A Willetts Presentation.
Willetts, June 28.—On Thursday evening, June 13th, the regular meeting of the Woodburn Women's Missionary Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. William Campbell. The meeting was well attended and a good programme was given by several of the members. The active members of this auxiliary number but eleven and yet during the year, which was a most prosperous one, they raised over $50 for missionary purposes. Much of the credit was due not only to the untiring efforts of the officers but to the beloved wife of the esteemed pastor, Rev. J. H. McConnell, B.D. As this was the first appearance of Mr. and Mrs. McConnell before their departure for Lachute, as a token of appreciation of their services, the members of the Auxiliary presented her with a beautiful silk parasol and wished her God-speed in her future work. Mrs. McConnell modestly but earnestly replied, thanking the Auxiliary for the gift and stating that what she had done was with an eye single to the Master's glory.

Scenes of Horror.

The rescue work was carried on under the greatest difficulty. The city was in darkness, telephone, telegraph and street-car wires were tangled in the wreckage and threatened more lives; incipient fires broke out, and above all was the confusion and uncertainty regarding the killed and wounded. All through the long, dreary night lanterns flashed and fire over the mass of wreckage. It was a night of horrors, and strong, rough men used to facing and dealing with big problems broke down under the strain and sobbed at little children, and beautiful women were carried from the wreckage to their last earthly resting place. Young, old, rich and poor united in the work of rescue. Premier Scott, whose home was wrecked, joined with the humblest citizen in trying to bring order out of chaos. Between five and six hundred families are homeless. Between two and three thousand people wandered about the city all night. The city is without telephone service, as the telephone building collapsed burying a dozen girls in the wreckage, one of whom will die from her injuries. In addition, all electric and telephone wires are down, street cars are at a standstill and business of every nature has been suspended.

Ottawa Awaits Particulars.

Ottawa, July 2.—The Dominion government is ready and willing to do all in its power to come to relief of sufferers by the Regina cyclone, but it cannot get any data upon which to act. The acting premier has been deluged with telegrams from England, Scotland and Ireland, asking for details and the names of any "old country" victims. The executive of the St. John's Ambulance Association met this morning and decided to send Major Birnie, who is in Regina to supervise the work of relief.

A NEW PANNER MODEL FOR SUMMER WEAR.

There are several modish features in this little Paris frock designed for summer restaurant wear. The material is washable silk in pale blue and white stripe, and delicate hand embroideries in blue add to the delicateness. The skirt has a very moderate panner drapery at the sides and at the front there is an inverted pleat which gives extra width. The quilting of blue ribbon at the foot is a pretty and practical notion.

Timely Aid

When one's digestion is "out of fix" a good straightforward test of food is worth much.

Many who have suffered from stomach trouble have discovered that a dish of and cream is not only easily digested, but actually assists in the digestion of other food.

Grape-Nuts

The power of proper food—the kind the stomach will digest, and at the same time yields nourishment—is almost unlimited.

THE BEST TEACHER.

Experience still holds the palm. For real practical reliability, and something to swear by, experience—plain old experience—is able to carry a big load yet without getting swayed. A So. Dak. woman found some things about food from Old Experience, a good, reliable teacher. She writes: "I think I have used almost every breakfast food manufactured, but none equal Grape-Nuts in my estimation. "I was greatly bothered with weak stomach and indigestion, with formation of gas after eating, and tried many remedies for it but did not find relief. "Then I decided I must diet, and as if I could overcome the difficulty that way. My choice of food was Grape-Nuts because the doctor told me I could not digest starchy food. "It has been a great benefit to me for I feel like a different person since I began to use it. It is wonderful to me how strong my nerves have become. I advise everyone to try it, for experience is the best teacher. "If you have any stomach trouble, can't digest your food—use Grape-Nuts food for breakfast at least, and you won't be able to praise it enough when you see how different you feel." A Mechanical Marvel.

We are not so far ahead of our forefathers in mechanics as many think. In 1578, during Queen Elizabeth's reign, so the story is told, one Mark Scalliot, a blacksmith, made a lock consisting of 3 pieces of steel, iron, and brass, with a hollow key to it, that altogether weighed but one grain of gold. He also made a gold chain, composed of 43 links, which he fastened to the lock and key. In the presence of the Queen he put the chain about the neck of a Teu, which drew it with ease, after which he put the lock and key, sea, and chain into a pair of scales, and they together weighed but one grain and a half.

A Trick of the Trade.

Many of the local curiosity shops planted in the back streets of most country and town are simply kept up by large London firms who, from a prolonged study of human nature, have discovered that people who are shy of buying old furniture or old silver in Bond street or Piccadilly are ready and eager purchasers of precisely the same objects, at a rather higher price, when they come upon them in the back streets of a country town.—London Tatler.
