PRETTY WEDDINGS

A COLLINGWOOD STREET LADY WAS A BRIDE.

Another Event in Which a Johnson Street Lady Participated—All the Brides Looked Charming.

A very pretty wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James McGillivray, Collingwood street, when their only daughter, Jessie Alice, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to John Calvin Caribichael, of Bying Inlet, Ont. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert Laird, Queen's University, in the presence of only immediate relatives. The bride, unattended, wore an embroidered dress of Persian lawn with a beautiful sunburst of pearls pinned in the corsage. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple repaired to the dining room where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. The bride was the recipient of a great number of handsome presents (testifying to the esteem in which she was held), including oil paintings, brass, crystal and some rare old china. The bride's travelling dress was of navy blue serge trimmed with moire silk, with hat to match. The happy couple left on an extended tour to the west, via Toronto, Detroit, Calgary and on through to Thrumes, B.C., where the groom's father owns an extensive fruit farm; afterwards to Bying Inlet, where they will reside. The happy couple carry with them the best wishes of a host of friends.

Stiles-Taylor Wedding.

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Thursday morning, at 9.30 o'clock, when Miss Jane Taylor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Taylor, Johnson street, became the bride of Charles L. Stiles, of Columbus, Ohio. The bride was attended by Miss Mabel Montgomery, while the groom was unattended. After the ceremony, the wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home, where twenty-five invited guests were present.

The couple left, on the noon train for Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, and they will later take up residence in Columbus, Ohio, where the groom carries on business. Numerous valuable gifts were received by the bride and groom, showing the esteem in which they are held.

Howitt-Duncombe Wedding.

A pretty event took place on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Ellen Caroline Duncombe, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Duncombe, became the bride of Frederick William Howitt. The ceremony was performed in St. George's cathedral, by Canon Starr. The bride was given away by her father, and was attended by the Misses Litchfield and Duncombe. Mr. Litchfield acted as best man. The young bride wore a dress of white net, and carried roses and orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were dressed in blue, and wore picture hats. After the ceremony, the couple entertained their guests at a wedding repast. They left the city early in the evening, on their wedding trip, after the completion of which they will return to the city to make their home here.

Skinner-Matheson Nuptials.

The marriage took place, at Owen Sound, on Aug. 7th, of Miss Rebecca May Matheson, daughter of the late William and Mrs. Matheson, and Sergeant Jesse Skinner, of Toronto. The set son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Skinner, of Stratford, Rev. J. G. Fraser, of Knox church, officiated. The groom is a member of the Royal Canadian regiment, and is one of the instructors at the Royal Military College. They will take up residence in Toronto.

TO MEET IN KINGSTON

To Take up the Grievances of the Dairymen.

At the regular meeting of the Frontenac cheese board, held on Thursday afternoon, a communication was received from R. A. Pringle, chairman of the recently-appointed royal commission, to investigate grievances of Eastern Ontario dairymen. It was stated that the commission would meet in Kingston providing the dairymen desired a session, and it was decided to ask the commission to visit Kingston. Meetings are to be held in several places, commencing the series about Sept. 3th.

The communication stated that complaints had recently been made to the department of agriculture from producers and vendors of butter and cheese in Eastern Ontario and the western portion of Quebec, as to the alleged unfairness in the methods followed, in weighing butter and cheese, and also to inquire into complaints made by representative dairymen, as to the present methods of paying for butter and cheese, in Montreal. It was stated that the commission was desirous of securing all the information possible on the matter they were to investigate, and that a session of the commission would be held in Kingston, if so desired, the meetings to be held about September 4th. Meetings are proposed for Kingston, Kemptville, Brockville, Ottawa, Vanhook Hill and possibly other places.

William Pillar, the secretary, stated that generally speaking the dairymen in this district had no complaints to make as the cheese was weighed and inspected in Kingston.

F. W. Valdeau expressed some surprise at this, stating that he understood the commission was appointed as a result of an effort put forth by Frontenac's member of parliament.

Mr. Valdeau stated further that he thought it would be a good idea to have the commission meet in Kingston as a good deal of information might be secured regarding the business.

The board was of the opinion that the commission should be asked to meet in Kingston and the secretary was instructed to write the chairman, stating that the board would like to have the commission meet here.

The vatican has confirmed the consistorial letter refusing permission to have the college at Ste. Marie Monnoir reopened.

SLOW SPEED ONLY MEANS OF AVOIDING PERIL
English Opinion of the Corsican's Escape--Canadian Captain's Caution is Noted.

London, Aug. 15.—The escape of the alien liner Corsican is contrasted here with the Titanic disaster, to the advantage of the Canadian route and Canadian commanders.

If the Titanic had been run with equal caution in the presence of ice, say the English commentators, the world would have been spared the most calamitous sea tragedy of recent times.

The immunity of the St. Lawrence route from ice accidents is noted, and a moral is drawn somewhat contrary to the verdict of the Titanic court. That is that slow speed is the only means of avoiding peril when warnings of ice have been received.

BROTHERS' AWFUL VIGIL.

Holds Sister Over Alpine Precipice For Eight Hours.

In the Haute-Garonne, not far from Toulouse, a terrible experience has just befallen a brother and sister named Van Goethen, as the result of which the woman lies in the hospital dying, with a fractured skull, while her brother, in the same place desperately overcome by shock and exposure. The story of their adventures adds another to the long list of Alpine tragedies.

M. Van Goethen, who is an engineer in a paper mill, and his sister, accompanied by a friend, M. Sombardier, son of the director of the mill, set out to climb Mount Saurousse. They made the ascent but in returning they took the path leading to the glacier Domenon. As they were crossing a dangerous part of the path, Mlle. Van Goethen slipped and slid down an ice precipice. Her brother, in endeavoring to save her, also slipped, but was able to stop himself by catching hold of a boulder. At the same time he grasped his sister's skirts just as she was sliding over the edge.

M. Sombardier crawled down to the boulder and endeavored to assist the brother to drag his sister back to safety. Their united efforts, however, were of no avail, as the woman, being unconscious, could not help herself.

The two men shouted for help for several minutes. Then M. Sombardier set off to seek rescuers, leaving the brother and sister in their perilous position. It was three hours before M. Sombardier reached Revel, and eight hours had elapsed before the rescue party returned to the glacier. There they found M. Van Goethen still supporting the body of his sister on the incline and only retaining the terrible strain by twisting her skirts round a rock. Then the rescue party got to work and succeeded in drawing his sister over the edge into safety. The brother fainted and had to be carried to Revel.
