POWER FOR IRELAND

TO PUT UP TARIFF WALL AGAINST DOMINIONS.

But She Must Maintain Free Trade With Britain—New Force to Supplement the Irish Constabulary.

London, Eng., April 8.—The most detailed forecast of the Irish home rule bill that has yet appeared is published on "the highest authority" by the Ulster Guardian, the organ of the Ulster Liberal Association, which has been in close touch with the government in the drafting of the measure.

The Irish legislature, the paper says, will consist of the crown and two houses sitting separately. One, the council, will have forty-eight members, thirty-six to be elected and twelve to be nominated by the crown. Their term of office will be eight years. The other, the assembly, will consist of one hundred and three elected members, and is to be dissolved every five years.

The legislature will have no power to make laws affecting the crown, army, navy, territories, treaties, titles, treason, naturalization, coinage, copyright, patents, the post office (except in Ireland), or trade, except within Ireland.

With regard to finance, for six years the customs and excise will continue under imperial control. All other taxes will be under Irish control, and Ireland will have power to impose additional taxes of her own.

After six years the control of the customs and excise will pass into the hands of the Irish legislature, subject to reversal by the imperial parliament of this provision and subject to perpetual free trade between Britain and Ireland.

The initial deficit in Irish revenue will be supplied by grant in aid, diminishing annually, and terminable in six years.

The Dublin police will be under Irish control. The Royal Irish constabulary will remain under imperial control until a new force, under the control of the local authorities, is established. For six years the supreme court judges will be appointed by the imperial government. The lord lieutenant will be appointed for a fixed term of years.

With regard to safeguards, the Irish legislature will have no power to make laws for the purpose of:

(1) Establishing or maintaining any religious creed or imposing disabilities or conferring privileges on account of religious aims affecting the denominational constitution of national schools and universities;

(2) Impairing the validity of the marriage laws as at present existing; (3) Depriving anyone of life, liberty, or property without process of law in accordance with settled precedents, or denying equal protection of laws or taking property without just compensation, and;

(4) Imposing disabilities or conferring privileges on account of birth, parentage, or place of business.

Ireland will send seventy members to Westminster. The Irish peers will remain as before, pending the reform of the House of Lords. The executive will consist of the crown, represented by the lord lieutenant, acting in Irish affairs with the advice of the Irish cabinet, responsible to the Irish legislature.

The power of restraint on the Irish legislature will be exercised as follows:

(a) Veto by the lord lieutenant on instructions from the imperial parliament;

(b) The imperial parliament can repeal and adjust taxation;

(c) The privy council can declare such an act void.

WEDDED IN WINNIPEG.

Miss Gertrude Asselstine, Formerly of Kingston, the Bride.

WINNIPEG Free Press.—A pretty wedding took place in Grace church, Winnipeg, on Wednesday last, when Miss Gertrude Asselstine, daughter of the late Peter Asselstine, of Kingston, was united to D. W. Adair, of Winnipeg, by Rev. Dr. Eber Crumley. The bride, dressed in a tailored suit of cream, the bodice handsomely trimmed with lacy Irish, and carrying a beautiful bridal bouquet, was given away by her brother, Alexander Asselstine. Miss Clara V. Asselstine, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and was also dressed in cream and carried American beauty roses. Norman Abeinthy, formerly of Kingston, but now of Winnipeg, supported the groom. Mrs. H. Billabough presided at the organ.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sisters, Sherbrooke Apartments. After a short honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Adair will reside at Romona Court, Winnipeg.

The above announcement is of special interest to Kingstomers as the contracting parties, the clergyman performing the ceremony, the organist, and all the guests were former Kingstomers. The bride is a sister of T. M. Asselstine, of this city.

The miners, with the orders of the Miners' Federation on Saturday,

The Lamp Exploded.

Samuel Saunders' home on Brock street was the scene of some excitement on Friday night when one of the residents of the house lit a lamp in the hall, and forgot to put it on the chimney. The lamp blazed for a while and finally exploded. The screams of the young lady who was alone in the house called the attention of a young man who happened to be passing and he threw the burning lamp out of the house. Fortunately no serious damage was done.

STEAMER CAUGHT FIRE; PASSENGERS SAVED

Wireless Signals Responded to—Crew Remains Aboard to Fight the Flames.

New London, Conn., April 8.—With stories of lives saved through bravery and prompt action of Captain Bood and crew, coupled with the efficient working of wireless distress signals, forty passengers of the steamer Ontario from Baltimore to Boston, arrived here at noon to-day on a rescue tug. The Ontario is hard aground on the rocks off Mountauk Point, with fierce fires burning in her hold, and the crew still aboard fighting them. Three revenue cutters and two life boats stand alongside ready to give assistance, if the fight against the flames proves unavailing.

The fire was discovered in the hold at two o'clock this morning. Captain Bood immediately ran his vessel on the rocks and ordered his wireless operator to send distress signals. They were received by the life saving stations on shore, as well as by revenue cutters in coast harbors. Within an hour or two, just in time to prevent a panic among the passengers, a tug arrived alongside and took them off. The fire was then breaking fiercely through the decks.

WANTED TO GET REVOLVER.

Foreigner Went to the Police to Secure Necessary Permit.

A couple of foreigners started the members of the police force on Monday morning, by coming into the station and asking that they be given a permit to secure a revolver.

Some of the bluecoats at once had visitors of a murder case and others regarded it as a case of suicide.

Needless to say the foreigners were not given the necessary permit and they went away disappointed. Just why they wanted to get revolvers was not ascertained, but no doubt they want the same privilege as in their own country.

The Misses Hattie and Minnie Greenwood, Watertown, N.Y., are at home on Wolfe Island for their Easter holidays. They will return to Watertown the first of next month.
