THE SPORT REVIEW SIN IS LAWLESSNESS

THE FIRST SOCCER GAME OF THE SEASON.

The R.C.H.A. Won From Shipbuilding Company Team by 2 Goals to 1—Other Notes on Sports.

The R.C.H.A. won from the Kingston Shipbuilding company, in the first soccer match of the season, at Barrfield common, Saturday afternoon. This was the first of the exhibition games between these teams and that of the C.L.C. before the league schedule opens with Queen's in the fall. The game finished 2-1 for the soldiers, but the losers led at half-time by 1-0. The R.C.H.A. came back with plenty of gimp in the second period with the sun on their backs and having the advantage of a slight breeze blowing over the common. Both are strong teams, the majority of the players being soccer players of experience from the Old Land. The die has been cast and the followers of this sport will be well catered to this season.

The teams were: R.C.H.A.—Goal, Smith; backs, Tyng, Langshaw; halves, Carey, Sawyer, Campbell; forwards, Hocking, Sparks, Harrison, Clarabutt, Nayer. Referee—A. Jenkins, C.L.C.

Had a Work Out.

The C.L.C. baseball team was out in full force Saturday afternoon, on the cricket field, and had a good work-out under Manager "Bill" Kennedy. The annual meeting and election of officers of the club will be held some evening this week.

Notes on Sports.

Ottawa is ripe for a baseball boom if the capital club makes any sort of a showing in the Canadian league. There will be a revival of C.L.A. lacrosse in the following towns this year, Woodstock, Harriston, Mount Forest, Hastings and Campbellford.

Nap. Lajoie, star second baseman of Cleveland, received injuries while in Chicago with the Naps, which may keep him out of the game all season. He strained his groin.

Cy Young has declared against the sacrifice hit as a strategic move. He classifies the managers who resort to it with the team—one run behind in the hope of tying the score as not among the really great.

The Ottawa Capitals calculate that the triple lacrosse schedule will give all four teams a better chance for the championship instead of handing the team that gets away to a good start an unbreakable hold on the honors. Manager Bowerman, of London, intends to carry fourteen or fifteen men this year and he has a good bunch to choose from between now and June 1st. The practice games are drawing crowds of fans and Bowerman is sizing up the players. He has started to weed out those who are not fast enough for Canadian league company.

GAVE HIM A CLOCK.

Presentation to Constable McCarey on Saturday Night.

A pleasant event occurred at the police station, on Saturday night, at eight o'clock, when the sergeants and men on the force gathered together, and made a presentation to Constable Daniel McCarey, on the occasion of his marriage. He was presented with a fine mantle clock, the presentation being made by the police magistrate, J. M. Farrell. The latter, in a neat address, congratulated Constable McCarey, extended to him his best wishes, and at the same time the magistrate took occasion to say a few words of praise, for the work of the police department. The force, he said, was composed of a fine body of men and both the chief and citizens had good reason to be proud of them.

Princess Street Methodist Church.

Yesterday the fourth quarterly services were held in Princess street, Methodist Church. In the morning, Rev. F. G. Robinson gave a short sermon to the children on the subject of "A Clean Heart." Rev. Joseph Lidstone preached to the adults. Special sacramental service was held in the evening when thirty-five new members were received into the church, and over 100 partook of the sacrament of the Lord's supper.

Gift for Miss Helen McIntyre.

A number of the officers and teachers of Sydenham Street Bible school visited the home of Miss Helen McIntyre, Johnson street, on Saturday evening, and made a presentation. Miss McIntyre for some years past has been the pianist of the school, and has been forced to retire. The members thought they could not let her go without a token of appreciation of her faithfulness, so they presented her with a gold necklace, set with pearls.

A STRONG SERMON IN ST. JAMES CHURCH

By Rev. C. K. Bourne, of Montreal, Who Gave a Most Helpful Discourse Upon the Meaning of Sin.

The sermon preached by Rev. C. K. Bourne, of Montreal, in St. James' church, on Saturday evening, was a strong enunciation of the meaning of sin. So much has the conscience of the modern man been abused that the idea of sin has almost disappeared and a definition of the word has become necessary. The speaker took his lesson from the tempting of Eve in the garden of Eden. The serpent attacked Eve at three points. First, he aroused her pride. Has God set a limitation on you? "Hath God said ye shall not eat?" Second, he allayed her fears, "Ye shall not surely die," and third, he promised her a reward, "For God doth know that in the day that ye shall eat ye shall be as gods knowing good and evil." The result was that Eve had desires contrary to the right she knew, and yielded to those desires. Sin is lawlessness. When you catch your mind working in that way you know you sin. There were two issues of Eve's act. She cast a slur on the Divine character by doubting His word, and she introduced the principle of elevating the human will above the Divine supremacy. A man who gives himself up to evil ways, gets so mixed in his ideas that he calls good evil and evil good. Pilate's satirical question, "What is truth?" showed that in his time religion was so low that there was some doubt just where truth was. Clever men can find new meanings for old words, and it was necessary for Christ to confirm the old Testament truth with His works. Words can be misinterpreted, works cannot be explained away.

Mr. Bourne showed how a choice was finally necessary between good and evil. The time came with Judas when he had to choose between his Lord and his covetousness. He knew which was right, but he had desires and he chose contrary to what he knew. The Jewish authorities knew Jesus was right but he was too popular and their power, position and wealth were threatened, and they chose rather to have Him crucified.

Pilate knew Jesus was innocent but he feared that Jews would report ill of him to Caesar and he would lose his position. He chose between his position and popularity, and the right that he knew, and crucified Christ whom he knew was innocent. The three differ greatly in their condition and situation, but each had desires contrary to the right and chose to yield to those desires. Once in the history of the world, man yielded to this principle and tried to crush Divine supremacy by putting Christ on a cross. Every one who yields to this principle is guilty of this crime. If I hear of a theft and approve it, I am as guilty as the thief. I may not have the courage or skill or the opportunity to be a thief, but my mind with regard to personal property is such that the sin of theft is on me and the mind who yields to its desires contrary to the right is a mind of sin and can never enter heaven any more than oil can mix with water. It has slain the Lord of Heaven and would do so again. Sin is lawlessness and every unrepentant sinner is guilty of the blood of Christ.

AT CALVARY CHURCH.

Congregational College Student Supplying the Pulpit.

Arthur F. Orr, of the Congregational College, Montreal, who is to occupy the pulpit of Calvary Congregational church for the next two months, began duty on Sunday, and large congregations were present at both services.

At the evening service Mr. Orr took for his text, Romans i, 16: "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ." The preacher said that if the gospel was only a record of facts, then it would be useless to us to-day, but this is not the case. Take Christ away from our religion and it is not worth having. What can it do for us? It can do everything. There are men in this city to-day who need the power of salvation. One of the saddest things of it all is the number of people who go to church and come out with nothing more than they took in.

Mr. Orr made a good impression with the congregation.

Six of the Montreal Transportation company's lake steamers arrived at Fort William, loaded grain, and cleared. The steamers Canadian, Gordon and Saskatoon, were among the first to leave, and will discharge in Kingston.

The tug Bartlett cleared with two barges for Port Colborne, will return light from Port Dalhousie, and clear for the canal, with two more barges; the tug Mary will clear to-night for Prescott for oil barge No. 41, on the way to Montreal.

The steamer Windsor cleared from Montreal, on Saturday, to load coal at Charlotte.

Marine men say that it was a unique spectacle that was afforded the people of Port Arthur, on Wednesday last, when practically at the same time, the whole fleet of freighters that had wintered in Port Arthur, left port and cleared under orders for the east. Some regarded it as a naval review.

Swift's wharf: The steamer Belleville cleared westward, Sunday; steamers Hildeau King and Buena Vista cleared, Monday, for Ottawa and Smith's Falls, respectively; steamer Aletha, down from bay ports.

Put Up a Second Time.

William Nolan, Sydenham street, purchased a horse and a cab at Ribby's livery auction sale on Saturday. It is understood that Mr. Nolan will join the cab stand. A dispute arose over the horse which Mr. Nolan finally secured for $128. It was at first knocked down for $115, but through some misunderstanding, both Mr. Nolan and Patrick Driscoll claimed the animal. To settle the matter, it was bid for again.

Two Nanapan twelve-year-olds ran away from home and were caught in Belleville.
