FRUIT AND FARM LANDS
TO BE DEVELOPED IN ALABAMA, UNITED STATES.

Enterprising Citizens Purchase Nearly 20,000 Acres of Rich Fruit Land—Will Develop a Part of the Tract Themselves—The Stock to be Sold is Guaranteed by the Land Itself.

Recently some of Kingston's wide-awake business men made careful investigations into the possibilities of development and profit to be made out of Southern lands. They had been attracted to this district by articles in such reputable and standard publications as Saturday Evening Post and the New York Tribune. Investigation revealed possibilities beyond their most sanguine hopes. They formed a company and purchased a valuable tract of 15,950 acres in Mobile county, Alabama, within fifteen miles of the city of Mobile. The Mobile and Ohio railroad runs right through their property and makes four stops within their tract. This line leads direct to the best markets of the north, viz., St. Louis, Cincinnati, Chicago and New York.

The Purpose of the Company.

These men learned that they could buy this tract at a wholesale price that would enable them to double their money by simply selling it at retail prices to settlers. To sell the land to colonists was their first intention, but the possibility of very much greater profits to be made by developing a part of the tract themselves led the directors to decide to hold and develop some 2,000 acres of this land for the company. Accordingly the company proposes to set out 1,000 acres of peach orchard, which readily sell in the fifth year after planting for $500 per acre, and in the tenth year for $1,000 per acre. The other 1,000 acres will be set out in Satsuma oranges, peaches, figs, etc., which also sell readily at $500 per acre in the fourth year after planting. The sale of these developed lands should yield tremendous profits to the shareholders of the company.

Why Stock is Offered for Sale.

The Great Gulf Lands, Limited, as the company is called, proposes to sell a small block of its stock to enable the directors to develop this tract of land. This stock is guaranteed by the land itself as the company agrees to exchange the stock purchased for land itself at the request of the stockholder, made within a reasonable time. Thus the stockholder is absolutely protected by land which is increasing in value every year. It is not speculative like mining or industrial stocks so often are but is quite as good as any first mortgage on land, while it carries with it the possibility of splendid profits beyond what any mortgage can yield.

Nature and Value of Land.

The company's property has been carefully examined by a number of competent and experienced valuers, including representative farmers from Ontario and leading agriculturists in the Southern States. Their unanimous report has been that the property is high and dry, exceptionally rich and fertile, easily irrigated with an abundance of pure water, well adapted for gardens and intensive farming, and is readily accessible to a splendid market. The mild and salubrious climate of the Southern States is too well known to require further comment and renders the district particularly desirable for residential and agricultural purposes. The land yields three successive crops a year. Irrigation is not required. The community is an orderly one, with a large influx of northern settlers. The laws are well enforced.

Very valuable orchards and groves already adjoin the company's property in many places and conditions are now favorable for the sale of the entire property in small holdings as a high class fruit and garden district. For further description of the property itself and information respecting the value of improved lands in the vicinity reference may be made to the general literature of the company.

The Investment Good.

That the investment is a good one is attested by the fact that the directors are heavily interested in the company and that they can only profit as the company makes profit for all its stockholders. The opening of the Panama canal and the great "back to the land" movement due to the present high cost of living in the cities, is causing a great rush to these unoccupied lands of the southern states which are now selling at such reasonable prices. The Great Gulf Land company secured its holdings just as the boom was beginning and will for that reason reap greater profits. For an investment of $300,000 the company has good prospects of a return of over a million and a quarter. Remember it is land they hold—and land too that will be worth three times its present value in three years time. Land in the district is producing from $100 to $500 per acre every year now by the farmers following the scientific methods which United States government specialists have introduced in the south. Were the directors able to develop these lands at once themselves, no one would get a chance to buy a single share of this stock. A small peach grove in the best insurance policy a man can have, as its returns increase annually for

IN MARINE CIRCLES
A BUSY WINTER OF BUILDING IS PROMISED.

The Boat Builders and Repairers Will be Kept on the Go—Movements of Vessels in the Harbor.

A local marine man stated to the Whig, on Friday, that from the present indications (and he was in a position to know), more work would be done to vessels along the harbor than this coming winter than any like season in some years. The Montreal Transportation company will make its usual repairs, and the rebuilding of the steamer Lamonde, which is contemplated, will keep the Davis Dry Dock company well employed, with its other contracts. The Kingston Shipbuilding company will be a hive of industry, and repairing will be done to vessels lying at Portmouth bay, which is such a haven for winter quarters. In addition to this, renovations of a more extensive nature are intended to some of the passenger boats lying along the wharves.

Grain Shipments Heavy.

The shipments of grain to Kingston this week have been quite heavy, and the real rush is expected to commence shortly. Quite a few vessels are at present loading at Fort William for Kingston and Montreal. None of the new grain has been shipped out as yet but it is expected it will be sent out very soon.

Movements of Vessels.

The steamer Waterly and the steamer Alexandria were at Folger's wharf Friday night, from Montreal, and discharged freight.

The schooner St. Louis, which has been unloading fiddler, at Richardson's wharf, has cleared for Charlottetown.

The steamer Downards cleared on Friday night for Oswego.

M. T. Co.'s elevator: The steamer Advance arrived from Montreal Friday night, and cleared for Toronto, to load package freight for Fort William; the steamer Noble arrived from Chicago, Friday night, and is discharging 50,000 bushels of wheat; the steamer Westmont passed down at midnight grain-land, on the way to Montreal; the tug Bronson arrived from Montreal with two light lagers; the steamer Trestle Court arrived this afternoon, from Fort William, and is discharging grain.

It is expected that M.T. company's barge Davis, at present in the dock of the Kingston Shipbuilding company, will be floated on Monday. The steamer Rapids Prince will be docked the middle of the week.

The steamer Belleville is due west to-night.

The steamer City of Hamilton passed up on Friday.

Swif's wharf: Steamer Kingston, down and up; Aletha, down and up; Edeau King, down, from Ottawa.

The barge Jessie is booked to enter Davis' dry dock early next week for overhauling and repairs.

The new and slow, built at Davis' dry dock for G. Pike, was launched on Saturday.

The Man On Watch.

The Lampman notices that down in Montreal they are burying people alive. They must have laws in the French province if this is the condition of affairs, and the undertakers must treat some of the dead as scavengers do deceased cattle. In Kingston, the Lampman is informed that it is impossible for a person to be buried alive. When the undertaker gets through there is no chance of the heart action being revived and the "dead" turning over in the coffin. It is comforting for people to know this.

The Lampman agrees that it is time for the men to put their straw hats into winter quarters and in this autumn season "look the part." The ladies are exempted, of course. They may wear their straw bonnets till the snow flies.

A county fair without side attractions would be to the average townsmen like Christmas, without Santa Claus, remarks the Lampman. Even Town Councilman Kent had to hire musicians to draw the people to his horticultural show, while the Cataract physician had to add baseball and horse racing to the programme of the township show. Cut out baseball, horse racing, balloon ascensions and other attractions and nowadays people will not bother about looking at exhibits. It was the men with the wheel and the shille, and the vendors of the type of the late "Bill" West, who could sell a watch and sundry other pieces of jewellery for twenty-five cents, who put life into the fairs of old Kingston town. If Mayor Hoag wants a successful town show next year, let him engage the airship men and the ballet girls.

Keep Children Well During Hot Weather.

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe, and the occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby back to health. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Died of Whooping Cough.

The death occurred, Friday noon, of Gertrude Irene, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Holland, 111 Clergy street west, aged nearly eleven months. The child suffered from whooping cough, which had developed in utero. Her mother, Mr. and Mrs. Holland have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sad bereavement. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon, at Cataract cemetery, Rev. T. W. Savary officiated.
