THE JAILER DENIES

THAT PRISONERS IN HIS CUSTODY ARE IDLE. They are busy making tile and cutting grass. The County Council has supplied no hose for watering the lawn.

Kingston, July 16.—(To the Editor): In an editorial in last evening's paper, it is stated that there is some misunderstanding with regard to the use of prison labor, and that a score of prisoners are resting in idleness while the grounds of the county, and enveloping one of the noblest buildings in the city, are bearing an abandoned condition.

I wish to take exception to statements in that article attributed to "Rumor," and to say there is not a word of truth in it, so far as this jail is concerned. In the first place, there is not the slightest misunderstanding regarding the use of prison labor on the court house grounds.

To show how unjust, unfair and untruthful is "Rumor" in this instance I wish to state that there are but eleven male prisoners confined in the jail, and that has been the daily average during the past four months, just about one-half the number stated in your editorial. Out of the eleven, two are insane. One is on remand, one is cook, one is ill and one is an old man committed for vagrancy and unable to work.

In the opinion of many the court house grounds never looked better than this season, until the long continued dry weather dried up the grass in places, and this would not have been permitted had I been supplied with suitable hose for watering the grass, for I have quite as much regard for the beautiful as yourself, and would have seen that the grounds were attended to even if the tile industry had to be stopped for the time.—C. H. CORBETT.

ALD. RIGNEY EXPLAINS

MORE FULLY ABOUT THE POWER CONFERENCE. A Reference to it at City Council Meeting—Hydro-Electric Commission Engineers Invited to Go Over Mr. Kelsch's Report.

At the city council meeting, last evening, Ald. Elliott rose to ask Ald. Rigney the purport of the private meeting which he learned was held in a certain office during the day, with reference to the local power question. He wanted to know if Ald. Rigney should not have taken the utilities' committee into his confidence.

Ald. Rigney replied that the meeting, which was held in the office of W. F. Nickle, M.P., was not for the purpose of negotiating for power. Some hydro-electric engineers were here, and wanted to know if the city had decided to have nothing more to do with the commission. Ald. Rigney said he was asked to go down to Mr. Nickle's office and he did so. Mayor Hoag had also been asked to attend.

The conference was for the purpose of making explanations about what the city's action in adopting R. S. Kellogg's report meant. He informed the visiting engineers that the council's action did not mean that the city wanted nothing more to do with the commission.

The visit of P. B. Yates, of Toronto, of the hydro-electric power commission, and R. A. Ross, of the firm of Ross & Holgate, of Montreal, to the city was to all appearances, productive of no definite results. A number gathered in the office of W. F. Nickle, K.C., and met Mr. Yates and Mr. Ross, on Monday. Those present were: Mr. Nickle, Mayor Hoag, Dr. Edward Ryan, president of the board of trade, Alds. Ross and Rigney, Manager C. C. Folger, Mayor Hoag and Dr. Ross expressed themselves as being of the opinion that the proposed expenditure on the city power plant meant a cessation of any negotiations with the hydro-electric commission.

Ald. Rigney took occasion to explain that in the improvement of the plant, the committee had only two objects in view: First, of meeting the immediate needs of the plant by placing it in a position to do its present work efficiently and safely, while the work of the year had proceeded necessary; and, secondly, to install only such machinery as would serve as auxiliary in the event of outside power being obtained. He wished to make himself clear that the committee was not shutting the city off from any proposition of any hydro-power concern that could produce power at a figure which it would be to the interest of the city to accept. He suggested to the two engineers, Mr. Ross and Mr. Yates, that if they would go over the report of Mr. Kelsch and show where as would be to the advantage of the city under existing conditions, to accept the Hydro-Electric proposition, the city would be only too glad to hear from them.

Mr. Kelsch's report as it now stands simply shows that under existing conditions the city can produce its own power cheaper than the prices produced by the Hydro-Electric power company.

When asked about getting additional power from Queen's university, Ald. Rigney said he had heard nothing of the matter. It was reported that Queen's generated power demonstrated purposes enough power to give the city a good portion. Ald. Rigney said that the college authorities had not, as yet, made any proposition to the city.

EFFICIENCY PAY. The Riflemen are Now Busily Engaged at Work. The companies of the 14th P.M. O Rifles are shooting at the Barriefield ranges for efficiency pay. This year every man must make forty-two points out of a possible eighty, and if he does not make it the first time he must go over to the ranges until he does. In the past the men could make as few as twenty-eight points and qualify for the first year, make forty-two and qualify for the second year, or make fifty-six and receive third year pay. It was thought advisable to make the change so the men all have to make a score of at least forty-two points.
