HOT TIMES IN THE WEST.

Mr. Haultain, Mr. Borden's man Friday, and the advertised lackey of the federal minister in the Saskatchewan election, is getting audacious.

connection with them have been published. "On most of the other lines," says the Leader, "construction is well under way."

NONE OF HIS MONKEYING.

The Brantford Courier is annoyed with Mr. White, the finance minister, and expresses itself in this way: "The Courier is out and out for protection, and is proud of it."

freedom from all political influence, he has acted, but without due reflection as to the meaning of this action. He may be excused on the ground that he could not, with his limited service in office, realize the real significance of his tariff-revision.

A VERY GRAVE SCANDAL.

An example was certainly made of the liquor dealer who sold an alcoholic beverage to a mere boy, a member of a corps in camp, and under circumstances that could not be justified.

was made about him it was found that he had enlisted for camp service. This is an outrage which should not be tolerated.

THE SOURCE OF POWER.

The Toronto World demands a session of parliament to revise the tariff on certain particulars, and to do it very effectively. But the members of the government have scattered and there is no hope of a session.

some rash things already, under orders-council-it has given indeed, some idea of what would happen, spasmodically or suddenly, under a tariff commission which would be the implement of the government and under its domination—and it is not desired it shall do rasher things.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The manufacturers were never so much agitated as they are now. They are afraid of Mr. White. Not that they think he would do anything to hurt them, but he lacks in experience.

spectors, under orders from Mr. Rogers, minister of the interior, are promising that the settlers will not have to pay certain pre-emption taxes. Through the mail these settlers are being notified that they must pay. Mr. Rogers is thus playing the gay deceiver.

tribute to the uniqueness of the late Judge Mabey.

The Australian who spoke at an English meeting, in reference to Canada, had the correct idea. This country is forever talking of what it is going to do for Britain, and yet does nothing.

"Paper towels," 10c. package, "Gibson's." The British commons, by 274 to 50, passed a motion bringing in the new franchise bill, establishing manhood suffrage, abolishing plural voting and university constituencies.
