

EASTER SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

The Day Was Rainy and Gloomy, But the Glad Easter Spirit Prevalled in the Houses of Worship.

Despite the inclement weather on Easter Sunday, the church services were well attended, especially in evening, when most of the edifices were filled. The pastors preached bright and impressive sermons, on Easter, its message, and what it should mean to humanity. The special music in all the places of worship was appropriate to the season, and was effectively rendered. Easter flowers were in profusion before altars and pulpits.

St. Mary's Cathedral.

"Christ is risen, hallelujah! This is the day the Lord hath made, let us exult and rejoice therein." It is by these words of the liturgy of the church the great feast of the Resurrection was recalled, the same being triumphantly sung in all her temples throughout the Roman Catholic world. In St. Mary's cathedral the ceremonies were most imposing. With all the pomp and splendour at her command, the church honours the day which so gloriously proclaims the divinity of Christ and enables Christians to hope for a better life to come. At 10:30 o'clock, pontifical high mass was celebrated by his grace, Archbishop Spratt with Rev. Father Men as high priest and Rev. Fathers Hanley and McDonald as deacon and sub-deacon. A sermon full of meaning and hopefulness was preached by Rev. Father Jones. The usual Easter collection was taken at the door, the names of the subscribers being subsequently published.

The music was in keeping with the solemnity of the day and showed the excellent training imparted. Flynn's mass, specially arranged for mixed voices, was most effectively rendered under the joint direction of N. E. O'Connor and Rev. Father Hanley. Prof. Denyes presided at the organ. There were large congregations present at all the services.

At St. George's Cathedral.

joyously was the Easter feast kept by the congregation of St. George's cathedral. The congregations at the three celebrations were very large, the celebrant at the 6:30 a.m. service being Canon Starr, at eight o'clock service, the dean, and at high celebration the bishop of the diocese, the minister, Rev. Walter Simpson, being gospel-er at this celebration and administering at two of the services.

The band of the R.C.H.A. was stationed in the Lady Chapel, and before high celebration and before playing "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," and assisted in, all the hymns. The Hallelujah chorus, perhaps the grandest strain of praise ever written, was played at the offertory both morning and evening, the people standing as usual, harmonious. At evening the beautiful anthem, "I Am He That Liveth," was magnificently sung by the choir, the cornets sustaining the triumphant notes of the trombones, and both organ and band combining in an accompaniment which only satisfied the ear with beautiful music, nobly rendered, but made vocal with a glorious certainty, the day's great truth.

Never has the cathedral been so beautifully decked for the Easter feast, the sanctuary being a mass of flowers. Between the pillars of the altar were hung three crosses, one given in memory of Dean Smith, another in memory of the Rev. William R. Tandy, and the third in memory of Edw. J. B. Penas.

Other in memory of the Rev. William R. Tandy, and the third in memory of Edw. J. B. Penas. The preacher at high celebration was the dean, and at the children's service in the afternoon, when the Leaten mite boxes were given in and presented on the altar, the minister spoke. At evening Mr. Simpson was the preacher, his theme the three gardens, the garden of promise, the garden of pain, and the garden of power. At the close a solemn service of thanksgiving for the results of the mission, was sung. Before beginning his sermon in the morning the dean thanked the congregation for the generous way in which they had responded to the call for financial aid to carry out the mission, and the minister at night suggested that as a tangible thank offering for any blessing received through the mission that the congregation build or establish a mission church or house in the lower part of the city, such a work being very greatly needed; or else that they endeavor to wipe out the cathedral debt.

St. Paul's Church.

There were very large congregations at all the services in St. Paul's Easter Sunday. At the early celebration there were 156 communicants, and over sixty communicated at the eleven o'clock service. At evening prayer the church was filled. There were handsome floral decorations and a strong choir. The vicar, Rev. W. F. Fitzgerald, officiated at all the services. In the morning he dedicated some handsome gifts to the church, including three service books for clergymen's use.

St. Luke's Church.

Rev. H. S. Forrester conducted the morning service at St. Luke's church. Holy communion was celebrated at eight and at eleven o'clock. About 100 in all received communion. In the afternoon the children were addressed by Rev. J. W. Forrester. An offering was taken for mission work. Rev. J. W. Forrester conducted the evening service. Special music was furnished by the choir at all the services. The offerings for the morning and evening services were devoted to the building fund.

At St. James' Church.

Bright and helpful were the Easter services at St. James' church on Sunday. The church was decorated with Easter lilies and flowers, and the music by the choir was appropriate for the day. Miss Estford rendered a solo in the evening. Two hundred people were present in the morning for the communion service. At the morning service, Rev. F. W. Savary preached on "Christ Our Passover," and in the evening, "The Angel In The Tomb."

St. Andrew's Church.

Easter Sunday morning marked the first celebration of holy communion by St. Andrew's new minister, Rev. S. J. M. Compton, B.D. Large congregations were present at both morning and evening services. In the evening, Mr. Compton preached on the meaning of Christ's resurrection, basing his discussion on St. Luke vii, 23: "And blessed is he, whoever shall not be offended in me." Miss May Hinckley

NEW STEAMER NAMED.

Will be Known as "Thousand Islander."

The Thousand Island Steamship company received over 6,000 suggestions for naming their new steamer, which will be built at Toledo, Ohio. The one selected was "Thousand Islander," which was proposed by many contestants. Miss E. Walsh, Kingston, Ont., was the first to send in this name, and receives the prize of $25. As the steamer is an American vessel, and will run in international waters, the management has awarded an additional prize of $30, divided equally between the second and third proposers of "Thousand Islander," viz., G. H. Brevish, traffic agent, International Railway Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and R. L. Jackson, chief clerk to general agent, New York Central lines, Watertown, N.Y.

Bethel Congregational.

Both services at Bethel were held in Bethel yesterday. The minister preached one sermon of twenty minutes last evening, and in the morning the church observed the sacrament of the Lord's supper, when the pastor welcomed to fellowship thirty-one members. A choir of eighteen voices, with Miss Isabel Moxley, organist, formed the chorus. Miss D. Hafner, of Ottawa, enabled the Bethel male quartette, W. Thompson, F. J. Wilson, F. and A. Hafner, to be restored for the day, and they sang two selections. Solos were sung by Miss M. Holland, Miss Wynne Woolgar, Alan Hafner; a duet by Messrs. Fredrick and A. Hafner, and special anthems by the choir, which sang the resurrection fact in song. The evening congregation, too, was very large and the people sang the Easter hymns with spirit.

First Congregational Church.

Very enjoyable Easter services were held in the First Congregational church yesterday. The pulpit platform was decorated with palms and Easter lilies. Appropriate Easter music was furnished by the choir, under the leadership of Miss Bessie Rodgers. At the morning worship the pastor spoke on the subject of "The Resurrection," giving evidence of the "Godly resurrection of the dead," while at the evening service his theme was "Great Men and Immortality." It was noted that nearly all the great men of history, philosophers, scientists and poets had a firm belief in the survival of the human personality after death. At the close of the service, Miss Myrtle King sang Tennyson's "Crossing the Bar," which gives strong and beautiful expression to the poet's faith in immortality.

At Queen Street Methodist Church.

The musical part of the services in Queen Street Methodist church, yesterday, was of a very joyous character. The anthems were rendered in an excellent manner and were very appropriate for the day. Francis Fisher Powers sang the "Resurrection" with great feeling and expression at the morning service. "Easter Dawn" was rendered by Angus Orr, in a very fine voice, in the evening. Mrs. Evans sang "Bethlehem" in her well-known effective manner, and the duet "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," by Mrs. Evans and Mr. Shen, was one of the most appreciated expressions of the whole programme. Rev. Samuel Sellers, pastor, dwelt upon the resurrection of Christ at both services.

Princess Street Methodist Church.

The Easter services, in connection with Princess Street Methodist church, were of a very special character. In the morning the pastor, Rev. F. G. Robinson, gave a sermon to children on the subject of "Good Friday." In the afternoon an open session of the Sunday school was held when addresses were given by John Cleves and Mr. Finlayson. A beautiful choral service was given in the evening, by the choir, when the church was filled to the doors. The anthems and solos were very impressive. The pastor spoke on the text, "Now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept."

Sydenham Street Methodist.

The pastor of Sydenham Street Methodist church, Rev. T. E. Neal, gave an especially good discourse in the morning, to his congregation, his theme being "The Fact of the Resurrection." The choir sang the solo, "O Bells in the Steeple," at both services, Mrs. James Small sang "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," at the morning service. The seven o'clock service was almost entirely musical. The anthems were all well rendered. They were "The Lord is Risen," "My Soul Shall Magnify the Lord," "O Give Thanks unto the Lord," "The Lord Reigneth Not," sung by Miss G. Little, Messrs. Hanley and Herby, Messrs. Savary and With a duck, Watchman, What of the Night." A tenor solo was also very pleasingly sung by J. Harris Jones, of St. Mark's church, Dublin.
