workmen who dropped their shovels and immediately ran out of the building. Mr. Bear was in full charge of the elevator but as he had chased everyone out it became dull for him and he took to the outside again.

In the yards many men were at work and when they saw the bear coming their way they immediately ran for shelter. One of the employees was in an outhouse but the bear did not overlook him. He, too, was chased out of his quarters and soon everyone was in a great state of excitement. But still the angry bear continued on his way. The men at the barracks soon got word of the affair and six stalwart soldiers were soon on the scene endeavoring to catch the naughty fellow. They eventually got him, but they had to "go some," but when he was led away on a chain the men in the ship yards were able to breathe a great deal easier.

Everyone in the vicinity was greatly excited over the affair, even Polly, the parrot, in the office of the Montreal Transportation company taking her part with the rest.

The bear is now in safe quarters at the barracks, again, and it was rumored this afternoon that he would be court martialed and given twenty-eight days "C.B." (confinement to barracks).

ABOLITION OF BAR.

W. J. Crothers expressed in no uncertain terms, his approval of the Lowell policy. He said he hoped before many years to see the whole thing cleaned out of the country. Mr. Rowell proposed to retain the clubs and the shops and while these have their disastrous effects, the bar is probably the chief offender, and a step in the right direction. In removing the saloons he is taking away a glaring temptation to the rising generation, and a curse to citizenship. Mr. Crothers declared: "I will hold up both hands for this policy, and vote for it."

T. F. Harrison said he was heartily in accord with Leader Rowell's policy, and he felt it was satisfactory to the temperance party at large. He knew some extremists thought the abolition of the club and shops should also be embodied in the platform, but while these are all harmful, probably the kernel of the curse is the treating system, and the bar. This is a good start for a general cleaning. The policy is one worthy of a strong man of Mr. Rowell's calibre. The temperance party in Ontario had, in the past, been accused, and rightly so, of not being endowed with much backbone, when election day came. This will be the test, Mr. Harrison said. If the voters of the province are in favor of cleaning up the private and public life of the people, they will stand firm under the liberal standard.

"SLEEPING BEAUTY" DISTURBED

Drunken Man Went Into Strange Houses for a Nap.

When a man is under the influence of liquor he does strange things. A drunk, who was in police court Tuesday morning, gave a lady living on University avenue quite a scare. She had been out of the house for a short time and upon returning found a man referred to taking a nap on the couch in the parlor. He refused to leave and it required the services of a couple of husky students, who boarded at the house, to put the man out. He tried the same trick at another house where he found no "welcome" on the mat for him, and was forced to make a hurried exit. Later he was arrested and was given ample time to sleep in the police cells.

The Telephone Bill.

A meeting of the finance committee was called for this afternoon to appoint a couple of representatives to go to Toronto in support of the telephone bill being introduced into the legislature by Hon. Mr. Lucas. This bill is for the purpose of requiring that all future concessions to telephone companies be submitted to the vote of the ratepayers in municipalities interested.

Mayor of Berlin Here.

While in the city he called on Mayor Hoag, and a number of the aldermen, and also visited the board of trade building and the city building.

NOT COMING VERY FAST.

Only Nine Applications Received for Renewal of Liquor Licenses.

Although the time expires next Monday for the receiving of applications for the renewal of liquor licenses in Kingston, up till to-day only nine applications out of the thirty-one places selling liquor had put in an application for renewal.

This, of course, does not mean that those who have not asked for a renewal do not intend to do so—at least if that is the case it will be news to everyone, but it evidently means that the applicants have put off the matter of renewing their application until the last moment, as it were.

The board of commissioners have another month yet to think over the cutting off of the licenses, and in the meantime the liquor men will fight their case to quash the by-law in the courts.
