The TITANIC and The TRAVELERS

The Travelers had at risk on passengers more than a million dollars of accident insurance. A larger amount by far than any other company and the usual tribute of selection of companies shown by representative insurers.

Could a greater testimonial of confidence be paid to any company than is evidenced by this fact.

What the travelers has done for those lost on the Titanic, it is able to do for every man in his time of need.

The Travelers, the oldest and greatest accident company, with ample resources tested by this and other calamities, its policies broad, complete and certain, guarantee that your interests are safe.

He says that the banquet held by the old boys was a grand success and he laid in his praise for the way in which he was entertained while a guest of the members.

The affair was held in the Engineers' Club, and Courtland Strange presided. Upwards of fifty guests were present. Mayor Hoag and Prof. Adam Shortt were guests of the evening, and both delivered interesting addresses. The former gave some early history of Kingston, and referred particularly to the great men mentioned by the name of Macdonald, Cartwright, Kirkpatrick, and many others.

FELL INTO THE WATER.
 Accident to an Old Man on Catarqui Bridge.

Owing to failure to properly protect the place where the stone walk led in at Catarqui bridge a few weeks ago, a man by the name of Knight fell into the water there on Wednesday morning at four o'clock. It is not known how the accident happened but it is thought that he must have been standing against the planks at that place and that they gave away, letting him fall into the water. He was noticed by a couple of soldiers at Tete de Pont barracks and they went to the scene. In the meantime a call was sent for R. J. Reid's ambulance and the injured man was removed to the general hospital. It is very fortunate that the man was not drowned. The water is not very deep at the spot.

The men who found the old man just got him out in time because as they were taking him out of the water another part of the wall fell closely.

This wall should be repaired before any more accidents occur or perhaps the city may be liable for damages.

The old man received a number of bad bruises and it is thought that he sustained a dislocated shoulder. The X rays will be used and his injuries located.

This is the second accident that has happened at this point within a short time.

THE 14TH REGIMENT.
 The Companies Had Good Turnouts Tuesday Evening.

Three companies of the 14th P.W.O. Rifles drilled at the armories, Tuesday evening, all having good turnouts. It is expected that all the companies will show up well at the battalion parade on Friday evening. Lieut. A. B. Cunningham, who has been in Red Deer, Sask., for the past few weeks, will likely resume command at that parade. In his absence, the second in command, Maj. C. A. Low, has been in charge.

Already the men are enquiring where the annual outing is to be this year, and there is a feeling that they would like a trip of the same nature as last year to Niagara Falls, where they were free for two days. Though the heat was intense, all had a capital time.

The regiment going into camp at Hartfield on June 6th has also been the subject of conversation among the citizen soldiers. A number are in favor of the idea, but the great drawback with the majority is they will be unable to be relieved from their posts at business and work.

PREPARING FOR EXERCISE
 Of New Grand Trunk Railway Freight Sheds.

All the houses bought by the company on Wellington street are now a thing of the past. The old Angrove foundry has also been torn down. All the buildings were of brick, and considerable trouble was experienced in taking them down as they are so well built. The bricks that are in the buildings are all being saved. It is expected that the work of putting up the new building will be commenced very shortly.

Hodgins looked over the steamer Jessie Bain, the small steamer owned by the Thousand Island Steamboat company. If the Napanee people cannot purchase a small steamer this season they will likely construct one next winter.

Lecture by Dr. Lake.
 The young people of Union street Baptist church had a treat on Tuesday evening when Dr. E. Lake delivered a lecture in their Sunday school on the Rideau and Ottawa. Dr. Lake illustrated his talk with about two hundred hand colored lantern views of the places of interest in Ottawa and along the Rideau. He started his talk by dealing with Ottawa and the vicinity and making an interesting trip up the Rideau, touching Brewer's Mills and Jones' Falls on the way. He told many interesting things about these beautiful scenes and showed some especially fine pictures of water reflections. The lecture was greatly appreciated by the young people and was full of entertainment and instruction.

Wireless Compass Invented.
 A wireless, or radio-compass, has been invented by two Italian naval officers. Its principal use is in determining the bearings of a ship before being at sea. The purpose of the wireless compass is to point out the exact direction from which wireless impulses are being received, and, if the impulses from each lighthouse are tuned to a distinctive frequency, so that it will be impossible to mistake one for the other, it becomes a simple matter, through knowing the exact direction from which the signals proceed to determine the position of the ship. The "wireless" compass once its frequency is tuned to a given pitch, indicates automatically, by means of a pointer in what direction the signal station lies.
