

Schoolgirl's Exhausted Nerves

Headaches, Dizzy Spells and Weakness Overcome by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Miss Gallop.

At about the age that most girls are working hardest at school, studying for examinations there are important physiological changes taking place which are an additional strain on the nervous system. Mrs. Gallop has had experience in the cases of her daughter and granddaughter, and for this reason her letter is particularly interesting to parents. Mrs. J. A. Gallop, 135 Victoria street, St. John, N.B., whose husband is a carpenter, states: "We have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in our family for nervousness, headaches, dizziness and nervous dyspepsia, and have found them satisfactory in every particular. My daughter Bessie was going to school, and became quite run down in health. By the time she had used three boxes of this remedy her nerves were steady, her general health was excellent and she was entirely free from headaches and dizzy spells. We are more than pleased with the results of this treatment. "More recently we used the Nerve Food for my granddaughter, who was out of school for nearly a year from nervous trouble, and noticed improvement in her condition at once." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box, 2 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Died at Creighton Mines.

Creighton Mine, Ont., Oct. 14.—At this place on Monday evening, Oct. 7th, there passed away to her rest and reward one of the most respected and best known residents in the person of Mrs. Joseph McDonnell. She was a member of the Presbyterian church and was a good, as well as a faithful church worker. She was always willing to lend a helping hand at the Sunday school picnics and church socials. In times of sickness and trouble she proved a friend to those afflicted. Her kindness and good heartedness and cheerful spirit will be long remembered amongst her many friends here, at Copper Cliff and at Sudbury. The late Mrs. McDonnell was born at Bathurst and was the fourth daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Kirkham. She married Joseph McDonnell of Clarendon in 1894. Four children were born to them, one son and three daughters, all who survive her as well as her husband, mother, five brothers and two sisters. She had been feeling unwell all summer although her death came as a great shock and sad surprise to all her friends. She was confined to her bed ten days and was only considered dangerously ill five days before her death. She suffered first from tonsillitis, then in gripe followed and afterwards a severe and fatal attack of parthenitis, during which she suffered intense pain. The end, though expected, came rather suddenly as she lapsed into unconsciousness just about twenty minutes before her death. The funeral took place from the home of the deceased on Wednesday afternoon, October 9th, and was largely attended. The funeral service was conducted by Thomas McNaught, the Presbyterian missionary here. Part of her favorite hymns, "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," was sung at the funeral service. Her mortal remains were taken down to Zealand and were interred on Friday, Oct. 11th. The average girl never gets more than one proposal of marriage—because she is always afraid she will not get another. General Notes.

Absolute Impudence. New York Times. Lord Rockswage, who leads the Duke of Westminster's set, is handsome, a fine rider and polo player—one of the best in England—a superb shot, and very, very smart in dress. He was strolling one warm and sunny winter morning on the terrace at Monte Carlo. From the cut of his grey flannels, a pickpocket realized Lord Rockswage's opulence and attempted to steal his sovereign purse. But the young nobleman seized in his strong brown hand the pickpocket's grimy paw, and looking at it disgustedly, he said, as he flung it from him: "How dare you put your hand in a gentleman's pocket without washing it first!"

Avoid causes of irritation in the family circle; reflect that home is the place in which to be agreeable.

The Range is the Soul of the Kitchen

The modern housewife knows the important part the range plays in the household economy. She knows how vitally important it is to eliminate from the kitchen all possible work, worry and waste.

And the range is the soul of the kitchen. Its influence is felt every day and all day by the entire family.

The Gurney-Oxford Range is a strong advocate of modern household economy. Not only does it cook and bake without disappointment or failure, but it is a positive influence for economy. It burns less coal—it requires less attention—it conserves time.

Modern woman demands in her work modern time and labor saving ideas, and modern woman is right. The Gurney-Oxford Range is the fruit of constant effort, research and experiment to make and keep abreast of modern ideas of efficiency. The Gurney-Economizer (which is licensed for use only on the Gurney-Oxford range) for regulating the drafts by one action; the Gurney method of distributing heat to all sides and corners of the oven; the improved Gurney grates, combine to make the Gurney-Oxford range the standard of efficiency and the foremost exponent of modern household economy.
