MRS. BERRY'S ROMANCE

AN AGED KINGSTON LADY WEDDED IN BELLEVILLE.

To Charles Clarke, a Wealthy Farmer of Mountain View—The Two Were Friends in Their Youth.

A despatch to the Whig from Belleville says:

A romance of fifty years ago had a happy ending on March 21st in Belleville, when Mrs. Berry, Kingston, widow of the late Frank Berry, of that city, was united in marriage to Charles Clarke, a wealthy farmer of Mountain View, by Rev. Mr. Beaumont, of St. Thomas' church.

Mrs. Berry has been visiting with her niece, Mrs. V. H. Graves, Albion street, and met Mr. Clarke there. She had not seen him for years. They were well acquainted with each other in their youth.

To Run Sleepers in Here.

It is the intention of the Canadian Northern railway company, which is establishing its freight business in Kingston, to make Kingston a terminal in some respects.

It is pretty well understood that the company will interest itself in the steamers of the Rideau Navigation company.

THE SPORT REVIEW

HOCKEY TEAM LEAVES TO-NIGHT FOR CLEVELAND.

Will There Be Any Sunday School League Baseball This Season?—Notes About Various Sports.

The Kingston All-Star hockey team had a good practice at the covered rink on Wednesday evening so as to be in good shape for the game in Cleveland on Friday and Saturday evenings. The team will leave Thursday at midnight. They expect to win out.

Sunday School Baseball.

People are anxiously waiting to see if anything is going to be done in the way of basketball by the Sunday School A.A.A. Last year the league had a very successful season and it is to be hoped that it will be re-organized.

City League Baseball.

A number of objections are being raised as to the advisability of starting the city league games on the 24th of May. If the league is thinking of starting on that day because it is a holiday, it had better change its mind and make it June 3rd, the King's birthday, as that is the day to be celebrated this year.

Lacrosse Notes.

Lacrosse teams may be reduced to ten a side this year.

British Columbia will probably adopt the C.L.A. rule of no reinstatement for a professional.

The two Montreal teams of the Big Four will play on the same grounds, those of the Nationals.

The Canadian Lacrosse Association's business at the annual convention will include a proposal for a national body.

Notes on Sports.

Although so early in the year, the Toronto Argonauts are talking football. They claim that Billington, McGill's kicking half back, will wear the light and dark blue in the fall.

The Cambridge University Athletic Club president, P. J. Baker, of King's College, may be invited to join the Canadian team for the Olympic games. Mr. Baker, who is a Canadian, won the half-mile at the meets with Oxford and London Athletic Club and was never in difficulty.

The cross-country contest for professionals, organized by The Auto, of Paris, was won by Hans Holmer, the Canadian runner, at Juvisy, France, on Sunday.

Boxing is now assured in New York state until September, 1913, at least. The Allen bill, which would have put an end to bouts of any kind, was sandbagged in the legislature at Albany.

The Connaught cup, with $1,500 added, for Canadian-owned horses, is a new stake feature for the Toronto Woodbine. The trophy is the gift of their royal highnesses.

SOLD TEAM FOR $410.

R. E. Harpell, of Cataract, Buys Fire Horses.

The gray team of horses of the fire department, which the city council authorized a sub-committee of the fire and light committee to sell, were disposed of on Wednesday, the sale being made to R. E. Harpell, of Cataract, who paid $410 for the horses.

Fair, chairman of the committee, is well pleased with the result of the sale. He contended in council that a better price could be obtained by private sale than by putting the animals up at auction. The team was purchased about three years ago for $300. It will cost perhaps $500 to get the kind of team wanted to replace them.

WHAT ABOUT A CELEBRATION?

June 3rd, the King's Birthday, Should be Observed.

It was generally understood that last year Kingston had held its last 24th of May celebration. Of late years, the weather had proved anything but favorable for drawing crowds, it being cold till late in May. The idea was to change the time of the celebration until ten days later, viz., the 3rd of June, the birthday of King George, when the weather conditions would be more favorable. Now that the first of April is approaching, the citizens would like to hear of some move being made in the way of holding a meeting to arrange the preliminaries in connection with a celebration.

"King's Quality" flour, manufactured by the Maple Leaf Milling company, and sold by all leading grocers, is in popular demand everywhere. Have you tried it?

The music of "The Golden Age," a new opera bouffe, was tried out at the Royal Alexander theatre, Toronto by a large orchestra under the direction of the composer, J. Nevin Doyle, of Belleville.

THE ASSAULT-AT-ARMS

AT ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE WEDNESDAY EVENING.

A Large Number of Invited Guests Viewed the Events—The Boxing Bouts Took Place in the Afternoon.

The assault-at-arms of the Royal Military College was one of the most enjoyable and successful even in the history of this illustrious military school of the dominion. The gymnasium, on old Point Frederick, where it was held, Wednesday evening, was truly a pleasing sight. A large number of city folk, as well as numerous out-of-town relatives and friends of the cadets, were the guests of the commandant, staff and gentlemen cadets. The running track in the gallery was banked with the happy spectators and a row of chairs were placed along the sides of the gym floors.

The large class of cadets presented a smart appearance in their red and white jerseys, white trousers and shoes.

To say that the cadets stand first, as an amateur body of athletes is not stretching the truth, it is merely placing credit where credit is due. All the events were carried off in a brisk, soldierly-like, systematic manner. Many of the movements and tricks were exceedingly difficult, but everything was carried out without a hitch on the large floors. The whole affair places great credit upon those who had charge of the training of the cadets' training, Major Shine and Sergt.-Maj.-Inst. Cutbush.

At 8.45 o'clock the first number on the programme, recreation gymnastics, was commenced. Three very amusing and interesting games between teams of twenty men each were played. One was passing the "medicine ball" over the heads of the cadets in single file, the last man running up to the front and returning it back. The same process was carried out rolling the ball between the legs. The tug-of-war was of a rather unique character. The contestants were on their knees with their heads resting in a socket attached to the ropes, and according to the strength of the backward pressure, the honors. Six men were on a team. "B" company defeated "A" and "D" dragged "C" out of its territory. In the final "B" company won.

The free gymnastics, calisthenics, running, jumping, etc., were performed by a class of fifty. With the Sergt.-Major leading a very creditable exhibition of this sort of exercise, which does so much to develop the athlete, was displayed. The pyramid building, although through the various events, was remarkable.

Cadets Fisher and Sweeney gave a splendid exhibition of bayonet fighting, which the former won. They run neck-to-neck as regards points throughout the bout. It was very interesting and requires strength and keenness of vision on the part of the contestants.

The manner in which the wearers of the red and white climbed over and through the parallel bars was something stunning. All the newest and most difficult "stunts" on the bars were gone through with precision, finishing with pyramid buildings.

The mounting of the shelf, about ten feet from the ground, was done by the class in a very simple manner. The chair tricks by five cadets were also very good.

The horizontal bar display was probably the most remarkable work of the evening. Every conceivable trick seemingly known, was successfully done and the individual work of the class was remarkable. The cadets twisted and climbed over that bar more like monkeys, and received great praise.

The display on the vaulting horses was the last and another rather awe-struck the audience by jumping, etc.

The assault-at-arms broke up about 11 o'clock with the national anthem.

The Boxing Bouts.

The finals in the boxing competition were fought Wednesday afternoon, before the commandant, staff, gentlemen cadets and a number of citizens. The bouts were three rounds each, some of which were very interesting and exciting. Some of the cadets who contested, showed decided ability to handle the "mits." The officials were: Judges, Major F. R. Sedgwick, Prof. J. E. Martin, referee, Major J. I. Shine, timekeeper, Capt. E. F. S. Dawson.

In the first of the novices (145 pounds) and under Cadet Mackenzie defeated Cadet Maunsell. In the first round Mackenzie was very aggressive and kept Maunsell on the defence. Maunsell retaliated in the second round, coming back stronger, and the honors were fairly even until the last of the third round, when Mackenzie again showed his superiority.

The "go" between Ross and Wilkins in the second of the novices, was a good deal faster and more interesting, the contestants showing more ability to "punish." During the first round, Ross kept his opponent on his guard, but, beginning in the second, Wilkins used his weight to good advantage, his fists always being in the locality of Ross' chest and face, and he won out from his plucky opponent.

In the featherweights (125 pounds), McCusig won the honors. All through the bout the winner proved himself the better man, and marked himself as a "comer" with the "mits." Blake, while his efforts were naturally mostly of the defensive nature, landed McCusig a few blows in the second round which showed he was also "right there."

The judges declared Drummond the winner of the lightweights (135 pounds), after a bout which was probably the best exhibition of the afternoon. Shoehoverer fought hard, but was apparently not up to the sturdy "tricks." Drummond used his left hand very cleverly, knocking his opponent down twice, only to come up to the count. The winner proved his superior salutes mostly throughout.

Trail defeated Lawson, after a very close struggle, in the welterweights (145 pounds). In the first round, it appeared as if Lawson was going to carry off the honors, but Galt "buckel up," and with harder and more systematic blows, won out. The finish was very exciting, both contestants being alert and punishing each other very hard.

The final of the middleweights (153 pounds) was not pulled off. Cadet Gwynne being unable to appear. The bout was awarded to Cadet Green, the other contestant.

The heavyweight bout was finished in the second round, Godwin being declared the winner. Both cadets were over six feet in height, but Godwin was considerably the better man. Storms lost by his inability to attack, and was brought to dig mat in the first round, but responded to the count. In the second period, it appeared as if Godwin would follow up his bombardment, with a knock-out, therefore the referee called the bout finished.

He is now spending a few days in the city before he leaves to assume the duties of his new position.

Roads in Bad Condition.

The Bath Road stage driver reports the roads to be in very bad condition, bare in some places and covered in others with big drifts. He made a record trip across the ice on Thursday morning, covering the distance in one hour and a half. He saw a flock of gulls on the ice, which, he says, is a sure sign of the ice breaking, although as yet it is very solid.

Death of Wolfe Islander.

The death occurred on Wolfe Island, on Wednesday, of James Rogers, a life-long resident of the island. The deceased was in his sixty-eighth year. The funeral will take place from his late residence, on Saturday morning, to the Church of the Sacred Heart, where a solemn requiem mass will be sung for the repose of his soul by Rev. Father Spratt.

In Fear of Consumption

To be entirely cured of a cold which threatened to become consumption naturally makes one think well of the treatment which helped to effect the cure.

In a letter just received from Mrs. Edson, Brock, Tremblon, Que., the writer says: "I wish to tell you that I have used Dr. Chase's medicine with great success. I took a very bad cold and could not get rid of the cough. I felt so bad that I really thought I was going into consumption. I got well by using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Licorice and Turpentine. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills also did me a lot of good. You may publish this if you wish, for many people already know what great good Dr. Chase's medicines have done me."

FORMERLY OF KINGSTON.
Doubly Bereaved in His Advanced Years.

Toronto Star. William Mawhinney, ex-staff instructor of the Royal School of Infantry referring to M. J. Leaden, husband of Mrs. Leaden, who, with their daughter, Lillian, was apprehended at their home in Borden street, states that "former cadets of the Royal Military College, as also the officers of the staff, will read of this with profound sorrow. Mr. Leaden was one of the original staff of the college, being quartermaster and chief accountant under the late Gen. Herjitt and his successors. His genial disposition and his ever ready helping hand in the training of the young cadet will ever be remembered by them. In his early days he was paymaster-sergeant in the 63rd Regiment of the imperial army and served in the Crimean war, but he feels that the strain on his nerves in the trenches before Sebastopol were only a bagatelle to the blow that has befallen him in his declining years."

BIG LUMBER TRADE
Is Looked For on Lake Michigan Coming Season.

Capt. Grant Horn has just returned from a trip to the west, going as far as Chicago. The captain was on the lookout for a vessel, but did not make a purchase, as he was unable to secure a boat that would fill the bill.

Capt. Horn says that a big trade is looked for in the lumber business on Lake Michigan this summer. There is a great demand for vessels for this class of trade, and it would appear as if there is quite a scarcity of vessels.
