

Now Feels Strong and Vigorous

And Fit for Any Amount of Work as the Result of Using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mr. J. Harbert.

It is so easy to overlook the warning given by headaches, indigestion, falling memory, lack of power to concentrate the mind, irritability and worry over little things, that many a man does not realize his danger until on the verge of breakdown. Like the writer of the letter quoted below, you can call a halt to the wasting process and restore vim and energy to the nervous system by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great food cure has a wonderful record of cures. Mr. J. Harbert, 25 James street Brantford, Ont., writes: "I was very much run down in health and as a consequence my nervous system was very much exhausted. Close confinement at my work, I think, brought on the trouble. I started using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and by the time I had used up one box I felt a great improvement. The continued use of this preparation has thoroughly restored my system so that I feel strong and vigorous and fit for any amount of work. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Ointment with splendid satisfaction, and recommend them at every opportunity." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

JAMES BOXALL

Canada Fraternal Society Man Lays Down the Reins of Office.

Probably no man in any Canadian fraternal organization has climbed up the ladder of office to the very top as quickly as Mr. James Boxall of Lindsay, who but a few years ago stepped down from the exalted position of Supreme President of the Sons of England Society, after having held it for several terms, to give way to what he termed "younger blood." Mr. Boxall, who is at the present time one of the busiest and most prominent business men of Lindsay, Ont., at one time was an active member of Lodge Ruby, in Toronto. Twenty-five years ago he was a full private in the rank and file of the famous order. He joined the ranks at Fort Perry and was known throughout the country-side as a young man of never-failing energy, and he is still a dynamo for business in the shire town of Victoria County. Mr. Boxall, besides being a Sunday school superintendent in the Methodist Church for many years, is a member of the Board of Waterworks Commissioners, ex-president of the Lindsay Board of Trade, and at the present time one of the five members of the Industrial Commission of Lindsay. He is also a keen and ardent politician, and during campaigns can always be found in the thickest of the fray. At political gatherings he can champion the Conservative cause with the best of platform speakers, while his ready wit always serves him well. A story told of him by Mr. Boxall once a heckler at Oakwood not long ago is characteristic of that gentleman's quick wit. One farmer was continually interrupting Mr. Boxall in his speech, when the latter stated that he would tell a story for the benefit of the farmer in question. "No, no, very long ago," started the speaker, "when fodder was scarce and dear, a farmer conceived the idea of feeding his hens by mixing sawdust in the bran. Soon he put a little more sawdust in and a little less bran and by-and-by all sawdust and no bran the wooden legs, while one was a woodpecker." At this point Mr. Boxall stopped, and the farmer again "buted in" with the sarcastic remark, "Well, where does the woodpecker fit into your story?" "Well," continued Mr. Boxall, "I did not wish to draw the application to-night, but I am sure that anyone in this intelligent audience will readily understand my story, and will also readily understand where the woodpecker is in this audience." Needless to say, the story had the effect of turning the laugh on the farmer, and silencing him for the rest of the evening.

Made Up His Loss. Mr. John Ross Robertson, proprietor of The Toronto Telegram, has a way of assisting needy causes that speaks a sympathetic interest in the problems of his fellowmen. Sometimes this humane sentiment reaches down to places and people who may never have an opportunity to praise his benefactions in the open court. In one of these acts about three years ago an office boy figured as the principal. He was then in the employ of Mr. Robertson's newspaper, and on the day following the failure of the Farmers' Bank remarked to the city editor that his grudge against the bank was no light one, for his pass-book had contained savings of twenty-five dollars intended for his night school expenses. Next day Mr. Robertson, who had heard of the incident indirectly, walked through the city room and spied the dolorous lad seated on a bench. "So you're a bank victim, eh?" observed the proprietor, kindly. "What did they take from you?" "Everything—$25," confessed the lad, timidly. "And you still want to attend night school?" "You bet I do." The boss drew forth five five-dollar bills and pressed them into the little chap's hand. "Now, for goodness sake," he said, "be careful how you select your banker."—Toronto Star Weekly.

Is There a Coal Famine? A rather remarkable condition exists just now in Montreal. Recently the coal dealers in the metropolis made the calm announcement that they had in stock fifty tons of stove coal while ordinarily at this time they had only 250,000 on hand. With chilly nights, coming due, such a statement might well cause a mild sensation. Of course there is an explanation. The trouble is the labor unrest. Recently there was a gigantic coal strike in Great Britain. Coal intended for the Quebec market was shipped across the Atlantic to help out the English situation. They followed the Pennsylvania strike, "throwing dealers in the Dominion away behind in their orders. With a big demand for coal, and no ready supply, naturally prices have advanced. This is a further complication in the matter which may be responsible for furrows in the brow of Mr. Consumer this fall. In Montreal, loose stove coal is $7.75 a ton, and all the time going up; long egg is the same; and chestnut twenty-five cents more.

Oil-Propelled Vessel. With a full cargo of port and sherry went the new oil-propelled vessel, Fordonian, at present in course of completion in the Old Country will arrive shortly in Toronto harbor. The new ship, which is the property of the Merchants Mutual Oil Co., will, it is expected, be something of a revelation in the marine line to lake vessels. Driven by an 1,100 h.p. oil engine it is calculated that she will be capable of attaining a speed of upwards of 12 miles an hour, whereas the only other oil vessel on the lakes, the Toloer, can only make some six miles per hour. The new vessel is full coal size, 233 feet, with a beam of 15 feet.

Many a man's only idea of happiness is not to be as miserable as he was yesterday. Success is largely a case of buy experience and selling it at a profit.

BRAKEMAN ON FINAL TRIP.

W. Basil Sayer Had Given up Work on the "Broad."

Ogdensburg, N.Y., Oct. 10.—A pathetic circumstance in connection with the accidental death of W. Basil Sayer, a young railroad brakeman, of this city, at Gouverneur early Monday morning, was that it was to have been his last run, as he had decided to give up the hazardous business of railroading for a job in this city. He had actually given up his regular run and went out extra on the trip that was to end in death under the wheels after falling from the top of the train. It was recalled yesterday that during the storm blockade on the St. Lawrence division last winter, Sayer was mixed up in a wreck when some snow plows collided at Philadelphia. He was hurled through the air but alighted in the deep snow and was unhurt.

To Close Rendering Plant. Guolph Industry Has Been Found a Public Nuisance. Guolph, Oct. 11.—Mayor Thorpe received a letter from Dr. McCullough, provincial medical officer of health, enclosing a copy of the report of Dr. Bell, who recently made an inspection of the Guolph rendering works. The report condemned the plant, stating that in his opinion it was a public nuisance, and stating that it should be closed. Immediate action will be taken to close it, as it has greatly annoyed residents and depreciated property.
