SHE RAN ASHORE WHEN NEAR SALMON POINT.

Steamer Byron Whitaker and Not Steamer Collier in Mishap on Friday Morning—No Trouble Experienced in Releasing Her.

Through a mistake in the message it was stated in Friday's Whig that the steamer Collier went ashore at Salmon Point early Friday morning. It was the steamer Byron Whitaker, laden with a cargo of corn for Prescott and Ogdensburg, N.Y., from Chicago, Ill. She was released about six o'clock Friday evening and arrived at the Kingston shipyard company's wharf at four o'clock Saturday morning.

The Whitaker went ashore in a fog, but little difficulty was found by Capt. John Donnelly and his crew, who went to her assistance with the steamer Donnelly and barge Grantham, in releasing her. About 5,000 bushels of corn were taken out of her, which was put back when she arrived in the city. No damage was done to the Whitaker.

Rain in North Frontenac. The weather still remains at "fever heat." Reports from places along the K. & P. say, however, that there is rain in these places and it is coming this way. It was raining on Saturday morning early at Parham and Hinchinbrook. The forecast at 8 a.m. was fair and very warm, with scattered thunder storms.

No concession has yet been made on the part of the men. The bosses are still holding to their first concession, granting the eight-hour day, but not the raise of twenty-five cents. One boss, it is reported, has offered to give the painters their raise and the eight-hour day as well.

Next Week at Park. An excellent attraction is booked for next week at Lake Ontario Park. The programme includes Hillis and Lewis, eccentric acrobatic clowns. This act is a continuous laugh from start to finish. Another good feature is J. M. Shipley in a novelty musical act, playing on several wind and string instruments. This, together with three thousand feet of new moving pictures, will make a bright, clean entertainment for the patrons of this popular resort.

Child Died of Diphtheria. Evelyn Dorothy Jackson, the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson, Barrie street, died Friday afternoon at 5.30 o'clock, in the general hospital. The child was one of three children, having one brother, Lorne, nine years old, who is also ill in the hospital, and Georgia, three years of age. The two children were taken with diphtheria about a week ago, and little Evelyn seemed to be getting better, when, taking a weak spell, she passed away very suddenly, early Friday evening. The funeral will take place on Saturday, at 4 p.m.

Broke Her Wrist. Mrs. Gibson, just after getting off the G.T.R. train at the city station, Friday evening, after coming from Calgary, fell on the station steps and broke her right wrist. As Mrs. Gibson ascended the steps, it appears that she slipped on a piece of peeling paint, and went backward, receiving a shaking up. She afterward fainted. The injured lady was taken to Dr. J. W. Campbell's surgery where the wrist was set. The lady had come from the west to visit her daughter, Mrs. Henry Warriman, on the Front road. From the surgery she was removed to the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Godwin, Pine street.

DROVE COW TO FOUND. The Owner Refuses to Pay the Charges. M. B. Wheelock, Albert street, was somewhat surprised and annoyed to find his cow, which was in the field near his house, missing on Saturday morning. He inquired of the neighbors and he was told by one that she saw two young lads driving the cow away from the place at twelve o'clock last night. She thought one was Mr. Wheelock's boy, so she did not think any more of it. Mr. Wheelock says he traced the cow straight to the city pound and there he found her. Mr. Wheelock refuses to pay the charges until it is proven where the cow was found, as he says it looks like a joke, and he does not want to pay for jokes. The rope by which the cow was tied was not broken, but had been untied.

FOR THE OLD BOYS

THE PROGRAMME ARRANGED FOR THEIR HOMECOMING.

The Civic Finance Committee in Charge—A Flag-raising in Macdonald Park a Feature of the Civic Holiday.

A special meeting of the civic finance committee was held on Friday evening to arrange a programme for the Old Boys' homecoming on Saturday evening, July 27th, and also for the following Sunday and Monday, the latter being the civic holiday. Aids, Fair, Hart, McCarthy and Ross were added to the committee.

It was decided that the committee would meet the excursions on Saturday evening with a band, and that in the evening a concert would be held on the market square. On Sunday evening a sacred band concert will be given in Macdonald Park.

On Monday morning, a new flag will be raised in Macdonald Park, when patriotic and imperial speeches will be delivered by Mayor Hoag, Dr. A. E. Ross, M.P.P., and W. F. Nichols. M.P. There will also be a flag waving display, as small flags will be distributed to the gathering.

On Monday afternoon, a baseball game will be played on the cricket field. Two City League teams may contest, but this has not yet been arranged. In the evening, the usual weekly band concert will likely be arranged for the Old Boys by Aid. Kent, chairman of the parks committee.

AGED MAN TRAMPS ABOUT. John Wood Seeks Shelter of Home For Aged.

John Wood, a man of about ninety years of age, arrived in the city, on Friday, from Toronto, apparently with the purpose of indulging upon the hospitality of the Home For the Aged, where he was admitted on Saturday morning.

This is not the first time this old man, walking with the aid of a crutch and cane, has visited Kingston. Last July he applied to ex-Mayor C. J. Graham, and was "shipped" at the city's expense to Montreal. Mr. Wood has lived for forty-three years in the county of Lanark, and has, it is said, nearly one dozen married children living. Yet he is tramping the country, imposing upon the different municipalities, until he is "boosted" to a home in an ark, but had some trouble with the superintendent, it appears, and is "shifting for himself" in his feeble condition. No person seems to, and no persons has the right to keep him. He should be kept by the Lanark home. He put in the winter with a friend in Toronto, and was forced to shift, so he thought Kingston the most likely. The old man will be detained at the Home For the Aged until his case is looked into, and the burden of his keep placed on the proper municipality.

ENJOYED THE OUTING. Provided by the Officers of the Steamer Caspian.

G. S. Day, of the Eastman Kodak company, Rochester, N.Y., writes to E. S. Hotsy, general manager of the Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat company, touching a trip from Charlotte to the Thousand Islands on the steamer Caspian, on Sunday last. He writes:

"Every member of our party is more than delighted with the trip and are expressing their hearty appreciation of our treatment at your hands. We were treated royally by yourself and the officers and crew of the Caspian. Your menu and meals were excellent, well served, and in every way up to your old-time reputation of splendid service. We will undoubtedly be ready again next year and we only hope you may have a boat large enough to accommodate all those who will be sure to want to go."

Alban Kuberhight, a farm laborer suffering from rheumatism and an abscess in the throat, was brought in over the K. & P. railway on Friday and taken to the Hotel Dieu in Mc-Auley's ambulance.

DEATH OF FREDERICK BOYD.

Young Kingstonian Passed Away on Friday Evening. A sad death occurred on Friday evening, when Frederick Charles Boyd, aged twenty-three years, son of Richard Boyd, No. 7 Colborne street, passed away, after quite a lengthy illness.

He was a very clever young man, one who distinguished himself in the public school, Collegiate Institute, and Queen's University, and his untimely death caused widespread regret, for he was very popular with all classes.

Deceased graduated from Queen's University, in a B.A. and M.D. He remained at home during the summer and later went to New York, where he entered Columbus hospital as house surgeon. He remained there until December 9th of that year, when, on account of failing health, he was compelled to give up his work.

He returned home and afterwards went to Saranac Lake, N.Y., for the winter months, it being thought that the change would do him good. He returned home again, last May, however, as he could not fight off the illness.

The late Mr. Boyd had a most distinguished college career. Attending the public school, he won a McLeod scholarship, and matriculated at the University of arts and medicine, graduating in arts in 1909, winning the cash prize of $50, offered by Dean Fowler, in biology. He graduated in medicine in 1911, winning a medal in surgery and also Chancellor Fleming's prize of $70 for the highest percentage in his course of work. Later he tried the Ontario council, and passed, with honors. He had every promise of a very bright future.

Deceased was very popular with all the students at the university, and held the good will of all his acquaintances. To the father, mother, and the members of the family, the deepest sympathy will be extended. While at the university, Mr. Boyd served as senior judge of the medical court. He is survived by his father, mother, one sister, Miss Agnes May, at home, and three brothers, George W. and William John, at home, and Donald M., of Toronto.
