When "Work" Becomes "Labor"

There's Something Wrong. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills Will Right It.

Thousands of Women feel just like this.

When it seems as if you simply could not bear up any longer it is high time to look for the cause of the trouble—and the remedy. In an astonishingly large number of cases the real cause of woman's misery is found to be constipation, and the remedy that always cures is Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Neglect of the daily movement of the bowels, so necessary to health, soon poisons the whole system from the impurities retained in the body. Headaches, indigestion, biliousness and lassitude follow, and often more serious female disorders are brought on or aggravated.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills not only regulate the bowels, but they stimulate kidneys and skin as well to throw off waste matter and purify the blood. The result is quickly apparent in the disappearance of the headaches and biliousness, and the return of health and vigor. Thousands of women all over the world owe their present good health to Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

AUTHORITY TO KILL

WOULD BE SURE TO BE MISSED BY QUACKS.

Incurableness Never a Certainty—Dr. Gustav Shivalbe Says Putting a Patient to Death is an Abuse of Skill.

Berlin, Sept. 12—The German medical world is taking the liveliest interest in the "right to die" controversy in America.

Dr. Gustav Schwalbe, the editor of the Deutsche Medizinisch Wochenschrift, a leading medical journal of the Fatherland, gave the New York Times correspondent the following special presentation of the German view of legalized euthanasia:

"A doctor is neither ethically, professionally, nor criminally entitled to kill a patient at the latter's wish. The duty of medical science is to heal, or where it cannot achieve this, to improve or ameliorate. Any other function is a direct misuse of the knowledge and skill of the profession.

"Even an operation on a desperately ill patient, which the operator is convinced will in all probability prove fatal, is ethically reprehensible. How much more so is the deliberate killing of a patient on his demand?

"A celebrated surgeon, discussing this theme, once said: 'A doctor should not be an executioner.' One may argue that many doctors do, as a matter of fact, deliberately shorten the life of a dying patient by injecting morphine. This practice, it will be pointed out, is so customary that it has been given the technical name of euthanasia, and is recommended in the medical text books.

"But this practice does not really denote a killing in the generally accepted sense, because only doses are administered which induce sleep. No conscientious physician administers morphine under these circumstances unless he is absolutely convinced that the patient is already in the death agony.

"Who, however, can say with certainty which patient is incurable? Even the most famous doctors can tell of patients who were given up for lost and notwithstanding this either became well or lived a long time. There are repeated cases on record where eminent physicians have diagnosed a disease as cancer of the stomach, only to have it discovered later that all the tangible evidence of cancerous growths had disappeared and complete health returned. This alone surely shows that many patients would have been killed by doctors on the ground of incurableness who would have been cured by cleverer or luckier physicians.

"In this connection it ought to be pointed out that general authority to kill an incurable patient at his own wish could be criminally exploited by unscrupulous physicians.

"According to the German Penal Code, a doctor who kills a patient on the latter's request is punishable. The doctor would be judged like anybody else, who violated paragraph 216 of the code, which says that if anybody is induced by another person to take his life on his emphatic and earnest demand, the former shall be sentenced to not less than three years' imprisonment. The newly proposed Penal Code provides for a minimum punishment of only six months.

"From the general provision that one is permitted to take another's life only in self-defence the doctor is excepted in but one instance, namely, in the case of childbirth, when he may kill a child in the mother's body if thereby alone, in his conscientious opinion, the life of the mother can be saved.

"The principle invoked in these circumstances is that where a doctor is confronted with the vital emergency, he may destroy a comparatively worthless life for the sake of preserving the more valuable one. The Roman Catholic faith even forbids killing on such an occasion. Modern medical technique, moreover, has made it much less necessary than formerly to resort to this practice."

LOCAL OPTION CAMPAIGN

Opened at Rockport for Front of Escott Township.

Rockport, Sept. 10.—Monday, September 9th, will be remembered as a red-letter date by the temperance workers interested in the welfare of the township of the Front of Escott, as it was the day for the official and public inauguration of the local option campaign for that municipality. Under the efficient leadership of the Rev. T. Leech, Lansdowne, president of the Leeds county temperance alliance, aided by Francis W. Duggan, field secretary of the Ontario alliance, and effectively co-operated with by the local workers, a monster temperance picnic was successfully carried out at Rockport. Mrs. Cornwall's grove was secured for the occasion, and there where a most charming view of the river St. Lawrence is secured, and the eye feasts on the beauty of the Thousand Islands, a bountiful repast was served at one o'clock.

At three o'clock, a public meeting was held, this was called to order by N. Hutchison, of Escott, the township president, who explained the object of the meeting. Music was rendered by a choir composed for the occasion, prayer being offered by Mr. Wigstone, pastor of the Escott circuit of the Methodist church. The resolution which follows, and which crystallized the feeling of the meeting was next introduced by Mr. Leech, seconded by Rev. I. Beckstedt, who both in able and martial speeches sounded the advance of the cause of temperance in the township.

That it is the opinion of this municipal gathering of the electors of the Front of Escott and other friends and well wishers of the temperance cause assembled this ninth day of September, 1912:—

1. That the existence of the licensed bar in our midst is a menace and considerations for the public good call for its removal.

2. That at present local option is the best known solution of the difficulty.

3. That we earnestly hope and pray that the day is not far distant when not only in the Front of Escott, but through the whole of the banner province of Ontario there will not be found a single open bar.

4. That we would rejoice greatly if both political parties would unite to abolish the bar, and the treating system.

This resolution was carried without a dissentient.

A speech was delivered by Mr. Miller, of Deer Island, who pled for manliness and the meeting came to a close with a short address by Mr. Duggan, who evinced his opposition to the liquor traffic in stirring and well chosen words.

Preparations were made for supper, which was served under the same ideal circumstances as dinner.

At eight o'clock the evening meeting was called to order in the Methodist church, by Rev. L. H. Fisher, S.T.L. Miss I. Ferguson, organist of the church, was in charge of the organ. Rev. T. Beckstedt led in prayer. The plan of the evening meeting was for a sacred concert, and all the numbers had been chosen with this in view, those who assisted in the programme were:—Miss Brindley, Rockport, who sang a solo; the Lansdowne Brass Quartette who placed their ability freely at the disposal of the chairman and audience; Mr. Manhart, trombone soloist; Miss B. Hollingsworth, Escott, who gave two readings; J. Coates Lockhart, tenor soloist, Toronto, who was equal to the many calls made upon him and who delighted the large number present on every one of his appearances; and F. W. Duggan, who brought the evening to a close with a strong appeal to the electors to do all they could to bring Escott township into line on the first Monday of next January with the upward movement for moral character and Christian living.

Large crowds were present at the afternoon meeting, and in the evening the church was crowded to its utmost capacity.

While it is recognized that the battle is not yet won, the courage of the workers rises with every day, and they are looking forward with confidence to the result of this effort in bringing the township of the Front of Escott under the local option banner.

THE GIBSON MYSTERY.

From top to bottom: Burton W. Gibson, Mrs. Rose M. Szabo, Mrs. Alice Kinnan, John Rice O'Neil.

A warrant has been sworn out for the arrest of Gibson as the result of signs of violence found on the body of Mrs. Szabo, who was drowned in Greenwood lake while boating with Gibson, her lawyer, July 17th. Gibson afterwards attempted to probate her estate of $10,000. Gibson's connection recalls his connection with the inquiry into the death of Mrs. Alice Kinnan in 1906. He was held until after the inquest, but no action was taken against him. Another of Gibson's clients, O'Neil, who collected $10,000 from the Union Railway is said to have entered into some business with Gibson and later disappeared. His disappearance is under investigation by the British consul-general in New York. In the Szabo case Gibson made application for the woman's mother, who, it is learned, has been dead some time.

Complete Ticket of Women.

Boise, Idaho, Sept. 12.—A republican ticket made up entirely of women candidates will be placed in the field in Idaho this fall against the regular republican and progressive tickets. The women members of the republican party in Idaho announced last night that they had become disgusted with the wrangling within the party and had decided to place a ticket of their own before the people. The women will hold two conventions this week.

CHINA'S BIG SCHEME.

Ready to Grant Concessions to Foreigners for 40 Years.

Pekin, Sept. 12—The government has authorized Dr. Sun Yat Sen, who was formerly provisional president of the republic, to establish a railway corporation to carry out a system of national railways covering a territory 7,000 miles in extent.

Mixed Chinese and foreign companies will be granted concessions throughout China proper for periods of about forty years, after which time the lines are to revert to China, but the railroads in the frontier provinces will be under exclusively Chinese control and will be financed through foreign loans.

The French, German and American bans will participate with Lloyds Ban in the new loan to China of $50,000,000, the agreement for which recently was signed. The terms of this agreement include the starting of a bank having its home office in London, with a subordinate board at Pekin. The bank is to be capitalized at $10,000,000, half of which will be subscribed by Chinese.

Best Year for Cheese.

Toronto Globe.

A. E. Gracey, one of the staff of dairy instructors in western Ontario, speaking to a representative of this paper at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto last week, stated as his opinion that the present year will prove better in prices for the patrons of cheese factories in the province than any previous season in history. Last year the price reached nearly as high as fifteen cents a pound in the western counties, and in so doing established a record. It is Mr. Gracey's opinion that the average price for this summer will be higher than that received last year. Cheese has not sold at as low a figure this season as it has in former years, and indications point to a probable increase over last year in the top prices. Mr. Gracey said that whether a farmer received more for the product of his cows at the cheese factory or creamery or by shipping to Toronto dairies depended largely upon a man's location and circumstances. Under average conditions he was inclined to believe the cheese patron was making more this summer. It is his belief that Toronto dairies do not pay any more for milk than they can help, and that they generally leave a small margin for the producer.

Costs Climb to Thousands.

Brockville, Sept. 12.—The case of Rafferty vs. Peacock, the Pittsburgh millionaires, and Thousand Island patrons, over a little strip of land on an island opposite Alexandria Bay, continues to climb upwards through the courts. The value of the property is less than $200, but the cost will involve thousands before a settlement is reached.
