BRIGHT WEDDING DAY AWARDS OF LICENSES PLUMBERS ON STRIKE

OF MISS FLORENCE E. PANNELL, ALFRED STREET.

The Groom Was Alexander S. Campbell, of This City—The Couple Have Gone to Saskatchewan on Their Honeymoon.

"Happy is the bride whom the sun shines on and bright and happy indeed looked the bride of this morning, when Miss Florence Emma Pannell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Stammers Pannell, Alfred street, was united in marriage to Alexander Stuart Campbell, son of Rev. and Mrs. Alexander Campbell, Marsden, Sask. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Frederick Robinson, and the wedding marches were played by Miss Lily Shaw, cousin of the bride, while Miss Edna Singleton sang very sweetly, "O Promise Me."

The bride was given away by her father and looked very dainty in her wedding gown of white satin, with bodice richly trimmed with embroidered lace and pearls. Her only ornament was a pearl and amethyst necklace, the gift of the groom, while her shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley completed a charming tout ensemble.

The drawing-room was prettily decorated with ferns and hydrangeas, while in the dining-room the floral scheme was carried out in carnations, bridal roses and smilax.

After the wedding breakfast, which was served at quartette tables, the bride changed her bridal gown for a travelling suit of navy blue serge with tailored hat of navy straw, trimmed with hand-made roses and touches of shot silk. The young couple left, on the noon train for Edmonton, Alta., where they intend spending some months before returning to take up residence in Kingston.

Lloyd-Richards Nuptials. A pretty wedding took place on Wednesday morning at nine o'clock in St. Andrew street church, when Miss Edith Richards was united in marriage to Harold Lloyd. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. W. Neal. The wedding was attended by a large number of friends of the young couple.

The man consented to drive to the police station, and he was afterwards handed over to the authorities at Rockwood.

Dr. Young and Dr. Scott have left. Dr. Kennedy, the other house surgeon, will remain until the fall, and then it is very likely that Dr. C. Robinson, of Kingston, will take his place.

Roller for Pittsburg. The county steam roller was taken over to Pittsburg on Wednesday morning on the steamer Wolfe Islander. The roller was to have been taken over last fall, but those in charge were afraid to take it over the Barfield bridge, and it then decided to take it by way of Kingston Mills, but those in charge of the Mills bridge refused to allow the roller pass over it.

Wireless Stations. The big navigation companies on the lakes are willing and anxious to equip their steamers with wireless telegraphy, but they point out that it would be worthless without shore stations. These stations should be erected by the government, and at once. Hon. Adam Beck says if the dominion government will build the stations, the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission will supply the power.

At Police Court. In police court, on Wednesday morning, the magistrate, after hearing the facts of the case, in which Dr. Pelletier, a vaudeville artist, charged R. H. Murray with having unlawfully converted his property to his own use, made a settlement. Pelletier claimed that Murray was keeping some of his clothing. The court ordered Pelletier to hand over the sum of $3 to Murray, whereupon he would be given his property.

H. W. RICHARDSON SAYS IT WAS HARD TASK.

Since New Board Took Over Work Local Hotelkeepers Have Been Living Up to Law—Considers Law for Taking Away Licenses in This Way Unjust.

H. W. Richardson, chairman of the board of license commissioners, was asked by the Whig, on Wednesday, for an expression of opinion on the cutting off of the ten licenses.

"The task of the commissioners was rather a hard one," said Mr. Richardson. "I can say that since the new board took over the work all the hotels in the city have been abiding by the laws, in fact I do not know of a place where the laws have been broken, and on this account the cutting off of the licenses made it a hard task indeed."

Mr. Richardson admitted, however, that perhaps there had been an exception where an hotel-keeper had disobeyed the law, but after being fined and given to understand that the laws must be carried out, had complied with them all right.

Speaking of the law itself, for the cutting off of the licenses in this city, after the men had been started up in the trade, Mr. Richardson said that he regarded the law as a very unfair and unjust one. There were men in the liquor trade who had been in it for years, the government was paying its share of the profits, and he did not think that it was right to the men that their license should be cut off. Men had been engaged in the business for so long a time that they were better fitted for this kind of work than anything else. They had invested a large amount of money, and they were practically all they had, and the cutting off of their license would practically ruin them.

Mr. Richardson says that the system is wrong, and that if the men are to lose their license, there should be some compensation for them.

BOSSSES REFUSED TO GIVE IN—CREASE ASKED FOR.

About Twenty-five Men Involved in Strike, Declared Tuesday Night—Thought Early Settlement Will be Made.

Kingston had one labor trouble for the day and that came from the plumbers who went on strike because the boss plumbers refused to give them the increase in wages they asked for recently. The men held a meeting on Tuesday night and as the increase was not forthcoming they decided to go out on strike.

It was stated that there were about twenty-five plumbers out. According to the information given the Whig the men have been receiving $2.55 for eight hours and they are asking for $3 for eight hours. This the bosses have refused but it was stated that all the bosses signed an agreement to give the men $2.75 for nine hours, but that the plumbers refused to accept this offer.

One plumber gave it as his opinion that the boss would decide to give the men $2.75 for eight hours, and if they did he thought that this would be accepted by the men. The Whig asked a leading plumbing establishment as to the effect of the strike on their business.

"We have a lot of work on hand," he replied, "but the regular spring rush is practically over. There has been a great deal of work this spring fitting out the boats but the most of this work has been completed." During last winter the plumbers had the busiest time in many years, owing to the severe cold weather.

The strike of the plumbers is the only labor trouble reported to-day. Everything was reported to be quiet in all other trades.

INSPECTOR STEWART COMING To Conduct Enquiry Into Penitentiary Escapes.

A despatch from Ottawa to the Whig says: Douglas Stewart, inspector of penitentiaries, left, to-day, for Kingston, and will conduct a thorough investigation regarding the escape and recapture of five convicts. It is understood that he will report fully to the minister of justice.

Warden Platt is conducting an investigation, said an official of the department, to-day, and Mr. Stewart will get the particulars as soon as he reaches Kingston.

PAWNING HIS WATCH LEAD TO THE ARREST OF GEORGE HOUSE.

A plain, every day watch assisted materially in the capture of George House, placed under arrest here by Constable James Craig, on a charge of breaking jail at Canton, N.Y. When the local police received a circular about House breaking jail, it contained a note about his watch with the number of the timepiece. The police kept tab on the record books kept by second-hand dealers, and they were given quite a surprise one day when they came across the number on the books corresponding to the number given for the watch owned by House. This fact and the photograph of the man wanted, did the rest.

House has admitted that he broke jail, and while he did not like the idea of going back, he raised no objection. Two constables arrived in the city to-day, and returned to Canton with the prisoner.

House escaped, with another prisoner, from Canton prison, during the latter end of March, but the other convict was at liberty only a few days, when he was captured at Ogdensburg, N.Y., and taken back. House must have headed right for the border, and crossed immediately, as it appears, he has been boarding at a house on Wellington street, near Queen street, since shortly after that time. He conducted himself quite orderly during his stay there, and frequently took short trips out of the city. His money must have got quite low, when he went and pawned his watch.

Some of the convict's friends must have sent him his trunk, as it has been lying at the G.T.R. station for the past few days. About 1.15 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, fifteen minutes before the prisoner was to take the "Cape boat," in charge of the sheriff, on his way back to Canton prison, House said that his trunk was at the station. Constables McCarey and Downey at once started for the baggage room and located the trunk, but the baggage man refused to hand it over unless the prisoner identified it. However, it was too late then for such a course, as the boat left at 1.30 o'clock and Constable Downey secured the keys and opened the trunk. It contained clothes, books and other personal effects, as well as a small "billy," but nevertheless of the kind to be very effective. A receipt was given for the trunk and it was taken to the police station. It will likely be sent to Canton.

What Happened a Quarter of a Century Ago. Capt. John Donnelly, Jr., accused Miss Fay of using electrical appliances in her spiritual manifestations in the opera house. Judge McInure took a hand in the protest; the performance closed abruptly.

DR. PHELAN WAS SPARED Because Desperadoes Declared He Was a Gentleman. It has leaked out from the conversation of the refractory convicts, who escaped from the penitentiary, on Monday, and who are now in the dungeon, that after they had laid out the two guards, Davis and Madden, in the isolation ward, they intended to kill the first man who entered the building, and take no chances on their scheme for escape being discovered. Dr. Phelan being the first man to enter, Bonner said that he and his companions could not bear to injure him, as he is such a fine gentleman, and kind to the prisoners. There is nothing like being popular.

Alderman Carson Robbed. The summer home of Ald. John Carson, at Dead Man's Bay, was recently robbed of a number of articles. Ald. Carson says that he knows who the guilty parties are, but that an account of their parents, he will not prosecute. But if they make another visit to the house, there will be something doing in the police court, added Ald. Carson.

No, He Did Not. Winnipeg Free Press. Major Pechen does not appear to have made a hit with his story of "How I Escaped From the Titanic."
