Many Opportunities for Service. Right Rev. Dr. Williams, Bishop of the diocese of Michigan, of the United States church, preached at both services, in St. George's Cathedral, on Sunday. In the evening, he delivered a strong sermon, in which he dealt with the question of religion and service for Christ. During the course of his remarks, he stated that many lived an honest, respectable life, committed no sin, themselves, but failed to do good to others, when the opportunity presented itself. "What is religion, I would like to ask the members of this congregation. What does it mean to you? You will my, that it means to save souls. But what do you mean by saving souls verybody is anxious about the condition of their soul, and you will find people ready to take up some new ideaabout saving their soul. Some are so anxious about the condition of their soul, that they have no time for the finer things in life-they have no time to make character or give service to
