

NEW BOOK OF WIT AND HUMOR.

SUNSHINE SKETCHES OF A LITTLE TOWN

BY PROFESSOR STEPHEN LEACOCK, OF McGILL UNIVERSITY.

Readers of Literary Lapses and "Nonsense Novels by Professor Leacock will welcome the new book of original brightness and humor. In the preface to "Sunshine Sketches" the author says:

"APART FROM MY COLLEGE WORK I have written two books, and absurd though it sounds they can be obtained for the sum of one twenty-five each. Yet these works are of so humorous a character that for many years it was found impossible to print them. The compositors fell back from their task suffocated with laughter, and gasping for air. Nothing but the invention of the Linotype machine made it possible to print these books. Even now people have to be very careful in circulating them, and the books should now be put into the hands of persons not in robust health."

PROPERTY COMMITTEE

CONSIDERED REPAIRS AT THE FAIR GROUNDS.

Estimated That It Would Take $5,000 to Put Buildings and Grounds in Shape for Exhibition—Heating of City Buildings.

At a meeting of the property committee of the city council, held on Wednesday afternoon, the question of making repairs to the buildings at the fair grounds, and alterations to the grounds, so as to put everything in good shape, providing it was decided to hold a fair, was discussed, but no action was taken, pending the result of the public meeting which Mayor Hoag has called for Friday night, in the city council chamber, to take up the matter of a fair for Kingston.

Ald. Givens, the chairman, presided and the other members present were Mayor Hoag, Ald. Couper, Ald. Harrison and Ald. Litton.

It was estimated that the sum of $5,000 would be needed to put the buildings and grounds in shape for the holding of a fair. The agricultural building and the crystal palace will require considerable attention. It was estimated that all of $500 would be necessary to make much-needed repairs to the agricultural building.

The question of selling the property and securing a new site for fair grounds was also discussed. The committee also discussed the heating of the city buildings and the members were agreed that the ratepayers should be asked for power to make an expenditure for such a system, but it is first desired to have an estimate of the cost, and the chairman will secure this from an architect. An estimate secured last year, when the matter was taken up, was that of $10,000.

The committee gave instructions to the engineer to secure the necessary material for the filling in of the different places on the market square, where pools of water have been found.

HONEY IN CHURCH CHIMNEY.

One Hundred Pounds of It is Beyond Reach.

If the people of Princess street Methodist church would pasture a few cows on their grounds, their place of worship could be said to "flow with milk and honey." Over three months ago, a swarm of honey bees belonging to Harvey Chadwick left their hives and took up their abode in the large brick chimney of the Methodist church on the opposite side of the street. Some weeks ago, the odor of honey could be plainly detected, and Mr. Chadwick estimates that fully 100 pounds must be stored in the chimney. He thought of trying to get possession of the bees' sweet product, but finally decided that it would be too expensive a job. What will happen when the chimney becomes heated, is uncertain. One thing is sure, the bees attending the Princes street Sunday school would just delight in taking part in a climb to get that hidden honey.

WILD DASH OF HORSES

RESULTED IN DROWNING OF TEAM AT NAPANEE.

Jumped Over Embankment Into the River, and Sank With Heavy Waggon—W. G. Joy Married in Toronto.

Napanee, Sept. 26.—An unfortunate accident occurred yesterday afternoon in which Benjamin Frink, Hamburg, lost a valuable team of horses. Mr. Frink was at the evaporator with a load of apples, and had just stepped inside when the horses bolted, and dashed down the embankment and into the river, where before assistance could be rendered, the animals drowned. It was done so quickly that those who had witnessed the accident had scarcely time to get to the scene before the animals were to the bottom, drawn down by the weight of the waggon. The marriage took place in Toronto on Monday, Sept. 23rd of William G. Joy, only son of Garrett B. Joy, Napanee, and Miss Pearl Shannon, Toronto. The ceremony was performed at the Metropolitan Methodist church by Rev. Dr. Armstrong. The young couple left the same day for a honeymoon in Detroit, Chicago and other western cities, after which they will return to Napanee to reside.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's mother, where a dainty wedding breakfast was served, and afterwards left on the noon train for Toronto, Buffalo, and other western points, and upon their return will reside at Brewer's Mills. ON WAY TO MONTREAL

TO SEE HIS BROTHER WHO WAS DYING.

Man Believed to be Escaped Prisoner From Belleville—Told This Story to Farmer and Secured Coat and Shirt—Police Could Get No Trace

That the man who escaped from the Grand Trunk conductor, at the outer station, on Wednesday afternoon, is no other than Frank Smith, of Texas, who broke jail, at Belleville, on Tuesday morning, the local police have no doubt, as he tallied with the description received of the man wanted. Constables Arnel, Mullinger and McCarey hurried to the outer station, as soon as they received the call that the man had given the conductor the slip, but they could find no trace of him. He had a good start of ten or fifteen minutes. The man had on coat, and in the scuffle he had with the conductor, his shirt was pulled off his back. However, from an investigation made by the police, it was found that the man had secured both a coat and shirt from a farmer, a short distance from the station, by telling a hard luck story about being on his way to Montreal, to see his brother, who was dying. Smith had been sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, for burglary, and was to have been taken to Kingston, on Tuesday, the day he made his escape. He made a most daring escape. At 6.30 a.m., Turnkey Colling left eight prisoners out of their cells, and they were allowed to go out in the yard. Smith was among the number. The turnkey went into the jail for about five minutes, and when he came back, found Smith was missing. There was evidence to show the man in which he had made his escape. In the prison yard there was a long bench, probably 12 or 14 feet in length. He had taken this bench and placed it in the corner of the prison yard, at which place the wall is 18 feet high. He had also torn up the blankets upon his bed and made an improvised rope. This he fastened to the upper end of the bench and threw the other part over the wall. Once up to the top of the bench, Smith did not have much difficulty in reaching the top of the wall, and then he slid down the rope, and finally dropped to the ground outside. Smith was arrested at Belleville on Saturday morning, while it is alleged, he was making an attempt to burglarize the music store of J. A. Goodsell. The escaped prisoner is a young man, but it is believed in police circles that he is a genuine crook and that the name he gave is not his proper name.

LABOR IS VERY SCARCE.

Italians May be Secured for Kingston Road Work.

Labor was never so scarce in the city as it is at the present time. Mr. Reid, of the Ontario Asphalt Paving company, of Windsor, who is here supervising the new pavements, made the following statement to a Whig reporter on Wednesday afternoon: "I never saw labor so scarce as it is in Kingston. I am working with seventy-five men less than I should. We pay good wages, but it does not get the men. Unless we are able to get more laborers in the city, we will be forced to send outside for some. At the present time, I have sent a message to Ottawa, to our representative, to see if he can get us some help. "In our line of work the best men are foreigners, and I prefer Italians, as they will work better than any other class of men at road construction. If we are able to get about twenty-five Italians, we can rush the work along in great style here. The rain is helping us considerably, as it has made the roads soft, and the plow goes through a great deal easier than it would had it not rained."

The machinery used in mixing the cement for the foundation and curbs will arrive in a day or so, and then the work of putting in the concrete curbing and gutters will be commenced.

Two Prisoners Arrive.

Two convicts from Berlin arrived at the penitentiary on Thursday, under the charge of High Constable Charles Huber and Turnkey Frank Ludwig, of Berlin. One prisoner was John Hummel, sentenced to five years for horse thieving by Deputy Justice Reid, at Berlin. This is the first sentence passed by the newly appointed judge. The other was Ernest Meyer, committed at Galt by Police Magistrate Blake to seven years for bigamy.
