THE 14TH REGIMENT

HAD ITS FIRST TURNOUT ON FRIDAY EVENING.

Owing to the Wet Grounds it did Not Drill at Cricket Field—Regiment Will be Well Represented at Camp.

The first battalion drill of the 14th Regiment, P.W.O. killed, held Friday evening, was very satisfactory, for the initial turnout. There were nearly 250 men on parade, including the bands and signalling section. Owing to the unfavorable weather for the past two days, the march out was called off, and the companies were separately instructed in the armories. The recruits in the ranks were conspicuous, but the members of the "awkward squad" are getting some of the rough edges worn off. A number were sworn in after parade. Maj. C. A. Low was in command. The next battalion drill will be held Monday evening at the cricket field, when, it is expected, Lieut.-Col. J. B. Cunningham will have returned from the west, and resumed command.

At a meeting of the officers, held after parade, the question of the camp was discussed. Some of the companies almost as a whole, have signified their intention of going under canvas, and it is expected when the men really understand the conditions under which they go, the regiment will be well represented. The regiment marches in on Thursday evening, June 6th, and the instruction will terminate at that time for the present season. Their business and work the following Monday morning, so that they will only be absent from their occupation, Friday and Saturday. Sunday, it is understood, a drumhead service will be held at the camp, with the other city regiments under canvas at that time. The extra pay allowance is very liberal. Each company will mess separately, and everything will be done to make this new feature in the season's training enjoyable, as well as instructive.

One of the company captains brought up the question of the regiment purchasing a new plan regarding the handling of uniforms, and that was to allow the men to hold their outfits the year round, instead of returning them to their company armories at the conclusion of the drill season yearly, and receiving them again the following spring. A good deal was said both pro and con on the question. A committee was appointed, composed of the quartermaster and the company commanders, to deal with the question, and, if feasible, carrying it on to the proper superior authorities. The present system involves no small amount of work on the officers. Several other regiments throughout the country use the proposed system regarding the uniforms.

The feeling among the officers, which is not altogether new, but was voiced at Monday evening's meeting, is that in order to develop the social side of regimental life, a club room should be provided for each company, where the men could gather the year round and enjoy themselves. At the present time every available cubic foot of the armories is occupied, and the solution of the problem from this quarter appears rather hopeless. However, a move will be made in the matter.

GAVE WHIG A LEMON.

But it Was the Real Thing, and a Beauty.

John Ferguson, of Inverary, was in the city on Saturday and while making a call at the Whig handed the business office a lemon. No, dear reader, not the kind so often spotted about on the street, but a real, live lemon, of the acid flavor, and a beauty at that. It is now on exhibition in the Whig office.

The lemon weighs half a pound and was grown by Mr. Ferguson in his own house. The plant is two years old and was in bloom at Christmas. It is full sized, as large as two ordinary lemons, and was picked on Friday. The tree is eighteen inches high, and there are six lemons and additional blossoms.

The flavor of the lemon is excellent, and will rank first-class with any of its kind. Mr. Ferguson also has an orange tree which last year bore good fruit. He is to be congratulated upon his success in this particular line.

PROF. NICOL'S REPORT.

School of Mining Tested the New Coins.

Prof. William Nicol, of the School of Mining, is one of a commission of three that have sent the minister of finance a detailed report regarding an examination of a package of coins from the Ottawa mint. The analysis goes into detail and the report says: "We ascertained that the number of coins in each packet produced to us corresponded with the number which the officers of the mint represented it to contain. Details are given as to the weighing, melting and assaying of both silver and copper coins."

THE SPORT REVIEW

VICTORIAS PREPARING FOR NEXT SATURDAY'S GAME.

They Will Miss Cotman and Davidson—Notes About Baseball and Other Sports.

The Victoria baseball team is practicing faithfully for its opening game with C.I.C., a week from today. The team this season will be short a couple of the last year's men. Cotman and Davidson are the missing members. Substitutes have yet to be found. "Shorty" Dick, who played on the team a few years ago, will probably be behind the bat again. Gillespie is playing a good game, and he will keep the C.I.C. fellows guessing as he has always done in the past.

Sunday School A.A.A. Executive.

A meeting of the executive of the Sunday school A.A.A. has been called to meet, Saturday evening, to try and make some arrangements for the season. Each team already entered should have two representatives at the meeting. Any team that desires to enter should also send two representatives to the meeting.

City Baseball League.

A meeting of the City Baseball League has been called for Monday evening. Certificates of the players should be handed in at this meeting. Victorias will practice at the cricket field on Monday evening and C.I.C. will practice there, Tuesday evening.

Mercantile Baseball Trouble.

The Sunday school baseball league last year had a couple of stormy sessions over the same question as faced the Mercantile league at its meeting Wednesday evening, and that was the barring of city league players from playing in the scheduled games of the Mercantile league. The Sunday school league did not go quite as far as to keep all city league men out, but barred them figuring in the battery. But the Mercantile league decided to "prohibit" all senior league men.

There is a good deal to be said on both sides, for and against the motion, but certainly in the Sunday school league, last year, some lively scenes were brought out, while others they would never have caught in place on the teams, more expert men holding down the positions. On the other hand, probably the class of ball played was not up to the standard of the previous year.

The Live Coals feel quite strongly in the matter, and will likely drop out of the Mercantile league for this season.

League Baseball on Friday.

Notes on Sport.

King George of England has become a patron of boxing, and Buffalo has sold Catcher Harry Smith to the Richmond club.

They will be carried by Jersey City as a pinch hitter and base runner.

The Duke of Connaught is an honorary patron of the Ottawa cricket club.

As base stealers Rochester lead the other teams, having pilfered 42 bases. Toronto next with 39 and New Jersey third with 33.

Corkey, of Toronto, has had feet and legs from working over the hard English roads. He starts in the Polytechnic Marathon Saturday.

Walter Rutt, the German racer is heralded as the greatest six day rider that ever lived. He won the recent Berlin and Brussels races, and also finished first in one of the recent Madison Square Garden contests.

They will begin to forget Mathewson if this winning streak of Rube Marquard's continues. "The lemon that McGraw bought" is certainly coming back to the fans in New York who started the roar in that big city.

Napoleon Lajoie has one remarkable record which no other batsman can show. He hit 228 per cent. on no less than three occasions, in 1886, 1898 and 1906, and hit .355 per cent. on two different years, 1903 and 1906.
