OVER HALF A CENTURY LLOYD-GEORGE ACTIVE

REV. CANON E. LOUCKS HAS SERVED IN MINISTRY.

His Ordination Took Place in the Cathedral at Quebec—He Entered Upon His 55th Year in the Work This Week.

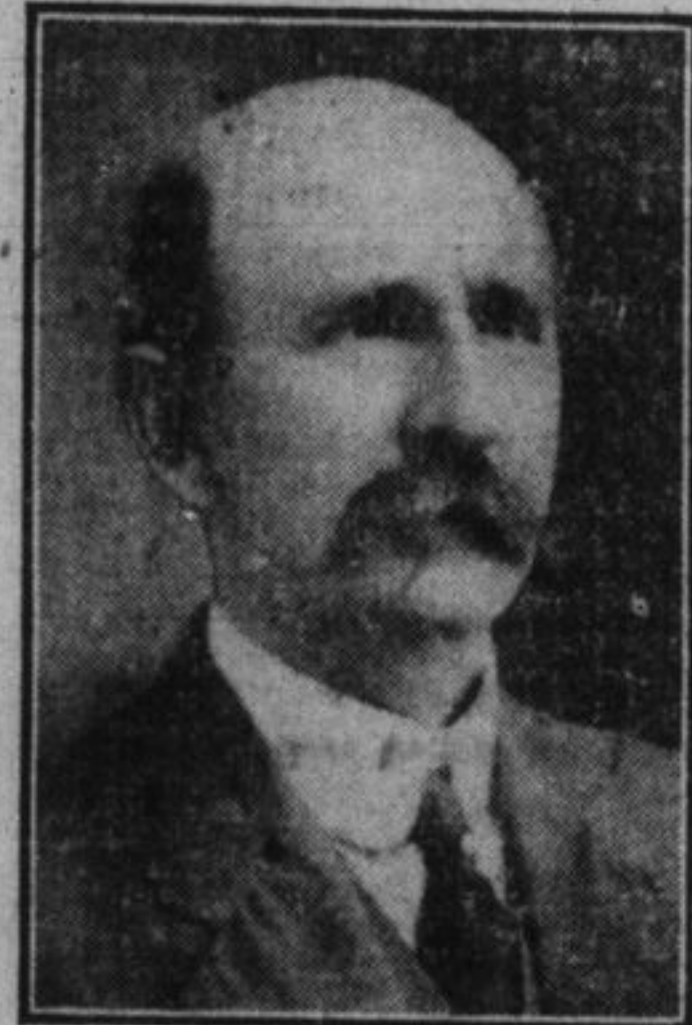

A service of over half a century in the ministry, is the record of Rev. Canon E. Loucks, of Kingston, a record which anyone might well be proud of. On Thursday, of this week, Canon Loucks entered upon the fifty-fifth year of his ministry, and although now in his eighty-third year, he is an active worker in the Anglican church.

Canon Loucks was born in Canada, and was ordained in May, 1858, by Rev. Jehoshaphet Mountain, D.D., L.L.D., lord bishop of Quebec, in the cathedral, at Quebec. He was appointed to the charge of the parish of Lennoxville, where Bishop's College is situated, in the diocese of Quebec. His next appointment was that of vicar of Christ church, Ottawa. Afterwards he was appointed to the rectory of Williamsburgh, county of Dundas, and later to the rectory of Pictou, Prince Edward county. In the latter charge he served twenty-nine years and nine months, in active work. His work in the parish was ably conducted. It is of interest to note, that when he took over this charge, he found sixty communicants, and when he left he had 279.

While in Pictou, Canon Loucks officiated at the funeral service of 537 people.

In November, 1903, he was taken ill with heart trouble, and it was in the autumn of this year that he retired from this charge. Canon Loucks is still rector of Pictou, and occupies the position of one of the canons of St. George's cathedral, Kingston, of which he was the early part of 1905, up till the present time, he has taken charge of no less than eight different parishes. On Sunday morning he will conduct a service in St. Paul's church, in this city. He is remarkably well, and very active for a man of his advanced years, and it is the wish of his many friends that he may be spared for many more years to serve in his noble calling.

Canon Loucks resides at 251 Barrie street. He has a son, in the Anglican ministry, with a charge at Ottawa.

W. C. McDONALD, First governor of the state of New Mexico.

The Only Resource Left.

T.P.'s Weekly. "We wives think too much of our husbands," said Mrs. Pankhurst, in fun, to a friend recently. "It reminds me of Madame de Girardin, the gifted French woman, who had an immense opinion of the political wisdom and genius of her husband, the celebrated Emile de Girardin. One day, during a political crisis, two friends, both of the political world, called to visit her. They talked earnestly and rather gloomily of the situation, and at last one of them remarked that nothing now could save France "but Him who is above."

"Then," she exclaimed, eagerly, "hadn't I better call him down?" Madame de Girardin assumed that the allusion must be to her husband, who was writing in his room on an upper floor.

Y.M.C.A. at Military Camp.

The Y.M.C.A. will, as formerly, have charge of their tent at Barrie field camp in June. S. S. Shepherd, general field secretary, will superintend the affair, and J. A. Kneale, general secretary, of Orillia, will have charge of the local Y secretaries. Rev. A. P. Mershon will lead the evening gospel meetings. The local institution will extend its usual free privileges to the boys under canvas.

Penitentiary Bonuses.

On Saturday morning W. S. Hughes, penitentiary accountant, received from Ottawa a large number of cheques for $100 each, which were made out in favor of all officers and guards at the penitentiary who receive under $1,000 a year in salary or wages. This $100 is the bonus passed by the commons recently.

Carpenters Confering.

The carpenters held a conference in Labor hall, on Saturday morning, to decide what terms they could come to with the bosses. The men say they will accept $3 a day for two years.

The garrison will line up at Macdonald Park to fire a royal salute and a feu-de-joie, at twelve o'clock on Monday. There will be a battery on each side of the tower, the infantry in line, with R.M.C. cadets on right, to the north-west of and facing the tower.

"Ice cream bricks," Gibson's. Ernest F. Staples, farmer, near Buffalo, shot his wife dead, dangerously wounded his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fillmore Brown, and committed suicide. W. H. Mevlin, a fraternal organizer, is missing from Toronto. There are many requiring persons. "Ice cream bricks," Gibson's.

REPRESENTS AN INSULT FROM A DUKE.

Who are the Robbers of God—Not the Government nor the Welshmen—The Hands of Certain Persons Dripping With the Fat of Sacrifice.

London Chronicle.

During Mr. Lloyd's speech he was subjected to a number of interruptions which finally culminated in the following:

Lord Hugh Cecil—What are the Welsh county councils going to do with the tithe. (Opposition cheers.)

Mr. Lloyd-George said that the Welsh county councils would discharge the obligations of any trust imposed upon them more honestly than those who had gone before them. (Ministerial cheers.) He said the Duke of Devonshire had described the bill as robbery of God. (Opposition cheers.) Did he know—of course, he knew—that the foundations of his fortune lay in sacrilege? (Ministerial cheers.) He now enjoyed the property which was stolen from the church. (Renewed ministerial cheers and opposition interruptions.)

Mr. Rupert Gwynne (C., Eastbourne): It's easy to attack a man who is not here to defend himself. (Opposition cheers.)

Mr. Lloyd-George—Can the hon. gentleman deny a single statement I have made? (Ministerial cheers.)

Mr. R. Gwynne—I say the Duke of Devonshire is not here to defend himself.

Mr. Lloyd-George—I challenge the hon. member to point to a single statement I have made which is not true. (Ministerial cheers.)

Lord Hugh Cecil—The right hon. gentleman has been speaking for a very long time, and during the last—(loud ministerial cries of "order" and opposition cheers.)

Mr. Lloyd-George—I will give way if the noble lord wishes to correct any statement I made, but it is impossible to carry on the debate when he gets up to make interjections and interruptions. (Ministerial cheers.) I listened to his speech for an hour without interruption.

Lord Hugh Cecil—It was not a speech of this character. (Opposition cheers.)

Mr. Lloyd-George: I think he might allow some one else to praise his oratory. (Ministerial cheers and laughter, and opposition cries of "Oh.")

Sir A. Griffith, Boscawen, (C., Dudley): Limehouse.

Mr. Lloyd-George: I have been elected to come here by people who rejected the honorable gentleman. I was elected by the people who knew me best, while he was rejected by those who knew him best. (Ministerial cheers and laughter.) He has no right to make discourteous interruptions. Here is a charge which is brought against a nation, a charge of theft, of larceny. Am I not entitled to investigate the charge? (Loud ministerial cheers.) Nay, more than that. When a charge of felony is brought against a criminal he is given the right by law to challenge the panel of the jury, and that is what I am doing. (Renewed cheers.) And I say that charges of this kind brought against a whole people whose family trees are laden with the fruits of sacrilege. (Loud ministerial cheers.) I am not only complaining that their ancestors did it, but they are still in enjoyment of some of the property, and they are subscribing out of that property to leaflets which attack us and call us thieves. (Cheers.)

What is their story? Look at the whole story of the pillage at the reformation. They robbed altars, they robbed the poor, they robbed the dead. (Loud ministerial cheers.) Then they come here, when we are seeking, at any rate, to recover some part of this pillaged property for the poor, to whom it was originally given, and they venture, with hands dripping with the fat of sacrilege, (Loud and prolonged ministerial cheers and opposition counter cheers and laughter) —to accuse us of robbery of God! The chancellor was allowed to finish his speech in quiet.

LAYING NINE SIDINGS

FOR THE NEW GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY FREIGHT SHEDS.

Two are Already Completed—How the Old Buildings on the Grounds Were Disposed of.

The Grand Trunk company has a large gang of men at work near the bay market, where nine sidings are being laid to where the new freight sheds will be built. Two are already completed and the rest will be down in about a week's time. The company will begin building as soon as the place is cleared of the old buildings. The buildings, fences, etc., on the property, bought by the G.T.R. for the erection of the new freight sheds, were sold by them to Watts & Peters for $600. They included Angrove's old foundry, built of brick, two double houses, built of brick veneer, and one single house. The purchaser had to dispose of the buildings to clear the land. He dismantled the houses and sold the one on the corner of Wellington and Ordnance streets for $70, and the one next to it for $75, to Norman & Webb. They are moving the corner house up to the vacant lot on Bartrack street, just above Wellington, and on Friday night, it was left in the street about half way up the block. The second house they sold for $150 and it will also be taken away. The third house was bought by Contractor Jenkins and was found to be in such a condition that it cannot be moved. It will be torn down, the lumber it contains.

Frank Dechaine, about forty-five years of age, was found dead in his room at the Parker hotel, Montreal, on Friday $279 in cash was found on the body. Nothing is known of the man. If Canada will co-operate the season on the great lakes will be extended to January 1st. The insurance underwriters will agree if governments will maintain services.
