Torpid Liver in the Spring

In the spring both the liver and kidneys are overworked in an effort to remove the poisonous impurities which accumulate in the system during the winter and in overcoming the trying effect of the changing temperature. Once the liver gets sluggish and torpid, there are all sorts of troubles with the digestive system. Sour stomach, flatulence, wind on the stomach, acute indigestion, irregularity of the bowels and bilious headache are among the symptoms. The liver must have assistance. The process of restoration will be hastened if the kidneys are also invigorated and strengthened, for on these two organs depends entirely the purification of the blood. Both these filtering organs are acted on directly and promptly by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. For this reason there is no treatment which will more quickly rid the blood of poisonous waste matter than this great prescription of Dr. Chase. Put it to the test this spring and escape the tired, languid feelings consequent on a poisoned system.

The seeding of grain in some cases was late, owing to rain, which will leave it late in being harvested. However, if we have it fine from now on, the hay will drain off and I do not think grain will be much damaged, unless the rain continues. Orchards, small fruits, strawberries, etc., are looking fine. The acreage sown to buckwheat will be larger owing to lateness of the season. In some cases the land where flooded will have to be seeded again, but should the frost keep off and we have no more long spells of rain the crop will be abundant growth of hay and grain where it is not flooded is very rapid.

THE VOGUE OF THE SCALLOP.

Everything that can be scalloped is scalloped this spring, and especially dainty in filmy materials are these scalloped effects. Embroidered cream net forms the tunic, and there is a smart little coat of cream lace, pleated net frills being set at neck and sleeve edge of the underbodice. A changeable violet and cream sash and cluster of violets give a dainty color touch, and the skirt, in dancing length, reveals, when lifted, pretty boots of cream satin with rhinestone buttons.

Guelph, Arthur Emberley, of McDonald College, is home. The Kaiser's Daughter. Before setting out for Vienna and Venice, William H. Emperor of Germany, awaited at Berlin his daughter, whom he calls his "best boy". She returned from Switzerland, where she made, according to the official version, a sojourn for health. The gossip of the German court says this was responded: "I shall occupy myself with this alliance after the others." It is now said that this marriage can never take place, as the Grand Duke has withdrawn from the field. The Kaiser has taken the princess to Italy, and travel sometimes changes one's ideas.—La Cri de Paris.
