The law-abiding residents of Markland street and Raglan Road complain of the noise made in the early morning by a number of dogs which bark and fight. The owners are invited to keep their canines in the woodshed. There is no need of them trying to rival the roosters.

Fought Over a Girl.

About 8.30 o'clock, Tuesday evening, the residents of Stuart street, below University avenue, were "treated" to a pugilistic encounter. A large automobile, containing three young men, stopped at a lawn, and two of the fellows got out and began to pound each other, having had a dispute over a young lady. Residents came to the scene and separated the contestants, telling them to go over to Queen's campus and settle their dispute there.

ASK FOR MORE MONEY

TO GIVE BAND CONCERTS IN THE PARKS.

The 14th Regiment Musicians do Not Care to Give Five Concerts for the Small Sum of $150.

The 14th band, it is said, may not give any concerts in the parks this summer. The bandsmen are objecting because their allowance has been cut down by the city. The city allow each band $150 for five concerts. This is equal to thirty dollars a concert and if thirty men turn out this is $1 a man for each concert. The men claim that to turn out to two practices and a concert means three whole evenings for one dollar. They feel that the time and money they have spent on their training ought to count for something and the remuneration of one dollar for three nights is rather insufficient.

The city parks committee holds that if the R.C.H.A. band can give the concerts for this price, the 14th ought to. This, however, is not a fair deduction, the 14th bandsmen claim, as the R.C.H.A. men are paid to study music and practice music, that their concert money is a side line. The 14th men further claim that they were never as poorly paid as last year, when they did not make a dollar each a concert; and they are not anxious to plunge into such a poor bargain again.

Fingers of the Blind.

Chicago News.

Jacob W. Bolotin, though blind from infancy, will complete a course in medicine in the Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery this month, and intends to follow the practice of medicine as a profession. He laughs at his handicap and says: "There wasn't a nerve, a sinew, a vein, an artery, a tissue that the eye could behold, but I could feel with the tips of my fingers. My fingers are as good as eyes. With them I can detect pulsations, irritations, and temperatures instantly.

Given Week in Jail.

An aged man, who has had a good time, at the House of Providence, but who prefers to roam about, and go to the institution just when it pleases him, was gathered in by the police on a charge of vagrancy, and in police court, Wednesday morning, as he would not promise the magistrate that he would return to the institution and remain there, he was sentenced to one month in jail. Three drunks were fined.

CATTLE WERE KILLED

By Lightning on Amherst Island on Sunday Morning.

Stella, June 17.—A severe electrical storm passed over Amherst Island on Sunday morning. Five head of cattle belonging to Mrs. James Fleming and a yearling colt belonging to Mrs. D. Shaw, all in the 3rd concession, were struck by lightning and killed. The rain which fell on Sunday was welcomed by all the farmers. Owing to so much cold weather hay and grain will be late in harvesting. Quite a large crowd from here attended the circus in Kingston on Friday.

James Findlay suffered a stroke of paralysis on Thursday last. He is slowly improving. At J. McKee's barn-raising some time ago G.
