Power of Discovery

It is up to every man to discover the real merit of things as well as persons. When a man will take time to consider and compare the merit of "Fashion Craft" and "20th Century" Coats with other lines we think there is but one conclusion he can come to, and that is that these two brands deserve the highest praise given to any Canadian Tailoring.

NOW LIEUT. GIMBLETT

SERGEANT-MAJOR GIMBLETT RECEIVES APPOINTMENT

As a Commissioned Officer in the Royal Canadian Artillery—He succeeds the Late Lieut. O'Grady. Sergt.-Major W. H. Gimblett, W. O., regimental sergeant-major of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery brigade, received official word from Ottawa on Wednesday of his appointment as a commissioned officer in the Royal Canadian Artillery. He has been granted the rank of lieutenant and appointed district officer, to complete establishment. This position was formerly held by the late Lieut. J. O'Grady.

Lieut. Gimblett's appointment comes partially as a reward after nearly twenty-five years' continuous service in the artillery, in which he has shown marked ability. He has been congratulated on all sides. Mr. Gimblett came from Hamilton as a member of the voluntary field battery of that city, to Kingston, for a course of instruction, which was followed by his enlistment in the permanent force. He completes twenty-five years of service on January 16th, 1913. Enlisting as a driver in "A" battery, Mr. Gimblett has filled all the non-commissioned ranks, and served for five years as sergeant-major of "A" battery. Then, for a like period, he was sergeant-major instructor of the Royal School of Artillery, and his last position, as regimental sergeant-major has taken up two years of his career. He served in the South African war, going to the front with both contingents. The newly appointed lieutenant received his warrant rank appointment in April, 1905, then having over seventeen years' connection with the artillery.

Mr. Gimblett is a member of Ancient Frontenac and Cataract chapters, R. A. M., and of Ancient St. John's, A. F. & A. M., as well as being connected with Court Earl Roberts, I. O. F. In religion he is an Anglican, a member of St. Paul's church. Lieut. Gimblett's appointment has made necessary a number of changes in the establishment. Sergt.-Major W. McIntyre, W. O., Royal School of Artillery, will assume the duties of regimental sergeant-major, and Sergt.-Major J. Slade, W. O., will succeed to sergeant-major instructor of the School of Artillery. Mr. Slade has about twenty-nine years' service, having been with "A" battery, Canadian Field Artillery, in the North-West rebellion. Mr. McIntyre has about twenty-seven or twenty-eight years' service, enlisting in the artillery after returning from Fort Henry during duty there during the rebellion.

Favors the Marriage. At a meeting of the Evangelical Alliance held in the Y. M. C. A. building on Tuesday afternoon, several important matters were discussed. A discussion arose among the brethren as to whether they should, in the proposed marriage between the Chinese laundryman and a white girl should be allowed. One of the clergymen arose and stated to him that the marriage should be allowed, as the parents were willing that it should take place. The members present, with this one exception, were of the opposite opinion.

Ten Million Feet Bought. Seattle, Wash., Nov. 14.—Approximately 100,000 feet of lumber has been purchased in the last ten days from Oregon and Washington mills by these Eastern car building companies, according to information given out yesterday by lumber agencies here. The orders are to be delivered in large lots this winter. This is one of the largest lumber deals in the history of the industry in the Pacific Northwest.

Epworth League Programme. The Social and Literary committee of the Sydenham Street Epworth league met on Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Eleanor Robinson to arrange the programme of meetings for the coming year. The committee has arranged an excellent list of social events and literary speakers for the winter.

The W.C.T.U. will hold a parlor social at the home of Mrs. Joseph Wilson, 77 Lower Alfred street, Friday, at 8 p.m. A good programme has been arranged, besides interesting reports of convention to be given. All women interested in the cause are cordially invited to attend. Admission free; refreshments included. Banderine, 25c, and 50c. McLeod's Drug Store, Brook street. The Kingston Gun Club did not meet for its weekly shoot at the traps on Wednesday afternoon, the weather being too disagreeable. The club is considering the holding of a dance on New Year's eve in the city hall.

GETTING GREYER—OLD MAN AND BALD TOO.

Looking twenty years older than you really are. Being made the laughing stock of your friends and the butt of their jokes. "Old Age Cures" simply because grey hairs are so closely associated with old age. It is very humiliating to be grey and bald when your age doesn't justify either—to be classed as a "Has Been" and set aside by your young friends as too old or them—to be turned down possibly, in your application for that new position because a YOUNG-LOOKING MAN WAS WANTED. Get the best of the grey hairs—don't let them get the best of you.

MARRIAGE is the best state for man in general, and every man in worse proportion as he is unfit for the marriage state. Don't take rash risks to retrieve your losses. Out them off short and forget them. How a woman doesn't enjoy holding her own.

JAS. B. McLEOD, AGENT

OWNS MUCH STOCK. Will Develop Properties in East and North.

The recently incorporated General Mines, Limited, is reported to be a close corporation, composed of Buffalo and Rochester capitalists. Among the directors are such well-known men as George O. Wagner, General Edmund Hayes, Arthur E. Redstrom, Harry N. Kraft, all of Buffalo, and T. Porter Ford, of Rochester. No stock will be offered for public subscription, as all necessary funds are being provided by the "inside crowd." It is understood that the company was now sufficient funds in its treasury to carry out a campaign of systematic development of its properties with a view to ascertaining the oil reserves and potentialities thereof. The company has acquired various properties in the district covering Hastings, Peterboro' and Frontenac counties, and has also acquired from the Lost and Found Mining company, limited, the lease and option held on the Cobalt tract, Rugby and Red Hook properties at North Cobalt. These latter properties are all adjacent to the famous Green-Mechan, and in the boom days were looked upon as very promising. On the Ruby is situated a concentrator capable of treating twenty tons a day, and it is reported that the company will double this capacity immediately. The company is also the owner of all the outstanding stock of the Buffalo Ontario Smelting and Refining company, limited, whose smelter is situated at Kingston, Ont., and will treat not only the ores from their own properties, but will also compete with other smelters for the custom business of the camp.

FELL ON HIS HEAD.

An Accident on Steamer Turret Chief, Wednesday. Paul Smith, a young man employed as a deck hand on the steamer Turret Chief, fell in the hold of the steamer on Wednesday evening and suffered a fracture to his head. He was walking along the deck, and it is thought, did not notice that the hold was open and fell alighting on his head. Corbett's ambulance was summoned and Dr. Morrison had the injured man removed to the Hotel Dieu, where he now lies in a critical condition. While the doctor was examining the injured man he also found another deck hand who was sick and, upon examination, found he had been suffering from pneumonia.

Married at Batterssea.

A very pretty wedding took place on Tuesday, November 12th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Dixon, Batterssea, when their sister, Miss May Sages, was united in marriage to George Hanley. A number of friends and relatives were present at the ceremony, conducted by their pastor, Rev. H. J. Sheridan, B.A., B.D. The bride, unattended, was given away by her brother-in-law. Her pretty rose-colored gown was trimmed with yoke and bertha of deep crepe lace. After the dainty luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Hanley left on their honeymoon trip to Kingston and Ottawa. On their return they will reside in Batterssea.

Story of the Blind Rat.

A poor working man told his wife on a morning of a curious dream when he had during the night. He dreamt that he saw coming towards him four rats. The first one was very fat, and was followed by two lean rats, the last rat being blind. The dreamer was greatly perplexed as to what evil might follow, as he had understood that a dream of rats denoted calamity. He appealed to his wife concerning this but she could not help him. His son, who heard his father tell the story, volunteered to be interpreter. "The fat rat," he said, "is the man who keeps the saloon you go to so often; the two lean rats are my mother and I, and the blind rat, father, is yourself."

To Kill Kindly.

An up-to-date and humane method of slaughtering animals is now being used largely in England. The instrument employed is known as the Behr pistol. It is a spring-operated device that projects a sharp blade into the animal's head. No bullet enters the animal, and as no powder is used, the pistol may be placed directly upon the vital point of the skull so that the aim will be unerring, death will be absolutely instantaneous and the animal will feel no pain. A similar instrument, but of smaller pattern, is made for use on dogs, pigs, sheep, and other small animals—Scientific American.

Great Family.

An interesting family—a father, his son, grandson, great-grandson, and great-great-grandson—reside in the neighborhood of Balclutha, Scotland. Robert Brown, the father, who is a native of Balclutha, is a remarkably hale and hearty nonagenarian, and his son will soon qualify for an old-age pension. His grandson, who is fifty-five years of age, is himself the grandfather of a fine boy of three years. The first four generations have all been miners at one time or other, having worked in the pits of the Lothian coal company. The great-grandson, William Brown, resides in Edinburgh.

THE YEAR'S BUILDING

HAS BEEN GREATEST IN THE CITY'S HISTORY.

It is Prophesied that Next Year Even More Buildings Will be Erected, Including Two New Churches.

Local contractors are looking forward to a bigger and better season in the building trade in 1913. The season which is now nearing a close has been exceedingly good, being the best in Kingston's history. Since the cold weather departed numerous structures have been begun, and in some cases almost completed. Among the list of new buildings are the following: Post office addition, Locomotive Works, a Salvation Army barracks, First Baptist church, also many dwellings. The demand for houses for workingmen was never so great as it is at the present time. In past years the great difficulty has been that citizens would use their money in the erection of houses that would cost too much money. In this case, workingmen would have to rent a few rooms or else take a large house and relet part of it. This great need has at last been overcome, when a number of citizens entered into a company and purpose building houses that will meet the demand of the workingmen. The great need for laboring men was never so great as it is now, and any person who suffers this winter need not lay the blame to the shortage of work.

Her Purpose.

REASONS OF COMMITTEE

For Advocating a Chemical and Hose Motor Car.

The civic fire committee back up its recommendation to purchase a combination chemical and hose motor car for the department for the following reasons: It has the recommendation of over twenty fire chiefs in Canada and the United States, testifying to the adaptability, efficiency and economy of motor driven fire apparatus. The motor-driven fire fighting machine has been successfully used in the following places in Canada and the United States (which are only a few of the many places where the motor fire engine is in use): Montreal, Ottawa, Quebec, Toronto, London, Saskatoon, Regina, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Brandon, Calgary, Victoria, Superior, Wis., Fort William, Pontiac, Mich., and Flint, Mich. In nearly all of the above places winter weather is acknowledged to be more severe than in Kingston.

The committee has the most convincing proof that the efficiency in Kingston fire department will be increased from 100 to 300 per cent. The motor-driven apparatus will be much cheaper to operate than the present horse-drawn system, as proved by actual experience in more than a dozen cities in Canada and United States. As seconds at the start of a fire are worth more than minutes of time, and that seventy-five per cent. of fires are extinguished by chemical alone, we believe that the machine asked for will enable both the men and apparatus to reach a fire in its incipient stage, thereby reducing the fire waste of this city enormously.

In using the motor-drawn apparatus on reaching a fire, a fire driver immediately becomes a fire-fighter, and in the event of a second alarm the auto. will make as fast time responding to the second call as to the first. The cost of maintenance of four horses for 1912 amounts to about $635; estimated cost of car maintenance, $75, making an annual saving of $560. It believes it is only a matter of time until the motorized system will prove such efficiency as to justify hanging the whole department from horse-drawn to motor-driven. In this case the annual approximate saving would amount to $1,100.

LIGHT THAT NEVER FAILS.

Candles Have Been Burning For Thirty Years.

Kansas City Journal. In the vault of the Fortress cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, in St. Petersburg, the place of interest are always kept burning, one at the head and the other at the foot of the casket of the czar last buried. These candles, which are replaced immediately they are burned down, have been kept burning constantly since the burial of Alexander II in 1881 at the head and foot of his tomb, and were transferred in 1894 to the head and foot of the next czar to die. There they will remain until another emperor dies and is buried.

A guard of officials in semi-military uniform is always on duty, to keep the candles trimmed and alight, with strict orders never to let one go out.

STRAIGHT RAILWAY LINE.

New Zealand Breaks All Records in This Regard.

The longest stretch of railway in the world without a curve is in New Zealand, where there is a line of railway for a distance of 136 miles in a perfectly straight line. The fact is remarkable when it is taken into consideration that New Zealand is one of the most difficult countries in the world for railway construction, as it is very mountainous, necessitating sharp curves and very heavy grades.

Prince 'Bus Driver.

Though he is the son of a king, Prince John, the youngest member of our royal family is brought up very much like any other little boy, and has his lessons to learn and his tasks to perform. He is good-natured, and laughs and sings so much that the Prince of Wales, his eldest brother, has called him "the little Johnnie." Prince John's favorite game when he is alone in the gardens of the palace is playing he is a "bus-driver" and taking his pets riding in his government car, but, anyhow, to be driven in the car, it is part of the game to run after them and have a romp with them. He has a Persian kitten and three rabbits, but none of these will take a drive properly.

The Late Mrs. Patrick Madden, Aged Eighty-two.

Brewer's Mills, Nov. 12.—The township of Pittsburg has lost another of its oldest residents, and the parish of St. Barnaby's one of its most devoted adherents in the late Mrs. Patrick Madden, whose death occurred at the family residence, Brewer's Mills, on Nov. 9th, after an illness extending over three months.

Mrs. Madden was known among a large circle of friends, in city and country, as a woman of kindly nature and thorough Christian character.

When only a small girl she came to Kingston, afterwards marrying Thomas Cunningham, a sea captain, who predeceased her some six years.
