GRANT HALL STRUCK

BY LIGHTNING IN TUESDAY MORNING'S STORM.

Some Stones Knocked Off—One of the Hands of the Clock Was Also Damaged.

Grant Hall was struck by lightning in the severe storm of Tuesday morning, but fortunately no great damage was done. The lightning hit the northeast corner of the building and knocked several stones out of place on to the roof.

The clock also suffered as a result of the pranks of the lightning. One of the hands was knocked off and this of course put the clock out of business. People coming to work at eight o'clock, and passing Grant hall, noticed that the time registered was just 7:30, but it was not until later on that lightning had damaged the building.

Later it was learned that the lightning had torn two holes in the wall at the tower, and the stones fell, tearing a hole in the slate roof. The slates that hold the hands of the clock were splintered to matchwood.

John E. Redmond has issued an appeal for more funds to his supporters in the United States.

A JEWISH CHRISTENING

At the Home of J. B. Abramson, Colborne Street.

The home of J. B. Abramson, 4 Colborne street, was the scene, on Tuesday noon, of a special event in the Jewish community. The rite of circumcision was performed by Rabbi H. Rotblet, and the one-week-old and only son of Mr. and Mrs. Abramson was christened in the presence of twenty-five relatives and friends of the family.

Leona Abramson, of this city, cousin of the father, was first godfather, and Mr. and Mrs. M. Sussman presented the infant to him. The boy was named Edward. Dr. G. W. Mylks was present at the ceremony.

The rabbi and the guests sat down to a bountiful repast in the dining room, after the ceremony, which was followed by a short programme of music and speeches.

A SEVERE RAIN STORM.

The Lightning Was Very Close—Half Inch of Rain.

The electric storm on Tuesday morning was very severe and although not as much rain fell as did in the storm two weeks ago, the lightning was much closer to the city and seemed to be doing damage somewhere in the vicinity. The street cars were held up for more than twenty minutes during the storm and upwards of one hundred telephones were knocked out of commission temporarily. The fall of rain measured about one half inch. The only damage so far reported from the storm was a tree on Colborne street, which was struck and a limb was lopped off.

AT THE POLICE COURT.

Mayor Hoag Presided on the Bench on Tuesday.

Mayor Hoag presided on the bench at the police court, on Tuesday morning, and dispatched business in quick order.

A drunk, a stranger in the city, who belongs to Montreal, claimed he had been on the "water-wagon" for a long time, but on coming to Kingston, Monday, managed to slip off when he met an old friend. As it was his first time up, he was given a chance.

Peter Karris, a Greek, is accused of assaulting another Greek, George Ballos. This is the outcome of a row the two had a few nights ago. Ballos claims that Karris used a knife on him. The case was enlarged for a week.

"The Girl of My Dreams."

"The Girl of My Dreams" is a clever and amusing musical comedy, containing real humor and furnishing a great diversity of entertainment. The wit is as brilliant as the stage settings, costumes and effects. John Hyams and Leila McIntyre are the bright particular stars of an exceptionally clever cast. Miss McIntyre's greatest hit is the unique "Dr. Tinkle Tinkle" song number. Mr. Hyams is funny at all times. The music is splendid. Besides an excellent cast of principals there will be a big beauty chorus and a pony ballet. The attraction will be at the Grand on Monday, September 10th.

ASK $3,000,000

For Chats Falls Expropriated Property.

Messrs. Hartly and O'Connor, through their solicitor, R. A. Pringle, K.C., Ottawa, have filed their claim with the secretary of the Hydro-Electric Commission for compensation in respect of the lands and property expropriated by the Ontario government, known as the "Chats Rapids" property. The claim amounts to about $3,000,000. The Hydro-Electric Commission have given notice that the amount of compensation will be determined by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board. It is likely that the arbitration will be proceeded with at an early date. Prominent engineers have been at work on the case for some time both in the interests of the individuals and of the Hydro-Electric Commission.

The property was expropriated on March 9th last by the Hydro-Electric Commission, the owners having six months in which to file their claim. The power in question was secured in two parts. In June, 1888, the islands were granted by the Ontario government to Hon. William Hartly, of Kingston. On October 2nd, 1911, the Dominion government granted to Daniel O'Connor, K.C., of Ottawa, the government slide on Victoria Island, Chats Rapids. The owners claim that 50,000 horse power can be developed.

Jules Vedrines, premier French aviator, was the first aviator to complete his flight against time in the Gordon-Bennett aeroplane competition at Chicago, Monday afternoon. He did 124 miles in one hour, ten minutes, fifty six seconds, or over 105 miles an hour. The Hydro-Electric commission will not, of course, pay anywhere like the $3,000,000 that Messrs. William Hartly ex-M.P., of Kingston and Daniel O'Connor, of Ottawa, want for the O'Connor, of Ottawa, want for the "Shuts" Falls power rights, needed by the city of Ottawa. This will be settled by arbitration by the Ontario railway and municipal board, and the hearing will probably be at Ottawa. It is understood here that the commission have formally offered Mr. Hartly $2,000, namely $120 with compound interest for what he bought in 1883, generally known as the Hartly rights. As regards O'Connor it is claimed that he got the timber slide rights from the Dominion government, but that they had no right to sell them, as they belonged to the Ontario government.

Why Kipling J'led.

Once at a private party in New York City, David Bispham sang "Danny Deever" to an audience which included Rudyard Kipling, author of the verses which Walter Darrsch set to music. Mr. Bispham tells the following interesting story regarding the occurrence:—"At the conclusion of my efforts," says the baritone, "Mr. Kipling abruptly left the room and the house, with never a word about the song, which had by that time become famous, and was sung by every man with a D and a diaphragm in his make-up. But as Kipling says, 'that is another story.' And it came out after he had recovered from the attack of pneumonia he caught on the way home that very night.

"This was the way of it: 'On my return to London the next summer a gentleman called on me and brought a message from the celebrated author to the effect that he was very sorry if on such-and-such an evening he might have appeared to have been unceremonious in leaving the room without some word as to 'Danny Deever,' which he had heard for the first time. But that the fact was—and Mr. Kipling wanted me to now it—that he was so powerfully moved by the composition that he could not trust himself to speak, and so he made a bolt for the door!"

Mr. Bispham will sing Danny Deever Wednesday, Sept. 11th, at the Grand Opera House.

Miss Mary Leitch, of Conlon, was fatally hurt by a lamp explosion, which also caused the destruction of the house and contents.

Blood Humors

Commonly cause pimples, boils, hives, eczema or salt rashes, or some other form of eruption; but sometimes they exist in the system, indicated by feelings of weakness, languor, loss of appetite, or general debility, without causing any breaking out.

They are expelled and the whole system is renovated, strengthened and toned by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

L AIDLAW'S

A Corset Scare

The Newspaper wits are saying "That Corsets are to be tabooed shortly."

A well-known Kingston woman was shown this clipping and thinks otherwise, and said:

"Never, while women wear dresses and look in mirrors will they discard Corsets."

For Negligees? Possibly For Dresses? Never.

THE present fashion of straight lines demands a Corset especially if the woman is inclined to be embonpoint.

THE newest models we have for Fall are low in the bust, but—and here is the crucial point of Corset fitness—they are long over the hips. The extra length gives slimness and grace essential to the perfect fit of the new full skirts.
