BAND BOY BURGLARS

COMMITTED THEFT AT ABERNETHY'S SHOE STORE.

Sixteen-year-old Lad Under Arrest.
Confessed That He and Two Other Lads Entered Store—Goods Hidden in Railway Cut.

The sixteen-year-old lad, on remand, having pleaded guilty to entering Abernethy's Shoe Store, and stealing goods, has told how he and two other lads of about his own age planned the burglary and got away with the goods.
He says that he got into the store about eleven o'clock at night and that the three made off with ten pairs of boots. These were hidden at a place known as the "reef cut" on the Grand Trunk track near the outer station. The police have recovered one pair of the missing boots. The lad under arrest says that the boots were taken away from the hiding place by some other party.

Police Constables Bately and Naylor arrested the lad and are further investigating the case.
It will be remembered that entrance was secured to the shoe store by the breaking of a pane of glass at the rear, and at the time of the robbery, as the spaces through which they were forced to crawl, to get into the store, was very small.
The lad who has confessed says that after getting away from the store they hid the stolen plunder under their coats and afterwards took it to the railway tracks to hide.

It would appear from this confession that Kingston has a band of boy burglars at work.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

In Princess Street Methodist Church on Sunday.
The educational services in Princess Street Methodist church, on Sunday, were largely attended. The educational work of the Methodist church was held before the congregation very clearly.
Rev. S. S. Barry, pastor of Queen Street church, preached in the morning, appealing for an education, not so much from the standpoint of making a living but for the building of character, so that God could be glorified through a fully developed intellectuality.
The preacher based his discourse on "That the soul be without knowledge, it is not good"—Proverbs xix-2.
Mr. Selkirk said he hoped the time would come when college graduates will be seen not only in the professions but in the more menial, but nevertheless sacred occupations of life.
In the evening a laymen's platform meeting was held at which the church was filled.
T. F. Harrison dwelt on the absolute necessity of an educated ministry, to preach to what are becoming more and more educated congregations. The college and its part in the preparing of a minister was taken by Prof. W. D. Bonner, of Queen's. He approved of denominational college, where the supervision was the best, and fees lower.
Abraham Shaw covered the educational work of the Methodist church, in a general way, calling for an educated and consecrated ministry.

May Woman's Home Companion.

The May Woman's Home Companion contains a most interesting account of the recent dramatization and staging of Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women." Among the other articles in the number are the following: "Seeing Europe on $2.50 a Day," "A Mother's Account of the Effect of the Boy Scout Movement on Her Son."

CLARENCE STREET RUNAWAY.

A Cab Team Knocked Down a Cart-er's Horse.

John McAuley, undertaker, had an exciting experience on Monday about one o'clock, when the horses drawing the cab of Joseph Sinnott ran away. He was just going to go to Brewer's Mills and was in the cab driving down Clarence Street. In front of Flavel's livery the horses took fright and dashed down the street. When they got to the corner of King street they ran into a cart owned by William Jacobs and knocked the horse over and broke the pole on the cab. Mr. McAuley, when he saw the position he was in, jumped out of the cab and might have been seriously injured.

Mr. Jull, a student from Queen's university, will have charge of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Marmora, during the coming summer.

STRUCK BY A FENDER

GARNET ELLSWORTH PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED.

Was in Act of Getting Stern Line Off Steamer Pierrepont. When Fender Struck Him on the Head.

Struck by a fender, falling off the steamer Pierrepont, Garnet Ellsworth, about twenty years of age, residing on Rideau street, received what was regarded as fatal injuries in an accident, which occurred at the wharf at noon on Monday. The young man was rushed to the General Hospital by James Reid's ambulance, and this afternoon the doctors at the hospital stated that he would not recover. His relatives were summoned to his bedside.

The accident happened just as the steamer Pierrepont came in to the wharf from Cape Vincent. No person appears to know just how the accident happened, but it appears that Ellsworth, who is employed as a carter, ran on to the wharf to catch the stern line of the vessel. As he was in the act of getting the line, one of the fenders fell from the boat and struck him a terrible blow on the forehead, which knocked him unconscious. Later it was found that his skull had been fractured. Men gathered at the wharf, quickly summoned James Reid's ambulance, and every effort possible was made to secure a doctor, but of the half dozen or more doctors who were called, not one could be located, with the result that the young man was rushed to the General Hospital. The high wind prevailing all morning likely had something to do with the loosening of the fender from its place. On stormy days there is always great danger of fenders falling.
Death occurred at 2:45 o'clock. Ellsworth is survived by his wife and child, also his parents and sister.

Steamer Thousand Island Took to Water at Toledo.

Capt. Robert Crawford has returned from Toledo, Ohio, where he witnessed the launching of the steamer Thousand Island, the new steamer of the Thousand Island Steamboat Company, on Saturday morning, at ten o'clock.

The new steamer was christened by Mrs. Parry, wife of Harry Parry, Buffalo, vice-president of the Toledo Shipbuilding Company, and the name was used for the ceremony. Two hours after the launching the two boilers were placed in the vessel, remarkably good time.
The new steamer will be brought to Kingston this week in June. The vessel is of fine construction, and will be a valuable addition to the fleet of the company. Capt. Crawford is well pleased with the new steamer.

Blocked With Ice.

Word has been received in the city that the foot of Wolfe Island is blocked with ice, and it will not likely be clear for a week or more. It takes a north-east wind to blow this ice out. This means that any vessels leaving here would not be able to pass the head of the Welland canal, with the result that navigation will not really open here before the 1st of May.

Marine Notes.

The steamer Port Colborne, which has been in the drydock part of the winter, is lying at the wharf, loading her cargo of cement which she unloaded there last fall. The steamer
