HOME RULE MEASURE A NURSE'S MISTAKE

PASSES SECOND READING IN BRITISH COMMONS.

John Redmond Claims That Irishmen are Well Able to Manage Their Own Affairs.

London, May 10.—The second reading of the home rule bill passed in the House of Commons late last night by a vote of 372 to 271.

The vote was reached after a long storm of oratory, interspersed with interruptions and one or two exciting incidents by occupants of the crowded galleries.

John Redmond, in opening the debate, said he thought the justice of the claim of Irishmen to manage their own affairs was now generally conceded.

"Underlying the speeches of the unionists during the debate," said the Irish leader, "there has been a suspicion that having obtained their great charter of liberty the Irish people would prove themselves a nation of fools and at once set to work to wreck and ruin their own constitution." This idea Mr. Redmond controverted at great length.

Mr. Chaplin contended that the bill had not been considered by the electorate. He regarded the bill as dangerous both to the interests of Ireland and to Great Britain.

T. W. Russell, although opposing the previous home rule bill, said he would support the present one, as there had been an extraordinary change since 1886.

Ramsay MacDonald, the labor leader, said that the Protestants of Ulster were beginning to discover there was far more of economics than of religion in the agitation of ascendancy over Catholics, but over labor.

KILLS BOY AND THEN SHE KILLS HERSELF.

Overdose of Cocaine in Hospital Costs Two Lives—A Disaster in a Berlin Hospital.

Berlin, May 10.—A mistake in the preparation of an anaesthetic at the Great Charite hospital, here, has cost two lives. This week a schoolboy named Rieger, fourteen years of age, was brought by his mother to the hospital on account of a throat affection. He was found to be suffering from adenoids, and the physicians decided that his tonsils must be removed.

Cocaine was administered to deaden the pain. Owing to a mistake made by the nurse, Gertrude Wanger, a solution of cocaine much stronger than needed was injected. The boy almost immediately threw up his arms and fell back dead.

The distress of the unhappy nurse was so terrible that her own sister—also a nurse—was ordered to keep her under observation to prevent her from committing suicide. Meanwhile the mother who was awaiting the result of the operation, had to be told. She fell into such terrible hysterics that the nurse was obliged to leave her sister Gertrude for a moment in order to help the doctors with Frau Rieger. Gertrude took advantage of the moment of freedom to inject a fatal dose of cocaine and half an hour later was dead.

Had to Pay Cabman.

At a special session of the police court, Thursday afternoon, the Belleville officer, who had trouble with W. C. Randall, cab driver, over a fare to the Kingston penitentiary, was ordered to pay the amount due the cabman, $2. The sheriff claimed that on all his other visits to the city, he only had to pay $1 for his trip, to the penitentiary with prisoners. He did not at all wish to escape paying the amount, but it was merely a misunderstanding. It was pointed out that the cabman was within his rights, in ordering the payment of the $2 and the officer paid over the amount.
