IN FAVOR OF HAMILTON ALERTS ON SATURDAY.

Queen's Played an Aimost Equal Game, But Hamilton Managed to Get Two Touches-The Game a Good One.

The Hamilton Alerts, looked upon by many to be again the senior champions of the O.R.F.U., this year, played the senior inter-collegiate team of Queen's, which has put up a credit able argument so far" this season, an exhibition game at the athletic grounds on Saturday afternoon. The score, 14 to 7 for Alerts, does not denote the superiority of the ambitious city aggregation, however. But it must be said that the U.R.F.t. rugbyists played in snappy style, and kept the pace up the full time. The line-up at the Aierts was the same as has played all season, with the exception of Bleakley replacing Grey at inside

Queen's players, let it be said, were not seen at their best, although they were in the game every minute. Two sure touches faded into the unrealized by the tri-color performers not passing the ball at criticial times when the halves got away for sprints in Alert's danger zone. One in point was in the close to Hamilton line. A pass to Again Queen's players did not hold their wings as well as they should have been to keep the flyers of the
