

TURKEY'S WAR FUND DRAWN FROM GERMANY

Will War be Declared Against Greece Too?

THE FIGHTING AREAS

ENTIRELY SHUT OUT FROM WATCHING WORLD.

British Influence Caused Turkey to Make Peace With Italy—Greece's Note is Now Being Considered by the Turkish Cabinet.

London, Oct. 18.—The Porte did not declare war on Greece, and it is reported that she has withdrawn her troops from the Grecian frontier. That the whole of the Balkans will now be drawn into one general movement of warfare is, however, no doubt here. The fighting areas are momentarily almost entirely shut out from the watching world, despite the presence of some sixty eager special correspondents representing English and foreign newspapers.

It is known that the railway in Southern Bulgaria is so congested with troop trains that the Turkish minister himself was compelled to journey from Sofia to Constantinople by a circuitous route. He leaves a city emptied of its manhood. There is something intensely dramatic in the spectacle of the Balkan states pictured in the Times, which is always cautious in expressing an opinion. Whole nations are seen marching to battle, leaving behind only women, children, and old men. The little kingdoms will soon be temporarily depopulated. Even Constantinople is bereft of most of its horses and vehicles. Its streets echo the footsteps of troops hurrying to the front.

British Influence. Paris, Oct. 18.—La Liberté says that peace between Italy and Turkey was largely due to British influence in support of Premier Poincaré's policy. The peace negotiations were hanging fire when Sir Edward Grey telegraphed the Turkish government to come to terms. This was not immediately accepted, but a later despatch, received while the Turkish Cabinet was deliberating, stated plainly that further procrastination would mean the immediate opening of hostilities by the Italian fleet in the Aegean sea. The Turkish cabinet immediately telegraphed, instructing its plenipotentiaries at Ouchy, in Switzerland, to accept Italy's terms. Italy, relying on its own ultimatum, sought Great Britain's influence, knowing that an ultimatum conveyed through the British foreign secretary would carry more weight almost as if Great Britain were behind that ultimatum.

Turkey Draws War Fund. Berlin, Oct. 18.—Turkey has withdrawn a large sum of money, reported to be $17,500,000, from Germany, according to a special despatch from Bucharest. Rumania. The money was deposited in Germany during the reign of the Sultan Abdul Hamid, and was earmarked exclusively for a war fund. Germany has consented, says the correspondent, to its delivery to the Ottoman government, and the gold is now on the way from Kustendje, Rumania, to Constantinople by steamer.

Greece Will Be Next. Constantinople, Oct. 18.—The Turkish cabinet assembled today to consider the note sent by Greece, which has been only just received, as the Turkish minister at Athens refused to transmit it. Similar action to that taken against Serbia and Bulgaria will probably be taken against Greece, as the note was found to be identical with those received from Sofia and Belgrade.

Turkey Will Win. By Special Cable. London, Oct. 18.—Judging from reports of impartial correspondents with Balkans, Turkey has really taken the allies by surprise in making a general movement of troops towards the frontiers without waiting for a formal declaration of war by Greece, Bulgaria and Serbia. The final result will be, they say, that Turkey with her well-trained troops will speedily defeat the Balkans into submission and try to assert her real control of these European dominions. Diplomats most fear that Austria and Russia will then clash, drawing into the conflict other great powers, notably Britain and Germany. It was to face the possibility of this crisis that the British cabinet met hurriedly on Wednesday and Premier Asquith had an audience with King George. The upshot of these conferences was that Sir Edward Grey, foreign minister, was instructed to make personal visits to Russia and Austria, if need be, immediately, to try and arbitrate disputes between these nations to maintain peace.

CANCEROUS GROWTH

Bismuth to Aid the Use of X-Rays Treatment.

Paris, Oct. 18.—An important discovery in connection with the diagnosis of cancer of the stomach was made public this week at the Surgical congress meeting here. It has been pointed out, all attempts to examine this organ for cancerous tumor by means of the X-rays have proved nearly useless, as it was hardly distinguishable on the plate among the mass of muscles and other organs of the abdomen. Two French physicians have now found, however, that if the patient drinks a solution of bismuth before examination, the stomach, when filled with this liquid, which is opaque to the Roentgen rays, will be shown as a very clearly defined mass.

Should any gaps appear in the stomach's outline, these must be due to cancerous bodies, which fill up parts of the stomach cavity and occupy the spaces which, in a normal person, would contain the bismuth solution. In this way, it is asserted, tumors can be diagnosed and exactly located at the very first symptoms.

NOTHING TOO GOOD RED SOX

Boston Mayor Presided at Reception in Famous Hall.

Boston, Oct. 18.—Through streets lined by thousands of spectators, the Boston Red Sox, world's champions of 1912, paraded in automobiles yesterday from Fenway park to Faneuil hall, where they were congratulated by city officials and thousands of the followers of the game. The "big boss" in Faneuil hall was president-over by Mayor Fitzgerald, who congratulated the Red Sox for bringing the pennant to this city. Joseph Walker, former speaker of the house of representatives, and others made addresses. Manager Jake Stahl and other members of the team responded, thanking the people of Boston. The players presented Manager Stahl and President James R. McAlleer with loving cups.

INFERNAL MACHINE IN MAIL

Found by Postal Clerks in Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Clerks sorting mail in the Chicago post office discovered what is believed to be a dynamite bomb wrapped in a package and addressed to a man whose identity was not disclosed. The explosive was rolled up in heavy cardboard with both ends sealed with plaster of paris. A fuse, to which a paper filled with matches was tied, protruded from the centre of the roll.

STUDENTS RIOT IN DISSECTING ROOM

Parts of Human Bodies Used as Weapons by Philadelphia College Men.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—Sophomores and freshmen of the Medico-Chirurgical college so far forgot themselves that they engaged in a hand to hand conflict, and before the fracas was over the dissecting room looked as though it had been a slaughter house. One of the sophomores threw an arm across the room at a freshman, who was dissecting part of an abdomen. He returned the compliment by hurling the trunk of the cadaver upon which he was working back at his assailant, and then a free-for-all fight started.

Parts of the human bodies were used as weapons, and portions of skeletons were the implements that they seized to beat each other into submission. When the faculty members appeared and finally quieted things down, four students were so severely injured that they had to go to the hospital. President Carter, of the sophomore class, Oswald Elton, S. Gamcho and Ludwig Weiss, were the students who were hurt, and it is said that the faculty will discipline them and others who were responsible for the affair.

GETS HIS DISMISSAL

George Mann, Old Civil Servant, Gets Notice.

Edmonton, Alta., Oct. 18.—George S. Mann, Indian agent at Hobema, has been dismissed by the government. Mr. Mann is sixty-eight years of age and has been an active worker among the Indians since prior to the North-West rebellion. Now old and worn out in the service, he is the recipient of a curt notice from the conservative government to the effect that his services are no longer desired. The action has aroused indignation among the early settlers who have known Mr. Mann for so many years. George Mann was, up to the time of the rebellion, Indian instructor at Frog and Onion Lakes. During the rebellion he was a prominent figure, taking an active part and because of his acquaintance with the topography of the country and his intimate knowledge of the Indians and their characteristics, was able to render valuable service. He was taken prisoner by the notorious Big Bear at Fort Pike and had a narrow escape from death at the hands of the very men that he had done all in his power to aid. He was rescued at the close of the rebellion and returned to his duties at Frog and Onion Lakes, where he remained until nine years ago, at that time being transferred to Saddle Lake. Five years ago he was transferred again to Hoema, where he has since held office. The dismissal comes the more as a surprise as Mr. Mann was appointed because of his popularity with the Indians, his wide influence over them rendering him an especially useful agent.

TWO BARGES FOUNDERED, FOUR OF CREW DROWNED

Three Men and Girl Perish—Captain and Son Found Afloat on Hatchway.

Waterbury, N.Y., Oct. 18.—Four persons lost their lives when two barges went to the bottom of Lake Ontario yesterday morning near Galloups islands, twenty miles from Sackett's Harbor. Those drowned were all Canadians, and were J. D. Schamp, Stephen Lebusse, Fred Labance and Alice Derusha, the 16 year old daughter of Captain Derusha. The boats encountered a heavy wind and storm about midnight, and the tow line between the barges "H.B." and "Memomine" parted. The "Butler" parted, permitting the first two to drift. The drowned were on the "H.B." Yesterday the steamer "Nicasagua" sighted the tug "Proctor" and the "Butler" and towed them to Cape Vincent, later returning to pick up the "Memomine". A short distance from the barges the crew picked up Capt. Derusha and his son, John, who had been floating on a hatchway all night, just as they were ready to attach lines to the "Memomine" she too, went to the bottom. The boats were the property of the Ogdensburg Towing company, and left Oswego Tuesday afternoon for Ogdensburg.

MCGILL PROFESSOR SAYS ONTARIO IS IN WRONG

Declares That the Position of This Province on Bi-Lingualism is "Untenable."

Montreal, Oct. 18.—In the course of an interview on the bilingual schools in Ontario, Prof. Dale, the education expert of McGill University, said he will likely be president of the British Columbia University, said: "I have no hesitation in saying that the Ontario government's position on the bi-lingual schools seems to me untenable. It certainly is a violation of the spirit of confederation. I have not read any statement of the government's position, but I cannot think it defensible, either on grounds of expediency or justice. Any educational advantage that might follow—even if it were proved to be considerable, which it is not—could not, therefore, justify the enforcement of these by-laws."

SHOT BREAKING INTO JAIL

Drunken Man, With Queer Mania, Killed by Sheriff.

Muskegon, Mich., Oct. 18.—Edward Frosque, thirty-five years of age, who had been under the influence of liquor, is said to have had a mania for breaking into other people's houses and sleeping there, was shot and killed early Thursday by Sheriff Nelson, when, according to the officer, he attempted to break into the county jail. He was entering the kitchen window of the jail building when the sheriff fired.

CASES OF TYPHOID

Outbreak in Asylum Has Reached Serious Proportions.

Hamilton, Oct. 18.—The typhoid outbreak at the Hamilton Asylum for the Insane has reached serious proportions. Five more patients were taken to the hospital yesterday, after the death of Dr. Jeffries, one of the medical staff. It is said that there are at least twenty-two typhoid cases in the institution now, and that the epidemic is steadily growing.

FATHER VAUGHAN GIVES GOOD ADVICE

To Old Countrymen Coming to Canada—Leave Eye Glasses at Home.

Moore Jaw, Sask., October 18.—Father Bernard Vaughan, who arrived here yesterday, being interviewed regarding his impressions of the west, said: "To my way of thinking, there never was a land that was so ready to give a living wage to any one ready to give in exchange for it an honest day's work."

"My advice to old countrymen coming out to this country will in future be: Leave your eye-glasses at home, and your knickerbockers and your hyper-criticism and your superiority. Put on a pair of overalls, pull off your coat, pull up your sleeves and put your back into your work till you are through with it."

"Then, instead of being all in, down and out, you will come out on top and become a useful member of an enterprising community and not at all a bad advertisement for the Old Country."

TOOTH PULLED, BOY DIED.

Spinal Meningitis Follows Probably Faulty Teeth Extraction.

Philadelphia, Oct. 18.—Bernard Fitzpatrick, thirteen-year-old boy, died in the University hospital from spinal meningitis, induced by an operation performed to extract a tooth. The little fellow suffered agony for a week, and when his jaw began to swell his mother applied the usual home remedies. When these failed he was taken to a dentist and the offending tooth was extracted. Surgeons at the University hospital say they believe a sharp prong was removed and that this was what set up the irritation that caused death while in convulsions.

THE VOTE IN MACDONALD.

Is Not an Indication of Agricultural Opinion.

Montreal, Oct. 18.—Hon. William Pugsley, when asked if the liberal party would still continue to advocate reciprocity, notwithstanding their defeat in Macdonald, said he was not in a position to say what the liberal party would do, but he did not attach much importance to Macdonald. "The farmers who voted for reciprocity at the general election were busy with the harvest and it was only a bye-election they did not trouble to go to the polls. It is ridiculous to say the western farmers do not want reciprocity. You must remember that the Macdonald result was largely brought about by Winnipeg voters."

SPLIT IN THE CABINET; MONK HAS RESIGNED

As Result of the Borden Naval Policy.

TO RETAIN HIS SEAT

BUT WILL OPPOSE GRANT WITHOUT PLEMSCITE.

L. T. Marchal to Succeed to Cabinet—Hon. L. P. Pelletier Has Swallowed Everything the Government Proposes in Order to Hold His Office.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Government offices are all agog today with the reported resignation of Hon. F. D. Monk, minister of public works, over the naval question. Mr. Monk was in long conference with Premier Borden this morning, and although his actual resignation is not yet before the cabinet, it is thought it will certainly be accepted when it does appear.

There is much speculation as to the cabinet discussion which precipitated Mr. Monk's action, but it is thought in the main, it was the result of Premier Borden's proposal of an emergency contribution of thirty millions to Britain. All Mr. Monk would say when interviewed this morning was that he would fight for the submission of such a proposition to the people before it was passed by parliament.

The inevitable split in the nationalist-conservative cabinet was openly avowed last night, after a long cabinet council meeting in the afternoon, followed by an emergency meeting in the premier's room, which lasted until ten o'clock.

L. T. Marchal, the prospective new minister to succeed Mr. Monk, arrived in the city yesterday from Montreal, and was in conference with Mr. Monk and the premier. Mr. Marchal will probably run for Quebec, where Louis Coderre, M.P., is expected to make way for him on promise of a Quebec judgeship. This is about the only Quebec constituency which the government dares to open at present. Mr. Marchal will, it is expected, come in as a member of an enterprising community and not at all a bad advertisement for the Old Country."

Mr. Monk's resignation does not, as yet at any rate, involve his retirement from politics. He has resigned on a question of policy, holding firm to his pre-election views, that before embarking on any naval contribution, the people have a right to be consulted, and should be consulted by plebiscite. He will for the present retain his seat in the house, and will during the coming session oppose the naval policy of his late colleagues.

Mr. Monk sincerely believes in his views both in regard to the navy and in regard to the independence of Canada in Great Britain's foreign policy. He does not wish to go quietly into retirement by accepting the proffered judgeship, and will fight for his opinions in the house.

Whether or not he will be joined by Hon. Borden's naval policy, in inland revenue and mines, remains to be seen. The latter is apparently wavering between the desire to hold on to office and the desire to keep his pre-election promises. Hon. Mr. Pelletier has chosen the former option, and will swallow everything the government proposes. In view of the new developments it is certain that there will be in the commons this session an independent nationalist wing, which will make things decidedly uncomfortable for the government.

Laverne Turns Tail.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—Captain Armand Laverne has fired the minister of militia his resignation as military attaché for Canada to the Balkan war. In official circles this is taken to indicate that Mr. Laverne anticipates his services will be needed here as a nationalist lieutenant, following Mr. Monk's resignation from the Borden cabinet on the naval issue.

LITTLE NEWSBOY HERO YIELDS UP HIS LIFE

He Sacrificed His Leg to Save the Life of a Young Lady.

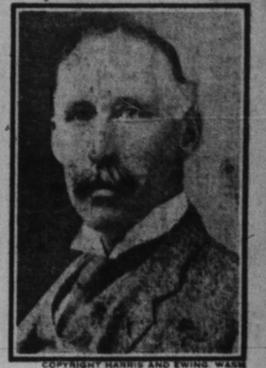

Gary, Ind., Oct. 18.—William Rugh, the crippled newsboy who sacrificed his leg in order to save the life of Miss Ethel Smith, who was terribly burned in the explosion of a motor cycle, died this morning. He was thought to be convalescent, but contracted pneumonia in his weakness. Miss Smith has almost completely recovered. Fifty square inches of Rugh's skin has gone on her limbs.

Locomotive Driver Trying to Repair One Sustains Injury.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 18.—Samuel E. Carr, aged thirty-five, a locomotive driver on the Pennsylvania railroad, was made totally deaf by the whistle of his locomotive.

While taking the locomotive into the roundhouse the cord attached to the whistle broke, causing it to blow continuously. He went too close to the whistle in trying to repair it and lost his hearing in an instant. He is now so deaf, it is necessary to communicate with him in writing.

To Restore Cement Duty.

Ottawa, Oct. 18.—The Order-in-Council under which provision was made for the remission of half the duty on cement entering Canada between June 1 and October 30 will probably be permitted to lapse at the end of the present month. The duty was reduced as a result of a cement famine in the west and resulted in large importations from the United States to supply the demand. As the situation in the west has been relieved and budding operations will be light during the winter months, the remissions will cease at least until Nov. 1. T. White delivers his budget speech.

Fell in Love With Nurse.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 18.—John Hoerle, a silk worker, was accidentally shot in the leg by a friend while the latter was cleaning a revolver. He entered the call of his right leg and he was removed to the hospital.

While a surgeon was probing for it Hoerle fell wildly in love with a pretty nurse who was assisting the doctor and proposed marriage to her in the presence of the attendants.

The young woman blushing refused the offer and retired in favor of another nurse.
