ENDEAVOR CONVENTION
WAS IN FULL PROGRESS ON SUNDAY.

There are 500 Delegates in Attendance—The Addresses Given in Various Churches.

The convention of the Christian Endeavor Societies of Ontario is now in full swing. The speakers and delegates arrived during Saturday, the trains being met by the reception committee and a number of the Boy Scouts of the Sydneyham troop. The billeting committee was "in session" in the First Congregational church, where the delegates were assigned. The train from Toronto and the western part of the province arrived before six o'clock, Saturday evening, bringing over 350 to the convention; the other trains added their full quota to the list.

The visitors were welcomed at the First Congregational church by Miss E. Hall, field secretary, of Ontario and Quebec, Rev. E. LeRoy Rice, co-conductor of reception committee, and R. H. Trencor, president of the local union.

REV. W. S. MACTAGGART, B.A., OF TORONTO, PRESIDENT OF ONTARIO CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR UNION.

The nature of the weather which welcomed and "stayed with" the convention up to the present is well "impressed" upon all.

The Opening Services.
The first meeting of the convention was the morning watch at 7 a.m., Sunday, in the lecture hall of Sydneyham street church, which was well attended. Rev. W. S. MacTaggart, of Toronto, president of the provincial union, presided, and among the others who took part were Rev. Dr. Gilroy and Dr. Margaret Patterson, of Toronto.

The address was delivered in the convention church at the eleven o'clock service by Karl Lehmann, inter-state secretary at Boston. Rev. W. S. MacTaggart, Rev. Dr. Gilroy, Toronto, and Rev. Dr. Lyckman, of this city, assisted.

Karl Lehmann, having visited Kingston last fall, renewed his attractiveness to the local young folk, while those to who he was a stranger were impressed with his live, practical address, a young man, truly in his right place, doing an inestimable work.

He likened the young people of the churches to what they are the natural resources of the dominion, and enforced the conservation of such. Fifty years ago the young life in the church was going to waste, and not until thirty-one years ago did it come into

MISS E. HALL.
Of Montreal, field secretary for Christian Endeavor in Ontario and Quebec, in her own when Rev. F. E. Clark, of Portland, Maine, organized the first Christian Endeavor, to control and cultivate the enthusiasm and energetic young life of the church. The supreme aim is to train them in testimony, prayer and Christian leadership, in some definite religious service, in the spirit of inter-denominational fellowship, in the question of giving and in the movement of the century missions.

The Junior Rally.
A citizen, in speaking to the Whig to-day, wished to have pointed out the great danger which existed during this hot weather of late making bon fires in vacant fields and lots, while at their play it was a practice of many youngsters to start fires, and when everything was so dry there was great danger of a serious fire.

Hungry Cows up Rideau.
A number of campers up the Rideau have experienced a great time in keeping the cows away from the tents at night. One night last week a cow noticed a package of carpet tacks that had been left on the stand, and swallowed them. On another evening of the same week a cow ate a bar of castile soap.

Immigrants Arriving.
People from the old country are arriving in the city every day of the week. On Monday morning ten people arrived in the city over the Kingston and Pembroke railway and they were immediately put in touch with George Hunter, immigration inspector, at this point.

another junior worker, from "God is Love," impressed briefly the need of love in their societies, that of God for His little ones, of love for Him and for each other.

St. Andrew's Meeting.
The attendance was good at the St. Andrew's church women's meeting at 4.15 o'clock when Dr. Margaret Patterson, a returned medical missionary from India, was the speaker. Mrs. J. W. McIntosh carried out the requirements of the chair and read the lesson.

Dr. Patterson gave a very concise and interesting resume of the conditions, customs and characteristics of the people of India.

Meeting for Men.
An inspiring men's meeting, at 4.15 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, in the First Congregational church, was one of the features of the convention. The meeting was conducted by the president, Rev. W. A. McTaggart, of Wickwood Presbyterian church, Toronto, and the address was given by Dean Bidwell, who spoke on the endeavor of the Christian, taking Paul's statement to the Philippians as the model. "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended but this one thing I do." Dean Bidwell laid emphasis upon the manliness of the religion of Jesus Christ. "It is," he said, "essentially a religion for men."

Said the dean: "I absolutely controvert the idea that morality and philanthropy are on the increase and religion on the decrease." All morality has its origin in religion and religion taken away, you remove morality, philanthropy and charity, and establish the system of might is right and every man for himself. "Christ may in every one of us something worth dying for, and we should live as He has shown us how to live, not by human rules and ideas, but like our Leader and Master."

Rev. J. Wilson, of Hamilton, preached in the convention church Sunday evening.

The pulpits in many of the other churches were occupied by convention preachers.

The sunrise prayer meeting was conducted, Monday morning, at 6.30 o'clock, by Rev. Frederick G. Robinson, of Princess Street Methodist church. There was a very large number present. Mr. Robinson gave an address on the subject of "Christ's Call to Service."

ON WALK ROUND WORLD

PITTSIE RYAN, OF EDMONTON, IN KINGSTON

On His Way to Europe—He Will Complete His Journey in Five Years and Receive the Sum of $30,000.

Pittsie Ryan, the famous walking news boy, is in the city en route around the world on his second walking tour. His card reads:

"Pittsie Ryan, walking around the world, only a news boy. That's all."

He left Edmonton on April 28th to make his second trip around the globe on foot. He started without a cent in his pockets, and is bound under the following conditions, that he must return in five years after circling the globe. That he must have not less in his pocket than $500, and that he must register the signature of the mayor of every city and town he goes to; that he must sell papers for his expenses and advertise the city of Edmonton. In the event of his fulfilling these conditions he will get a prize of $30,000, donated by the merchants of Edmonton.

On Pittsie's former trip he started in 1905 and returned in 1910 with one thousand seven hundred dollars, and received a prize of $2,500.

He will be on the street with the Whig on Monday evening. Pittsie has a characteristic news boy's manner, and is one of the easy good-natured fellows that gets along with everyone. He tells some interesting stories, one of them being "cooped up for six months in a Russian prison for attempting to enter the palace of the czar, and complete this trip in a shorter time than his last one and he is looking forward to a very pleasant time."

About Briar Pipes.
As most smokers know, the briar pipe so called, is not really briar, the word being a derivation of the French bruyere, which has no connection with the rose family. What most smokers probably do not know is that the bogus briars are made from the wood of trees so various as apple, pear, peach, plum, buttonwood, hazel, maple, etc., and are made in a manner, so that it is obvious that care is necessary in the selection of a pipe, otherwise what is described—and paid for—as a real briar may be nothing but an unsatisfactory imitation.—London Globe.

Dangerous Practice.
A citizen, in speaking to the Whig to-day, wished to have pointed out the great danger which existed during this hot weather of late making bon fires in vacant fields and lots, while at their play it was a practice of many youngsters to start fires, and when everything was so dry there was great danger of a serious fire.

Many Apply for Position.
The Children's Bureau, of which Miss Julia Lathrop, of Chicago, is the head, will not be thoroughly organized before the first of July. It is said that there are 175 applicants for the positions of assistants. The appointments are made by the secretary of the department, but naturally it is desired that the force shall be harmonious and no doubt Miss Lathrop will have the deciding vote in the matter.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

T. Kinchler, Cleveland, Ohio, visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Lawless Alfred street, has returned home. Mr. Kinchler has not been in the city in fifteen years and is delighted with the improvements he sees.

Many of the Epworth League delegates were disappointed on Sunday because there were no street cars. They wanted to visit Lake Ontario park.

William Lawler, Alfred street, left yesterday, for Chicago, where he has secured a good position. His many friends wish him success.

The nights are quite oppressive, a breeze for the past two nights has fallen about five o'clock in the evening.

FOR NOT CONTRIBUTING MORE LIBERALLY.

To St. Mary's Cathedral Debt Fund—Separate Schools of City in Need—More Roman Catholic Churches Needed in Kingston.

Archbishop Spratt on Sunday morning took the congregation of St. Mary's cathedral to task for not contributing more generously to the weekly offering fund, which he established several months ago for the purpose of wiping out the debt of $90,000 on the cathedral in two years. People of means in the congregation had disappointed him by failing to contribute what they should. His grace intimated that he had decided to extend the weekly offering scheme by the distribution of small pasteboard banks which he asked the people to take home with them. When these were filled with coins, they could be returned or would be called for.

His grace also made reference to the separate schools of the city which he said, were in a deplorable condition owing to lack of funds. There is a debt of some $39,000 on the schools and the board cannot find means of wiping it out. The schools are in need of more accommodation. The archbishop said that something would have to be done to place the schools on a better basis. Regiopolis College also required help if it was to become a first-class secondary school.

Archbishop Spratt also spoke about the over-large congregation of the cathedral, which, although a very large edifice, could not by any means accommodate all at one service, four masses being held on Sunday morning. When the cathedral debt is paid off his grace will set about to establish probably two more Roman Catholic churches in Kingston, one in Carraqui ward, and another near the city limits towards Princess street.

Sunday being the feast of the Most Precious Blood his grace took occasion to recall Christ's sacrifice on the cross and asked that he be not ungrateful of the price paid for our ransoms.

DIED IN AMBULANCE
WHILE BEING TAKEN TO THE HOTEL DIEU.

Frank Corkey was a sufferer from Acute Nephritis—A Priest Was Summoned to Give the Rites of the Church.

Frank Corkey, aged forty-three years, came to a sudden and tragic end, on Saturday, at 5.30 p.m., when he died in Corbett's ambulance, on his way to the Hotel Dieu. Mr. Corkey had been suffering from acute nephritis for the last four days and had convulsions so severely that it was deemed wise to take him to the Hotel Dieu. The ambulance had gone only a short distance when his wife, in the conveyance with him, saw that he was getting very bad and called the attention of Mr. Cornelius, who called Dr. Gibson, driving near the ambulance. The man was in convulsions and was dying. The ambulance drove straight to the Bishop's palace and he last rites were administered before his last moments; his wife holding his hands, he fell dead. His wife bore up under the awful shock until the ambulance reached her home again, when she fainted away.

The deceased had only been sick a short time and had been able to visit Napanea and enjoy the celebration on Monday. On Tuesday he was able to work, but did not feel well in the evening. He was brought home from his hop in a cab and grew steadily worse until Saturday afternoon, when it was deemed wise to remove him to the Hotel Dieu.

The late Mr. Corkey leaves a wife and two little girls, Kathleen, eleven years old, and Sadie, aged nine. He was also survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary Corkey, of Macdonald, Ont.; four brothers, Frederick, of Collins Bay; Joe and Capt. John Corkey, of Kingston, and Walter, of Kingston Mills; and two sisters, Mrs. John McKegney and Miss Jennie, both of Kingston.

The deceased is mourned by a large circle of friends, who speak of him in the highest terms. He was known as a kind husband and father and his family are deeply conscious of a terrible loss. The funeral will take place on Tuesday.

George Peares, a lad who stole roses from J. W. Harper's garden, in Hamilton, was sentenced to two years and six months in the penitentiary. Kingston gets cool, some from the lake. It comes across 150 miles of water, and is thus fresh and enjoyable. The hot wave is upon us. Kingston, however, is ever cool, compared with other towns.
