DEATH OF A MINISTER

THE LATE REV. JOHN HAY, FORMERLY OF RENFREW.

Who Had Resided in Kingston for Some Months—He Graduated at Queen's Thirty Years Ago—His Health Forced his Retirement.

After having been minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, Renfrew, for thirteen years, and retiring from the charge owing to ill health, Rev. John Hay, died at his late residence, 189 Alfred street, Kingston, on Sunday afternoon. The passing away of the reverend gentleman was, at the end, unexpected, pneumonia being the final illness. He had been confined to his room about ten days, but up to the end of the week it was thought he would recover. About one year and a half ago the late Mr. Hay was forced to give up the active work of his charge at Renfrew and was superannuated. He and his family moved to this city a few months ago. Deceased was born at Lanark.

The late Mr. Hay graduated at Queen's university as bachelor of arts in 1882, and completed his theological course in 1885, taking the degree of bachelor of divinity. In his arts course he won honors in philosophy and political economy. For many years he was a valued trustee of Queen's.

He was ordained into the Presbyterian ministry in Saskatchewan, Kingston. His first charge was at Campbellford, for four years, and from there he served the church at Cobourg. He succeeded the late Rev. Dr. Robert Campbell, at Renfrew, and faithfully carried on the work.

The late minister is survived by his wife, and two children, John, and Miss Jean, a student at Queen's. Neither of the latter were at home at the time of their father's death. Miss Hay being in Saskatchewan, where she is teaching school.

The late Mr. Hay was a strong man, both physically and mentally; in college days he was esteemed to be a steady, plodding, all-absorbing student. He reached the bottom of everything and his scholastic attainments, as a result, were laid on broad and deep foundations. His ministerial work was characterized by the same quiet, steady-going, sympathetic spirit. His convictions were deep and his life flowed on with even tenor. He made no display. Pyrotechnics were not known to him, but the influence of his work and life and character were felt in the three different St. Andrew's churches to which he was called. At Campbellford he took up a very arduous work, being the first minister in the church as a separate organization, but he did his task so faithfully and so well that, to-day, it is one of the most desirable churches in the Peterboro presbytery, and of which he is revered by scores of those who were touched by his ministry.

At Cobourg he worked perseveringly, influencing and moulding lives, and there, too, he left a record of stability and genuine Christian capacity that will not soon be forgotten. At St. Andrew's, Renfrew, he spent thirteen years and there all the experience he had gained found expression in a broad-minded, liberal work that told not only for the good of the cause, but for the betterment of the community life. He was eminently sympathetic and tender in his ministrations to the afflicted and bereaved. No duty was too onerous for him to perform if he could but be of value and help to those in need. It was at Renfrew that his health became impaired and to the great regret of his entire congregation he had to desist from work and finally resign. The congregation fittingly marked the occasion by a testimonial to his worth and a retiring allowance for the remainder of his years, which unfortunately have been of a very brief duration.

Those who knew the late John Hay, knew him as one of the most kindly of men, most earnest of ministers and most devoted of Christians.

VISGERS IN TROUBLE.

Capt. Visger Will Appear Before the Magistrate.

At Alexandria Bay, N.Y., Captain Walter Visger, of the steamer Castanet, will be arraigned on August 20, on a charge of violating the new dock ordinance. The charge came as a climax of a series of rows between the members of the rival steamboat companies. A solicitor for the Castanet had been reprimanded by the officer at the dock who alleged that he had been too heated in his solicitation. Captain Visger interferred and objected to this and the charge was brought against him.

In the meanwhile, the other members of the crews and agencies for the Castanet and Ramona, its rival, became embroiled in a quarrel which threatened to come to blows, but it was stopped before it came to anything. The Visgers have declared their intention to carry the matter to the end.

PASSED A RESOLUTION

Of Lack of Confidence in the Turkish Cabinet.

Constantinople, Aug. 5.—To escape the forcible dissolution by the sultan's troops the chamber of deputies to-day, composed almost entirely of young Turks, passed a resolution of lack of confidence in the cabinet and adjourned without debate. This action resulted from the opposition of the military league. It is said a treaty of peace will speedily follow.

CHARGED WITH SELLING

GIFTS TO CHARITY OUT OF POLITICS

Bill in British House to Prevent Donations by Candidates.

London, Aug. 5.—A bill has been introduced in the House of Commons to prevent the indirect influencing of parliamentary candidates by candidates and members of parliament by means of subscriptions to certain religious, charitable, public or semi-public institutions or enterprises. The bill would include all such payments in the candidate's election expenses, a return of which he has to make under the present law. Payments of subscriptions to clubs or societies of which a candidate is a bona-fide ordinary member would be excepted, provided they did not exceed $250 a year, while contributions to any fund or organization which is exclusively political are also expressly omitted from the scope of the measure.

The law against corrupt practices at elections in the British Isles is already very strict, and any expenditure beyond that specially permitted by law invalidates an election. There is a feeling, however, particularly among the candidates themselves, that the cost of securing election and holding a seat is excessive, and it is with a view of getting this down that the present measure has been proposed.

THE WORK OF LIGHTNING.

Shattered Flag Pole on House of Providence.

A bolt of lightning, at 1.20 o'clock, Monday afternoon, went down the chimney in the home of Jeremiah Doonan, at the corner of Bay and Sydenham streets. The fire brigade was summoned, but was not required, as the only damage done was the shifting of the stove pipes at the entrance to the chimney.

About the same time the flag pole on the top of St. Joseph's building, House of Providence, was struck by lightning, and shattered. The bolt did not continue down the roof.

The alarm system of the local fire brigade also suffered, as the eastern half of the city was "cut off" for a short time, the cause being lightning.

AUTOS WITHOUT LIGHTS.

Many Complaints Have Been Received by the Police.

Many complaints have been received by the police about automobiles travelling around the streets at night without the proper lights, and it was stated, to-day, that if the owners of the autos did not look after the matter, they would be summoned to court. Just a few days ago a young man was fined for speeding, and the by-law regarding lights will also be enforced. The police wish to give all the offenders final warning.
