Told In Twilight

The final years in arts, science and medicine of Queen's University, gave a farewell dance in Grant Hall on Friday evening. The guests were received at the entrance to the hall by Principal Gordon, assisted by the patronesses, who were Mrs. W. L. Goodwin, Mrs. E. Ryan and Mrs. James Cappon. On the platform directly opposite the entrance was a large face of the man in the moon, brilliantly lit with electric lights. The numbers of each dance were shown in the eyes. The halls and stairs were cosily arranged as sitting out places. The excellent music was supplied by D. Alcxandra's orchestra, Toronto. Supper was served about midnight in the reading room at quartette tables, each decorated with flowers. The dance broke up shortly after two and the guests voted it one of the very best dances ever held in Grant Hall. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lughart Fairlie, Toronto; Mrs. Austin Gilles, Miss M. Gordon, Misses Dorothy and Margaret Brownfield, Miss Marie Carruthers, Miss Helen Gordon, Misses Hilda and Doris Kent, Miss Lottie Kirkpatrick, Misses Khyllia and Charlie Shortt, Miss Eleanor Minnes, Misses Mamie and Susie Anglin, Miss Nora Macne, Miss Eva Martin, Miss Dora Oldrieve, Miss Florence Elliott, Misses Lillian and Jessie Slater, Miss Edna Aiken, Miss Lillian Mundell, Miss Helen Uglow, Miss Madge Dawson, Misses Eva and Madeline Richardson, Miss Amy Campbell, Palo Alto, California; Miss Margaret Diver, Sarnia; Miss Gladys Burton, Miss Beatrice Birch, Miss Mary Vrooman, Napanee; Miss Wright, Gananoque; Miss Edith Fraser, Miss Jean Duff, Miss Kathleen Ryan, Miss Wilson, Miss M. RAISED THE FLAG

LIVELY TILT AT MEETING OF BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Because Insurance Risk Was Placed With an American Company—Resolution to Make a Change, However, Was Finally Withdrawn.

The fact that the finance committee recommended that a portion of the additional insurance placed on schools be given over to an American company, brought about a lively passage-at-arms between four members of the board of education at a special meeting held on Friday, but the recommendation was passed.

Trustee Meek "started the ball rolling" when he protested against the board giving the insurance over to American companies. He said there were sufficient Canadian and British companies for the board to do business with.

Trustee Lockett was of the same opinion as Trustee Meek, and just no time in seconding a motion put forth by Trustee Meek to have the insurance company struck off the list.

Trustee Henderson, chairman of the finance committee, defended the action of his committee. He said he was just as loyal a British subject as the other members of the board, but pointed out that the company selected was a good one, and that the amount involved was only $1,000, he did not think there should be any objection. He thought the board should be more broad-minded in the matter. He pointed out the vast amount of business Canadian insurance companies were carrying on in the United States. What would the board think if the Canadian companies were deprived of the privilege of doing business on the other side? A Kingstonian was the agent for the company, and as the insurance had already been placed, it would not be advisable to make a change. He would not like to see the board go on record as doing such a thing.

Trustee Roughton pleaded for "a little reciprocity," as he termed it.

Trustee Meek afterwards withdrew his motion, and the matter was dropped.

The management committee presented a recommendation, asking for the transfer of the manual training department, now in the Collegiate Institute, to Macdonald school for the use of the public school pupils, the recommendation being made on the advice of Principal Slater and Inspector Stuart, but the chairman of the committee, A. W. McLean, withdrew the clause, to await a report on the matter from the inspector and principal. These reports will likely be recommended at the next meeting.

On the recommendation of the management committee, Miss Chown and Messrs. Fraser and Hedley, of the Collegiate Institute, teaching staff, were given leave of absence from June 17th to the end of the term, to act as examiners at Toronto.

The property committee was instructed to make an investigation in regard to the amount charged for water by the city for the collegiate and Victoria school during the last quarter. The amount for the collegiate is $41.72, and for Victoria school, $41.12, a great deal more in each case than any other quarter.

On motion of Trustees Meek and Farrell, the management committee was instructed to consider the advisability of increasing the salary of the teachers doing occasional work.

The board listened with keen interest to the report by Trustee Elliott of the annual meeting of the Ontario Education Association recently held in Toronto, and at which he was present,

The Man On Watch.

It looks, says the Lampan, as if Britannia no longer rules the waves. The iceberg is lord of the ocean, in the month of April at any rate.

The Lampan's old friend, Colonel Hunter, seems to be a most trusted man. The Ontario government makes him a deputy sheriff and county magistrate, while the dominion government has thrust upon him the positions of immigration agent and veteran homes issuer. If the authorities at Toronto would just add to the list the post of marriage license issuer, the ex-commander of the famous 47th Regiment of Frontenac would surely be the proudest man in the countryside.

On Friday, two men were sentenced in police court for robbery, and, in view of the punishment that could have been meted out, the Lampan thinks they got off very luckily. This question occurred to him, however:—The law has been satisfied, but the tradesman, from whom the prisoners stole, gets nothing, losing $200. The law is all wrong, the Lampan claims. Would it not have been better to have required these men to have labored and paid back the value of the goods they took. Their prison terms will do them no good.

The Lampan notices that another customs official has been appointed on Wolfe Island, which has now three customs officers. What do these three men do, he would like to know. Only two weeks ago, he read in the town papers that one of Kingston's customs officials had returned from Wolfe Island, where every winter he keeps guard on the border gateway to the island, opposite the cape on the Yankee side. Can the island's three customs officers not hold the fort over there? Or are their positions merely honorary, without pay.

The other morning, the Lampan was out very early, and had occasion to note that there are two or three of the town's merchants who open their stores themselves at seven o'clock. And these tradesmen are procuring, too. The Lampan also noted that some of the older clergymen of the town are early risers, too. One of these he saw sitting contentedly on the window sill of a liquor dispensary, carrying on a friendly conversation, and evidently discussing the question of banishing the bar.
