

MOTOR BOAT BUILDING

IS AT A STANDSTILL JUST NOW IN KINGSTON.

The Trouble is a Lack of Accommodation for the Craft—Floating Boat-houses Might be Provided.

Motorboat building is practically at a standstill in the city, owing to the lack of shelter for the smaller boats. A boat house is at a premium, every available one or site for the building is taken all the way up the harbor.

Although the same number of motorboats have not been built this year as last, there will be a number of new "put-puts" on the harbor this coming season.

Canoes are becoming more popular year by year. Besides, the Yacht Club fleet there are about twenty houses at the boat houses at Knapp's, at the city entrance to the harbor.

The camps at Dead Man's Bay are becoming more pleasant year by year. Cedar Island, with its historic surroundings and outlooks, was, last summer, the scene of several camps.

IS 92 YEARS OLD

BLIND WRITER OF HYMNS HAPPIEST MORTAL IN WORLD.

"Younger Than Ever"—Converses With all the Animation and Spirit of a Girl.

FANNY CROSBY.

Bridgeport, Conn., March 26.—Fanny Crosby, the blind writer of "Rescue the Perishing" and other hymns, was ninety-two on Sunday.

In spite of her great age, Miss Crosby conversed with all the animation and spirit of a girl.

"I am younger than ever," was her first remark. "Life with me is different," said Miss Crosby. "I never fret, never worry, never think disagreeable thoughts, nor find fault with anyone or anything.

Life glides on like a lithe boat on a waveless stream, with beautiful flowers on each side. I have had sorrows, I have lost dear friends and felt depressed, but it is my firm belief that the Lord never afflicts his children—that is the work of the evil one.

"If in the whole world you can find a happier mortal than I am, bring him to me, I want to shake his hand."

Miss Crosby is opposed to woman suffrage. "It is not woman's sphere, nor one bit—when a woman is married all her devotion and energy are needed for her home and children.

A woman in politics cannot attend her family and for an unmarried woman to become active in politics makes her stern and masculine. I have seen examples of it."

For Two Bishops.

The veteran cricketer, Dr. W. G. Grace, has probably been photographed and has given his autograph as many times as most celebrities.

At a meeting the other day a wee maiden approached him with notebook and pencil for his autograph, which was graciously accorded with the cheery smile and good-natured manner for which the genial old champion is so well known.

On another occasion a fortnight later, much to his surprise, the same little lady shyly sidled up to him with the necessary documents and the request for his autograph. "But I gave it to you only a few days ago," laughingly said the veteran. "Oh," came the answer, "I changed that one for two bishops."

Capt. C. C. Falford, of Brockville, on returning from the Grand Orange lodge at Kingston, found awaiting him his medal for long service in the militia.

CONCERT AT WOLFE ISLAND

By the Choir of Sydenham Street Methodist Church.

A grand concert was held at Wolfe Island on Monday evening in the C.M.B.A. hall, under the auspices of the Methodist church of Marysville.

A large attendance favored the speakers and singers, and a good sum was realized.

A chorus made up of the choirs of the First Congregational and Sydenham street Methodist churches rendered good choral music. A lively debate was also provided by local talent, on the subject: "Resolved, that a kitchen girl is more suitable for a wife than a parlor lady."

The victory went to the negative; not however, without an explanation from one of the judges who pointed out that the affirmative certainly had a strong and convincing case.

The concert opened with an address from the chairman, Rev. T. W. Neal, pastor of Sydenham street church. Then came a selection by the choir, "Down the Rippling River"; solo by Miss Haycock; recitation by Mr. Johnston; solo by Harvey Angrove; recitation by Mrs. George Keys; choir, "Scots Wha Hae"; solo, by Miss Mamma Langin; recitation, Miss Lora Keys; solo, by Mrs. James Small; solo, Miss Sarah Langin; recitation, Mr. Johnston; solo, Ardelle Elder; "Slumber Song" by the choir; solo by Miss King.

Debate—Affirmative, William Fitzgerald, Rev. A. W. Stewart, Miss Laura Keys; negative, Miss Lena Bolton, William Keys, Elmer Woodman. The judges were Rev. Mr. Bearen, Rev. J. W. Neal and Prof. James Small.

Owing to the change in the date of the concert which was from Thursday last to Monday evening, the Salvation Army band which was to have been present was unable to attend.

One of the amusing incidents of the debate occurred while the negative was declaring eloquently about the balmy joys of the man who breathed the atmosphere which surrounded a parlor lady when an angry little black dog got into the hall and snarled and snappet lustily in violent protest against the doctrine of the speaker.

And indeed, he was one of the kind that could only be persuaded to move on by a bucket with a broomstick. Luckily a man in the audience put out the noisy canine and saved the "parlor lady" from this test of her usefulness.

Mr. Neal enjoyed the trip with the choir immensely and insisted that the next time the choir went on a trip he should be taken along. It is doubtful whether the choir of Sydenham street church would go anywhere unless their jolly pastor went along.

NOTED KINGSTON ORANGEMAN.

James Berney Joined the Order in the Year 1870.

James Berney, Kingston, past grand master of the K. W. Grand Orange lodge of Ontario East, is the oldest son of the late John Berney, of Curraduff, in the county of Wexford, Ireland, where he was born, he was educated in one of the schools established by the Irish Church Educational Society, and his proud boast is that he does not owe the government for any part of his education.

His early home being within view of many of the scenes and battlefields of the Irish rebellion. In 1870 he joined the Orange association, and his urbanity and ability was soon recognized by his brethren, he having filled the important offices of master of his own primary lodge, county of North Leeds, and for many years active on important committees in Ontario East grand lodge, and was in 1909 elected, without opposition, to the highest office in the gift of the brethren in this jurisdiction, that of R. W. grand master.

He was sent by the grand lodge as their representative at the triennial session of the imperial grand Orange council of the Loyal Orange Association of the World, held in Liverpool in July, 1909.

When about twenty-five years of age, in 1870, he left home for a visit to friends in Canada, intending to return the same year, but instead of doing so he remained and settled in the county of Leeds, where, for many years, he taught school, and for twelve of those years he was also clerk of the municipality of Rear of Leeds and Lansdowne, and when he resigned from the school and clerkship to accept the position of inspector in the customs, with headquarters at Montreal, he was presented by his friends with a massive gold watch as a memento of their esteem.

On the defeat of the Tupper government in 1896 he was dismissed from office as an active partizan. In 1898, he secured the important position of travelling inspector for a large manufacturing company, which position he still holds. In religion Mr. Berney is an adherent of St. Paul's Anglican church, Kingston.

Fought Wolves With Club.

Fort Williams, March 27.—Just outside of Nepigon, on Saturday night, John Pananen, a Finlander, was attacked by a pack of wolves, and, armed with only a club, he beat them off, killing one and maiming another. The latter was captured and muzzled, and the man is exhibiting it now in the two cities.

A Reasonable Plea For the Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomach Do Its Work—Especially When it Costs Nothing to Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach? Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestives.

Chemical Laboratory, Telegraphic address, "Difindo," London, Telephone No. 11029 Central, 20 Colburn St., Fenchurch St., E.C. 3.

I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., 86 Clerkenwell Road, London, E.C. 4, and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral poisons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets I am of opinion that they are admirably adapted for the purposes for which they are intended. (Signed)

John R. Brooks, F.I.C., F.C.S.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as shown by the recommendations of 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of food, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and powerful remedy, one grain of its active principle these tablets being strong enough (by test) to digest food. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

Ask your druggist for a 50c. box or send to us direct for a free trial sample package and you will be surprised at the result. F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

FUNERAL AT PERTH ROAD.

Of the Late Mrs. Joseph Forsythe on Friday.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Joseph Forsythe, Portsmouth, took place on Friday, from the Methodist church, Perth Road, near where the parents reside. Rev. John Dawson, pastor of Portsmouth Presbyterian church, conducted the service. Mr. Forsythe wishes to express his thanks to all who showed their sympathy with him in his bereavement. The floral tributes were: "Sincere Friends," J. S. Roberts and family, Fisher's brewery, Portsmouth Beaver hockey club, "A Few Sincere Friends," sprays from Victor Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Waller, Mrs. Rhoda Haley, Mrs. S. Burke, Eddis, Hazel and Mammie Mooney, Mrs. J. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. John Allmar, Mr. and Mrs. F. Boyle, Mrs. J. H. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross, sheafs from Rev. and Mrs. W. Dobbie, Mrs. and Miss May Taylor, Mrs. Lorne and Mrs. McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Hartrick, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Powell, Mrs. Esther Beaupre, Mrs. Joseph Liddle, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith, Miss Shortt, Miss Agnes Smith.

Old Age Pensions.

J. J. Kelson, before Commons' Committee.

There are already in Ontario 3,900 people in workhouses. The sum of half a million dollars is annually spent for their up-keep, while three million dollars is invested in workhouse buildings. In Great Britain it costs $45,000,000 per year to maintain its workhouse system, which has a tendency to pauperize the people. Old age pensions, on the contrary, would tend to a fairer distribution of wealth and assure the aged of a means of support in their declining years that would be their right. He was of the opinion that no healthy man or woman should be inside the walls of an institution which was only for the defective or the sick.

The Thing is Getting It.

Montreal Herald.

Supporters of the Queen's University bill are now reminding us that Christianity is an integral portion of the common law of Canada. It is doubtless very interesting to speculate upon the exact consequences of that statutory condition, if it exists, but it is late in the day to suggest that the teaching of any doctrine contrary to Christianity is a violation of the law of the land. Christianity does not need to be upheld in Canada by the method of gagging all its opponents.

GOES IN AS LIEUTENANT.

A Kingstonian Following in His Father's Steps.

LIEUT. J. R. REA.

Ottawa Journal, March 13th.

Militia orders announce the appointment, as a lieutenant in the 43rd Regiment, D.C.O.R., of J. R. Rea, an officer who is peculiarly well qualified to maintain the splendid records of the past as regards the efficiency of the officers in this corps.

Mr. Rea, who for years has manifested a keen interest in matters pertaining to the militia of Canada, joins the 43rd Regiment with many years' experience in military training. Two decorations testify to his service in the South African war, as a member of "A" company, of the first contingent, Royal Canadian Regiment. Last year he was an unattached member of the coronation contingent, and some years ago saw considerable service with United States troops.

Mr. Rea is widely known in Ottawa business circles as a director of A. E. Rea & Co., limited.

The new militia officer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Rea, 252 Albert street. The son is following in the father's footsteps, as the latter is a militia veteran, possessing two service medals. He served through the Fenian raid.

April Woman's Home Companion.

Kathleen Norris, who became famous as the author of "Mother," begins a new serial novel in the April Woman's Home Companion. It is a love story laid in California. Other fiction is contributed by Mary Stewart Cutting, Carolyn Wells, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman and Mary Hastings Bradley.

The regular household, fashion and home decoration departments are filled with new, interesting facts and suggestions.

AVOIDS ALL MEETINGS

BELIEVES GAMBLING IS ONE OF THE GREATEST CURSES.

Prefers Her Children, But is Anxious That They Shall Not Suffer From Lack of Exercise.

London, March 25.—Queen Mary has settled down at Buckingham Palace to the quiet life she loves best of all. It is an open secret that the pomp and ceremonies of the two courts just over were little to her liking. Neither will she accompany King George when he visits the Earl of Derby at Knowsley for the grand national race week, as she takes not the slightest interest in the turf. Moreover, she regards gambling as one of England's greatest curses.

The hours Queen Mary enjoys most are those spent in supervising the work and amusements of her children. Although they spend practically the whole of their time indoors at Buckingham Palace, she sees to it that they do not suffer from this sedentary mode of life, and insists on regular hours of exercise, as well as for work and recreation.

A brawny Highlander, who is always in native costume, is the children's instructor in Swedish drill. The splendidly carpeted corridors on the upper floor of the palace are the track for many an impromptu race between the young princes. When tired of games they turn their attention to their pets, an aviary of foreign birds and a squirrel house being their favorite haunts.

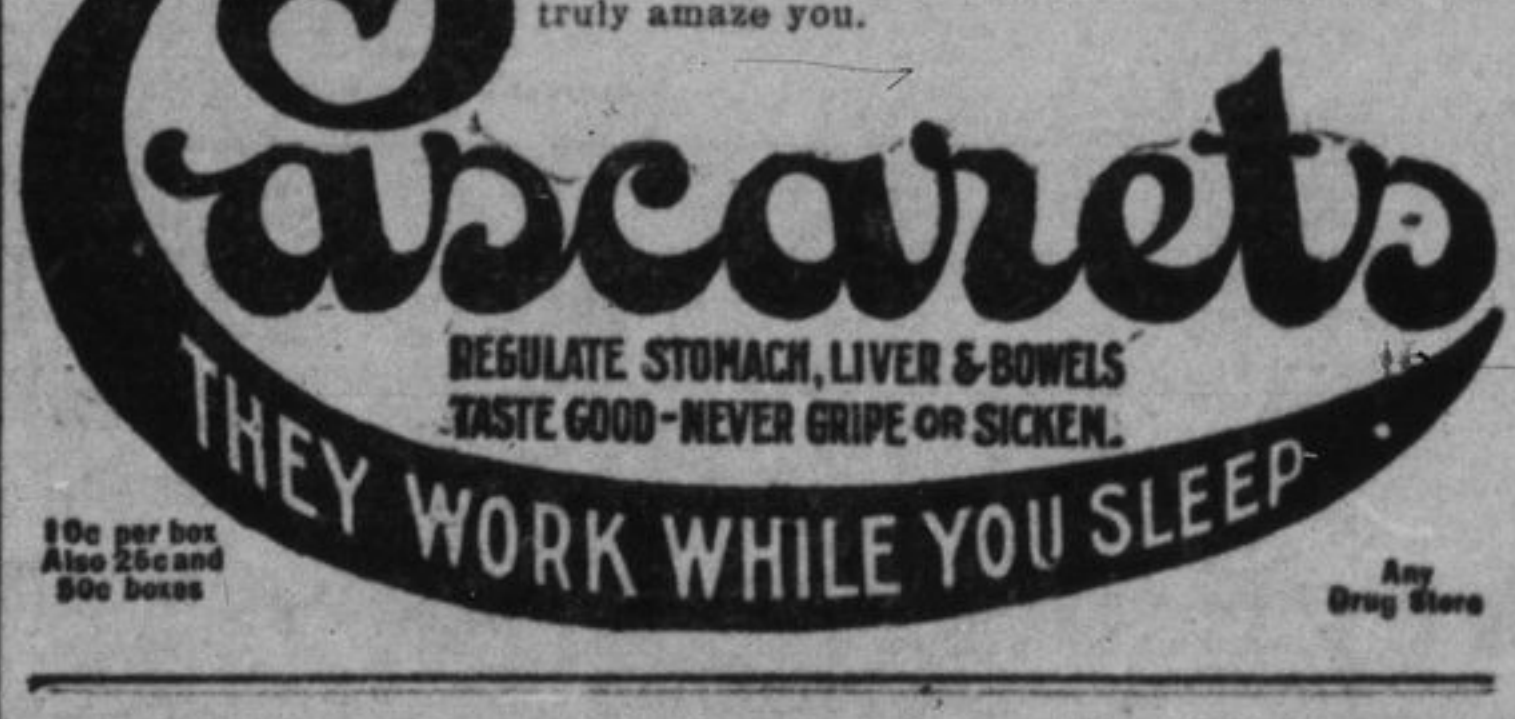

The new state coach, built to replace that destroyed by fire last year, scarcely interested them at all, perhaps because they associate it with the mysterious functions which bore the whole family almost to extinction.

A Charming Play.

Do you want to see a really charming play? Something so much out of the ordinary that it is impossible to forget it for weeks. Well, it has been found, and it is making a sensation on two continents. This marvel in the play line is a Scotch comedy called "Bunty Pulls the String," and is coming to the Grand on Friday, March 29th. It is one of those artistic successes which please the public at large and the high-brows alike, that destroyed by fire last year, critics all about equally well, which is putting it pretty strong, yet nevertheless true. The actors are themselves Scotch, and after the first few lines you are filled with the comforting assurance that none of them will forget to use the "proper accent. The fact that they are Scotch accounts for their names being totally unfamiliar to theatregoers, but it will not be long before the cast, which is practically all-star, will have become widely known on this side of the big pond.
