R. WALDRON

LEONARD TO REVISE THE TOWN OF NAPANEE

THE GRADES OF THE NATIONAL TRANSCONTINENTAL

In Order to Economize—He May Get Into Trouble if He "Mônkeys" With the Plans of Experts.

Cochrane, July 13.—It is learned here that Maj. R. S. Leonard, chairman of the Transcontinental commission, has decided to economize on the remainder of the road to be constructed by revising the grades.

About two weeks ago some railroad officials indirectly connected with the C.P.R. were leaving Cochrane after running out on the Transcontinental. They were told in their phrase of the new road, "While we naturally are not boosting this road since it enters into competition with our own there is enough traffic from the west for everyone to handle and the Transcontinental is certainly a line to build. Why, an engine on it will be able to pull three times as much freight on it as we can over our Port Arthur division, and consequently will be able to handle the traffic more cheaply."

If Maj. Leonard persists in raising the grades this condition of things will not hold. The Transcontinental was planned and has so far been built so that the loaded cars coming west should encounter nothing worse than a four-inch grade, and the freight going east on the Transcontinental is understood that economy is to be effected by allowing eight-tenths grades and even several one per cent, such as a railroad is as weak as its highest grade, it will mean that the millions spent on making the Transcontinental the best railroad on the continent for its length will have, to a large extent, been wasted.

It is possible that the last spike will be driven on the stretch between Winnipeg and Cochrane this fall, but it is certain that no service can be given till next year. One hundred and seventy miles of steel have yet to be laid, and then there is the ballasting to be done. East from Cochrane the work is making good progress, too. The contractors have just commenced to grade another forty miles, beyond Peter Brown's creek, and there is only about a hundred miles till the grade from Quebec coming west is encountered.

Crow Lake News.

Crow Lake, July 15.—The farmers have commenced to cut hay, it being an excellent crop this year although it has been rather dry. The school being closed, Miss B. Clow, teacher, has returned to her home in Parham. Quite a number of men enthusiasts attended the Orange celebration in Kingston on the 12th. Mrs. W. Jones has returned home from St. Paul after visiting her mother-in-law, and other friends; also a sister, Miss Ethel Reynolds, who has been stopping with her sister, Mrs. E. Church. The C. L. O. and N. W. railway is progressing nicely, there being large gangs on the grading work. The blasting is frequent and sometimes dangerous. Russell Bedore is suffering severe pain from injury received while riding horse to work. The horse being frightened by a dynamite blast, threw the boy to the ground, fracturing his shoulder, necessitating his removal to hospital at Kingston. Miss Elsie Knapp and Master D. Knapp are spending their holidays with their uncle, William Knapp, of this place.

Higher French Cuirassiers.

The French war office is testing a new type of cuirass for the cuirassiers, the heaviest branch of the French cavalry. The existing model dates from 1854, and is of steel, but the new one now on trial is of only half the weight—that is to-day, seven and a half pounds in place of fifteen pounds. The most striking feature of the new model is that it is not of metal. What the substance is the war office refuses to disclose, but they state that its power of resistance is quite equal to that of the steel cuirass, in spite of its lesser weight. In addition, it is thought that it will have the advantage of doing away with all danger of reflecting light.—London Standard.

Dr. R. P. Prewitt, of St. Louis, assumed, by sanction of the courts, his wife's maiden name, Gregg, in order to keep $50,000, which her father left her on condition that she must continue to bear the name of Gregg. Insurgents were badly defeated at Saco.

AN UNBREAKABLE WILL AT LAST!

Here's a Will That Cannot Be Disputed.

When a piece of machinery is so strong and simple that it cannot go wrong, it is often called "foolproof." The same thing might be said of the BAX Will Form. For sale by College Book Store, 299 Princess Street.

Every man or woman of intelligence realizes the importance of making a will, even when the amount to be left is small. Some people, however, delay the matter because they do not wish to incur the expense of lawyers' fees, or wish to avoid public notice. It is to these people that the BAX Will Form appeals. It costs only 25 cents, and there is no necessity for letting any person else know the contents of the will. With each form there is a specimen will made out correctly, with full instructions for your guidance.

The will made on the BAX Will Form is perfectly legal and indisputable. See that the name "BAX" appears on the form. For sale by all druggists and stationers at 25 cents, or sent on receipt of price by the BAX Will Form Company, Toronto. For sale by College Book Store, 299 Princess Street.

A SMALL FIRE IN J. R. D'ARFOE'S MILL

Report of Cheese Board—Charles Fitzpatrick III at Fort William—Death of Louis Vandewater.

At the cheese board, yesterday afternoon, 250 white and 840 colored were boarded, all sold at 12 1/2c. Charles Fitzpatrick, who left a couple of weeks ago to work on the upper lake boats, was taken ill at Fort William, and an operation for appendicitis was performed at the McEwain hospital. He is progressing favorably and will be able to come home in a couple of weeks.

Douglas Jemmett, who was ill in the Montreal hospital for the past three weeks, arrived home, yesterday, and is slowly convalescing. Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Sills left this week for the west. E. S. Wartman spent a few days this week at his home in Colebrook, and left, Tuesday, for Saskatoon. Mrs. D. C. Macnaughton, and son, Alan, are spending a few weeks with her mother in Toronto.

Mrs. Mirra Cline and daughter, Elsie, of Toronto, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ming. Mrs. John F. Grange and Miss Vanalstine left this week for a two months' stay in the west. Mrs. Horace Eourne and two children spent a couple of days the guest of her aunt, Miss L. Davy, and left for Montreal, today, where she will reside. Miss Vera Shorey left Thursday for a couple of months' visit with her brother, and sister in Ancovert, N.C.

A small blaze was quickly extinguished one day this week in the D'Arfoe Red mill, but for the prompt action of the firemen, a disastrous blaze might have occurred.

Louis Vandewater, a well-known citizen, passed away on Tuesday. "Locie," as he was familiarly called, was a favorite with everyone. For years he conducted a parcel delivery, and was known to every citizen. He was ill only a few weeks, and was tenderly nursed by his only brother, J. A. Vandewater.
