AT THE SCOUT CAMP

CAMDEN EAST TROOP WON FIRST PRIZE FOR BEST RECORD.

Water Sports Held on Wednesday Afternoon—Col. Benson Made an Inspection, and Was Well Pleased With Camp—Camden East Troop Returned Home.

All is going well with the scouts at Brophy's Point. Wednesday's rain failed to dampen their spirits. On Tuesday Col. Benson came down with some of St. George's choirmen, and other visitors, and inspected the camp. He expressed himself satisfied in every way, with the development of the scouts, both as to physical and rifle drill, smartness, and general neatness. The tents, he said, were very well kept. After the inspection, some of the scouts put on an exhibition of boxing, wrestling and horse-back wrestling. On Wednesday, all were busy at the water sports, in spite of the rain, which fell almost continuously. Early in the afternoon, Camden East troop, left for home. Canon Starr, in a few well-chosen words, dwelt on the record the Camden East boys had made. They were first in punctuality, and order, and third in neatness, this was good, as it was their first time in camp, and had old campaigners for their opponents. Altogether, after consulting the patrol leaders, he had great pleasure in awarding them first prize for the best all-round record.

Rev. W. R. Spencer then spoke. He was very glad his boys had done so well, and were carrying away a prize to show the folks at home, how well they had done. He was proud of them, more especially, as they had carried on the work themselves. The people around Camden East looked on the scout movement as a waste of time, but he felt sure that when they saw his boys returning stronger, healthier, with the sharp edges worn off (for there were sharp edges) and with prizes to show how others appreciated them, they would change their opinion. The prizes, red ribbons, were then awarded. The reason they were just ribbons was because more valuable prizes suggested the idea of professionalism. Three cheers were given for the Camden East troop, as they went away.

To-day, the chief events are a relay race to Marysville and back, and "the bonfire of the season" to-night. Camp breaks up to-morrow morning.

The scouts' supply boat, the Gem, blew off a cylinder head near the city. All are deeply thankful that no one was killed or injured.

INCIDENTS OF THE DAY.

Local Notes and Items of General Interest.

The yacht Nerid, of Alexandria Bay, owned by Col. Staples, was at the Wolfe Island wharf on Thursday.

The civic finance committee will hold another meeting on Friday afternoon, when the new hotel proposition will be the topic.

The barbers are working hard to make their baseball game, on Labor day, worth while. They are practising every spare moment in every available place. Back yards and laneways are favorite spots.

The Pomes, who were to have played in Napane, on Wednesday, have postponed their game indefinitely. The manager of the team received a telegram that it was raining hard and the game could not be played.

William Holder, a local boat builder, while trying out a new motor boat, on Wednesday evening, was tied up for a while at Collins Bay, when his engine broke down and he refused to bring him home. He went to a telephone at the Bay and called for the assistance of Thomas McAuley, who went out in his launch and towed the other one here.

Confirmation Service.

Lombardy, Aug. 21.—Mrs. H. E. Polk and sister, Miss Sadie Burns, have returned from visiting friends in North Augusta. A number from this vicinity attended the picnic in Frankville on Saturday, 17th inst.

Miss Gertrude Robb left recently for Saskatchewan to take charge of a school in that province. Miss N. Tredeau spent a few days in Toronto. She was accompanied home by her mother, who spent the past two months with friends there. Miss Ruby Morris, Athens, spent a few days with her cousin, the Misses Robb. Miss Lorena Frayne has returned from visiting friends in Glen Stewart. The engagement is announced of Herbert Covell, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Covell, to Miss Marion McMillan, of Smith's Falls, on Thursday, August 15th, Archbishop Spratt, of Kingston, administered confirmation, here, in the R. C. church. Miss Caley is visiting friends in Syracuse, N.Y. Miss Rosella O'Mara has gone to Montreal to take a course in the Le Roy College.

Lyndhurst Items.

Lyndhurst, Aug. 21.—James Young lost a very valuable Jersey cow by an over feed of corn. D. W. Breen met with a painful accident, yesterday, to one of his limbs, with an ax. He had the doctor dress the wound. Mrs. T. Sommerville is now with pleurisy and Mrs. Williams, Riverside House, is very low and there is not much hope for her recovery. Visitors—Mrs. L. Mercer and children, Montreal, spent the week-end the guest of R. R. Tate, Mrs. L. Creighton and family, Toronto, are at Mrs. Homer Singleton's. Miss Lynch, of the lower province, is at Mrs. W. Webster's. Mrs. Price and nurse have gone to Ottawa to nurse the fever patients. R. R. Tate spent last Sunday at his daughter's, Mrs. Robert Moulton's, Berryton. Harvesting is very slow in this section on account of the wet weather. Potatoes look good.

Sangster Briefs.

Sangster, Aug. 21.—George Padget, wife and family, have moved to Friesow, Miss K. Labeur, Chicago, Ill., is at her sister's, Mrs. James O'Reilly, Miss Minne Young, visited friends in Burridge last week. Miss Marie O'Reilly is home, after spending two months in Westport. Mrs. W. David R. Tate, at James Murphy's. Mrs. James O'Connor is at P. O'Connor's, Cole Lake. Miss Katie Young, Burridge, Miss A. O'Connor, Mrs. J. O'Reilly, and F. Judge, are at Thomas Young's. Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, of Chicago, Ill., are the guests of their sisters, Miss Ellen Kelly and Mrs. Kate McCann. Miss Maud Wardrobe, who spent the past three years in Nanton, Alberta, is calling on friends in town. Mrs. Ursula Murphy and Miss Mary O'Donnell, Perth, are guests of the Misses McNally. Robert Reynolds, Hartford, Conn., is the guest of Mrs. G. F. Reynolds and family.

If a man is smart he never has occasion to mention it.

LATE WILLIAM ALLEN

Passed to His Eternal Reward on Thursday.

William Allen, a veteran figure on the streets of Kingston for upwards of seventy years, passed to his eternal reward to-day. His decline has been very rapid. Three weeks ago he attended service in Queen Street Methodist church to which he had been attached during the entire period of its existence, and he was then feeling quite unwell. He said to a friend that once during the service he felt that he was almost through his journey. During the past week he was up for brief periods and, to-day, quietly sank to rest.

The deceased was a prominent citizen. He was an ex-alderman, and ex-school trustee, and in both these offices he displayed marked ability and his judgment was regarded as of a very fine character.

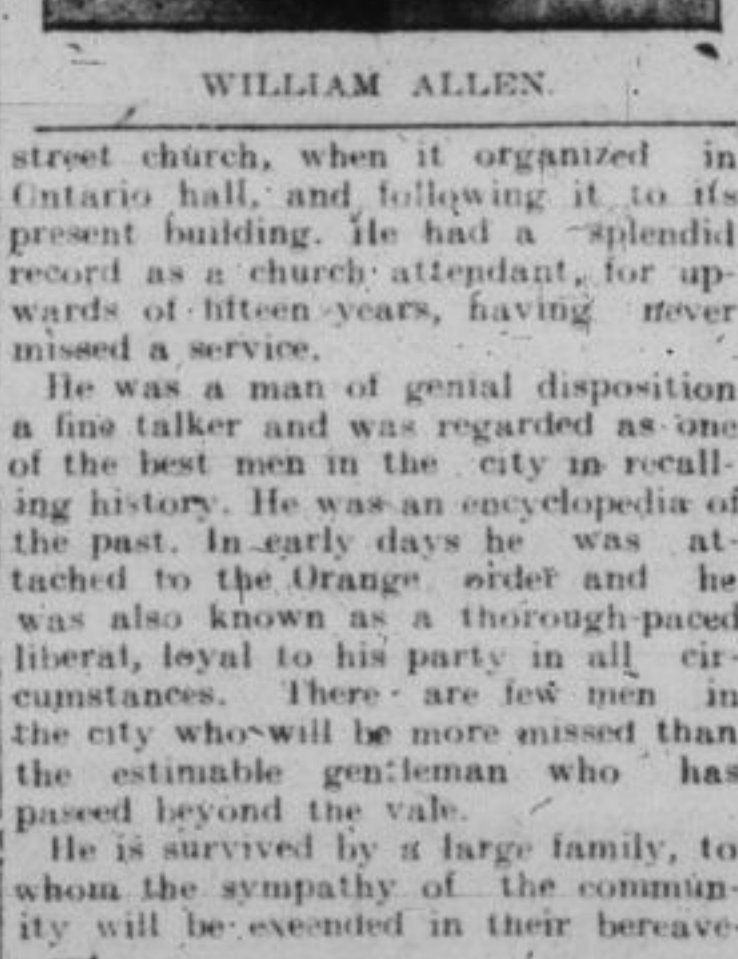

For over fifty years he conducted a boot and shoe establishment on Brock street, continuing all those years in the one establishment. He was a Methodist, though in early days had been brought up in the Church of England, but following his marriage he went to the Methodist church, attaching himself to Queen street church, when it organized in Ontario hall, and following it to its present building. He had a splendid record as a church attendant, for upwards of fifteen years, having never missed a service.

He was a man of genial disposition, a fine talker and was regarded as one of the best men in the city in recalling history. He was an encyclopedia of the past. In early days he was attached to the Orange order and he was also known as a thorough-paced liberal, loyal to his party in all circumstances. There are few men in the city who will be more missed than the estimable gentleman who has passed beyond the veil.

He is survived by a large family, to whom the sympathy of the community will be extended in their bereavement.

In 1908 he celebrated his golden wedding anniversary. He was blessed with a family of ten children, three sons are living in the United States, and the balance of the family in Ontario and in Alberta. These are all honored and respected in the communities in which they dwell.

Mr. Allen was born in Montreal, came with his father in the thirties to Kingston, lived at Barrisdale, and went to school there, carrying forward with him. He was apprenticed to the shoe trade in Kingston, later began business, and was the leading military bootmaker for years. He retired a year ago. Mrs. Allen, still in good health, was indeed a helpmeet to her husband, a noble Christian lady and mother. Among the children are Mrs. R. Massie, Ottawa; Dr. F. Allen, Deadwood, S.D.; Mrs. J. Newman, Lorneville; Thomas, Calgary, Alta.; Robert, Toronto; Stanley and Herbert, New York; Mrs. Thomas Milo, Miss Libbie and William, in Kingston.

WILLIAM ALLEN.

A GOVERNMENT LINE

SOME HOPE OF COMPLETING N. T. R. TO COCHRANE.

Setbacks Are Serious—Bush, Fires Have Burned the Trestles and Labor is Scarce.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Major Leonard, the chairman of the Transcontinental railway commission, is pushing work on the line between Superior Junction and Cochrane, and hopes to have steel laid on the whole of the line before the season closes. The gap at present is about eighty miles in length.

The question whether it will be possible to run freight trains over the line before winter is not settled yet. There have been several untoward circumstances, bush fires having caused delay by burning some of the temporary trestles, and the shortage of labor, which has become more acute since the opening of the harvest season in the west, having proved a great difficulty.

While there are difficulties in the way, however, it still is possible that connection may be established between North Bay and Winnipeg by way of Cochrane and the Ontario government railway by the end of the present building season.

MRS. MOSES LESSARD DEAD.

She Passed to Her Reward Richly Blessed.

Flinton, Aug. 21.—There died, on August 17th, Mrs. Mary Lessard, aged eighty-seven years. Mrs. Lessard was one of the first pioneer settlers of the township of Kaladar. Old settlers know what hard times were in the wild woods. She settled here with her husband and four children, to make themselves a home, over fifty years ago. She was born in Lower Canada, near Montreal. With her parents she came to Belleville, her father working for the late Bella Flint, Belleville, then one of the busiest in the old saw-mill days. Bella Flint owned a saw mill and a lumber district, employing a great many Lower Canada Frenchmen. They worked in his mill in summer time and woods in winter. Those times were hard in the shanties. The bill of fare was pea soup, fat pork and bread. They got no tea or sugar, nothing nice to eat unless they bought it, but they generally came out fat in the spring. When the big pine logs came tumbling down the rivers with the flat Frenchmen behind them, then the boarding-houses and French hotels made their times out of the shanty boys, who generally went back to the wood as poor as sharks, only to send home messages, once in a while, and also to the girl they left behind. Only a small portion of the old Flint mill now stands to tell of the halcyon days. In those days, every short distance, upon our rivers and creeks, we could hear the hum of the saw mill. Many of the old mills are gone. Wages in those days were small in proportion of what they are now, but people seemed to dress as well and managed to live. Tea was $1 a pound; sugar, $12 and $14 a hundred; cotton and print, 25c a yard, and not extra quality at that; coal oil, $1 a gallon.

Miss Mary Dossilate and Moses Lessard were married at Belleville, in the old St. Michael's church, by Rev. Michael Brennan, over sixty years ago. The old stone church was torn down to give place to a new and larger one, which also has been burned and rebuilt. Mr. and Mrs. Lessard resided at Belleville until four children were born. They then came to try their luck in the back woods, where they raised a family of eight children, giving all a college education and thus fitting them for the struggles of life. Their children rise up and call them blessed. Mr. Lessard bought a lot on the outskirts of the village here, he opened a hotel, which was rudely built, but there was a courteous couple within to comfort all travellers. Their goodness won them many friends. Here they prospered and accumulated wealth and raised a respectable family. Their second oldest son has been our township clerk for nearly forty years, filling the position well. The late Mrs. Lessard was borne to the grave by her six grand sons, four daughters, twenty-two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Father Powell gave a very impressive address on our duty to the living and honesty toward God. The church was filled, as "grandma" was a woman well and kindly known.

Mr. Lessard predeceased his widow sixteen years. Having fulfilled her duty as a ripened sheaf of grain ready to be cut down, old and full of years, a good and grand old woman passed away.

Briefs From Glendower.

Glendower, Aug. 22.—Misses T. and S. Kelly, of Toronto, are visiting at their home in Godfrey. Mr. and Mrs. T. Payne, 365 Bagot street, Kingston, also Miss M. O'Connor, Pittsburgh, Pa., Maurice O'Connor, Panama, I., and Edward Sargent, Dufferin street, Kingston, and Miss Netta Byrne, of Stratford, Ont., are visiting their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hastings, Glendower, and Mr. and Mrs. Orin Kelly, Godfrey. A dinner party was given at the home of Mrs. G. Kelly, in honor of their guests. After justice was done to the good things, the evening was spent in dancing, cards and singing. Miss Byrne's song "The Days That Are Gone Can Never Come Again," was very much appreciated. Misses Hastings gave a leg for their guests. The evening was spent with cards and dancing. George Killen, Micaville, spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly, Godfrey.

Consumption of Eggs.

It is said that the calico printers use more than 40,000,000 dozens of eggs each year, and that the coffee roasters, the photographic trades, the cracker and biscuit conbines, and the chemical trades consume more than twice as many. Large quantities are also used in the leather trades, for tanning, etc. They are also largely used in the preparation of many patent foods, and the liquor trade takes no inconsiderable number. Few of these uses, inferior, grades of eggs are used—not because they are better, but because they are cheaper. One business company in New York city buys $1,000 worth of eggs every week.
