NOT FORCING PRICES

NO FOUNDATION FOR REPORT, SAYS MANAGER OF COMPANY.

Montreal Group Well in Control of Halfway Railway—Unique Giving of Dividend.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—T. A. Russell, general manager of the Russell Motor Car company, says there is absolutely no foundation for the report that the company will be forced to reduce prices of its motors, as the result of American competition. Price of Knight engines, with which most of our automobiles are equipped, is identical both in Canada and the United States, said Mr. Russell.

At present our energy is being devoted to our manufacturing programme. The plant is being worked both night and day, which does not look much as though we expected to experience any difficulty in getting rid of our output.

Lachine Land Co.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—J. A. Davis & Co., who have promoted several land companies, tendered a dinner at the St. Regis Saturday night to the directors and shareholders of the Lachine Land Co., Ltd. Incorporated six months ago this company has just declared a dividend equal to 200 per cent. on the investment. The dividend cheques were kept secret from the shareholders and during the dinner several prize packets were distributed. The cheques happened to be enclosed in bags of pop-corn, and one gentleman narrowly escaped burning his white turtleneck while trying to pop some of the corn in the bag with a burning match before opening it.

The position of the Montreal syndicate now in control of the Halifax Tramway company, is that they own in excess of 75 per cent. of the stock, and like to have an agreement by which they can secure the difference between 75 per cent. and 90 per cent. any time they desire to have the same. Thirty-three per cent. of the holdings were secured from R. B. McCurdy, and company, but at the time the latter stipulated that the shareholders should be given the same opportunity as they had of taking $160 a share for their stock, and as a result, holders turned in over 45 per cent. of the total holdings.

Among those who accepted the cash offer were a number of the directors of the company who, however, sold only a portion of their holdings, keeping enough to maintain their positions as directors. It is thought, however, that the latter would turn in the balance of their stock any time the syndicate may desire to have it, inasmuch as they are retaining their holdings solely with a view of maintaining their present positions.

Offerings will be made January 2nd, 1913. Right to subscribe will expire February 13th, 1913.

U.S. Rubber Earnings.

Montreal, Nov. 20.—The Boston News Bureau estimates that notwithstanding its increase in preferred and common stock, United States Rubber will show earnings for the fiscal year ending March 31st next of 10 per cent. on its $50,000,000 common stock, which would be 2 1/2 times the present 4 per cent. dividend.

They will be called for the first time tomorrow. The listing consists of 25,000 shares of common stock and 20,000 shares of preferred stock.

PRISON REVOLT

Five Killed; Three Wounded When Prisoners Mutiny.

Rochefort, France, Nov. 21.—Five persons were killed and three wounded in a revolt which took place in the prison here to-day. Prisoners overpowered their guards and shot to death the warden and his wife. An officer and sailor who went to the assistance of the warden were dangerously wounded.

The revolt occurred at the supper hour, when several of the prisoners suddenly sprang upon the warden, and wrenching his revolver from him, shot him through the head. The warden's wife was killed when she came to the aid of one of the guards. Troops were hurriedly summoned, and after surrounding the building, drove the mutinous prisoners to the top floor of the prison and killed one of them. The two ringleaders barricaded themselves in a cell, which they defended desperately with a hatchet. They finally committed suicide with the warden's revolver.

Several of the prisoners succeeded in making their escape during the affray.

LIGHTING A RURAL HIGHWAY.

Township Councils Asked to Act With Hydro-Electric.

Galt, Nov. 21.—A movement is on foot for the lighting of two and a half miles of roadway between the boundaries of Galt and Preston. The Township Councils of Waterloo and North Dumfries will be asked to co-operate with the Hydro-Electric Commission in the project. The lighting of rural roads is a new departure, and this move will be in the nature of an experiment. The road is traversed by the Galt, Preston and Hespeler Electric railway, and much motor and vehicular traffic, as well as being lighted by the Hydro-Electric Commission, it looks as if in the not far distant future, Galt and Preston will be joined by a roadway bordered with handsome homes and with city facilities.

FEEDING BULGARIAN ARMY.

Masterly Work of Commissariat Difficulties of Transportation.
Correspondence London Telegraph.
The Bulgarian army organization is wonderful and goes like clockwork. When driving through the mountains I have been frequently astonished to see long lines of ox-carts heavily laden with army stores slowly plodding along, and wondered how such primitive transport could be adequate to a modern army.

The needed explanation was afforded me at Kostendil, where I have had occasion to see one of those commissariats in full operation. All the ox-carts in the adjoining departments had been requisitioned to the number of 1,000. They were then divided into five sections of 200 carts each. The drivers, with their whips, as tralkan or ordinary sheep wool caps and long sheepskin or goat hair coats, look picturesque beside their loads. Every day 200 carts were taken into five sections of 200 carts each. The driver walking before his team, humming an air or smoking a cigarette. He thus trudges up and down the mountain roads for a distance of fifteen kilometers, or nine and a half miles, which is one day's march. Then he lights a fire for himself at the roadside, has a warm meal, feeds his oxen or buffaloes and lies down to sleep on straw near the cart or in a barn if a farmhouse is near.

Next day he covers another nine or ten miles. Half his food is taken into horse-drawn carts, which carry it more rapidly to the nearest lighting troops, perhaps twenty miles away. The teamster then returns, taking two days, as he had on the outward trip, and on the fifth day rests while his cart is being reloaded.

Only bread was thus transported from Kostendil. It was in good, round, appetizing loaves weighing two pounds, of half-wheat, half-rye bread which remains soft and palatable for fifteen days. I had partaken of it myself, as it was available. The entire population lives on this bread now. No one thinks of baking any other during time of war.

Life in these places is now entirely absorbed by the war. Two-thirds of the shops are shut and the owners are carrying rifles and wearing uniforms. All bakeries have been requisitioned for the army and are now baking army bread day and night. Women and children are helping. Schoolboys and students wear neat uniforms and help where they can. The students are clerks at the railway stations or public offices and act as police and constables. On leaving my hotel I saw a young student scarcely more than fifteen, in uniform, dragging a long sabre by his side. He was

SECRETARY OF TREASURY EXCEEDED AUTHORITY IN ORDERING IT.

New York, Nov. 21.—The Board of General Appraisers ruled that the Secretary of the treasury had exceeded his authority in ordering that the so-called Read test be used to determine the purity and quality of all tea imported into this country. The decision follows an appeal of importers at San Francisco, whose tea consignments had been rejected because they were found to contain coloring matter. The importers protested on the ground that the Read test is not according to the "usages and customs of the tea trade," as required by the tea act of 1907, empowering the secretary of the treasury to designate regulations for the inspection and testing of tea.

POST-CARD AS PAY.

Lunatic Arrested Said to be Montrealer's Son.
Philadelphia, Nov. 21.—Archibald Loeb, said to be the son of a wealthy wood dealer of Montreal, who escaped from the State Hospital for the Insane at Norrisdown, Pa., was returned to that institution by the Philadelphia police. He was arrested at a hotel after he had offered a post-card addressed to himself in payment for a dinner. Loeb said he had slipped away from the asylum several days ago, and had walked the seventeen miles to Philadelphia.

HORSE BITES OFF CHIN.

Indian's Farmer the Victim of a Vicious Animal.
Clay City, Ind., Nov. 21.—William Caton, a farmer living near Brunswick Bridge, this county, is suffering from an accident which may end fatally. Caton was feeding a horse when the animal attacked him and literally bit his chin from his face. It is believed the horse swallowed the chin, as it cannot be found. It was necessary to extract all of the teeth from the lower jaw.

OHAWA: CHURCH SOLD.

Oshawa, Nov. 21.—The Pedlar People of Oshawa will pay $10,000 for St. George's Anglican church property here, the company to take possession in three years. St. George's church people will rebuild on the rectory property.

WHITE WINTER WEARABLES ADORABLE WITH YOUTH.
The young girl is never so charming as in her white furs and a big white hat to match. The tints of complexion, hair and eyes are all brought out by the fluffy white fur which is apt to be trying to an older woman. The collar and muff pictured are of white Alaska fox and a hat of shaggy white beaver-trimmed with white wings accompanies the white fur set. These white wearables lift to distinction a simple suit of dark blue serge worn with street boots of dull calf with buttoned cloth tops.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

"The Bohemian Girl," in Modern Form, Pleased Large Audience.
When the Bohemian Girl, revised and modernized, was produced at the Grand last night by the Aborn Opera company before the largest audience of the season. Spectacular additions, such as the introduction of horses, poultry, a tiny pig and a family of Arabian acrobats, have made more popular than ever this opera which has occupied the boards for seventy years. With all the scenic introductions, the grand opera dramatic effects are retained. The singing parts are in excellent hands. James Stevens, as "Count Arnheim," displayed a magnificent baritone voice; Roy Pilcher as "Taddeo," is a sweet tenor, and Joseph Florian as "Devilshook" has an effective bass voice. Blanche Morrison, "the Bohemian Girl," (soprano) and Claudia Albright as "the Queen of the Gypsies" (contralto) sang well. The chorus was well balanced. The street fair scene was decidedly realistic, and the acrobatic work of the Arab family evoked great applause. The "Dancing of the Hours" in the third act was splendid. The whole production was good, and as presented in this more popular and spectacular form it was appreciated by many who dodge grand opera as something beyond their power of appreciation.

"Dion O'Dare."

Bernard Daly, who is known as the Scandal of the popular priced theatre, will appear at the Grand on Saturday, Nov. 23rd, matinee and night in his popular romantic play, entitled "Dion O'Dare," under the management of the Broadway Theatre company. In "Dion O'Dare," Mr. Daly will have a purely Irish vehicle, as the entire action of the play takes place in Ireland in the early part of the 18th century. The piece is strictly a costume play and deals with the life of a poor young Irish lad, who finally becomes Ireland's greatest sculptor. The scenery has been made a special feature of the production, and each one of the four acts have been built from sketches especially taken by artists sent to the exact locality. Mr. Daly will sing a number of pleasing songs that are filled with that plaintive Irish melody so dear to the Irish heart.

Genee, the Famous Dancer.

Adeline Genee is as much of a genius in her art, as Sarah Bernhardt or Edith Lehmann. The only difference is that Miss Genee is in the first flush of her youth, while Bernhardt and Lehmann are both close to seventy years old. Genee was born in Aarhus, Denmark, and made her debut at the age of nine at Christiania, in Norway. The one appearance earned her fame. Miss Genee will be assisted by her own symphony orchestra and a company of dancers. Her programmes include "Robert in Danes" and "La Camargo," a new ballet with the scenes laid at the Royal Palace in Versailles. Genee danced before fourteen royal personages one time in Denmark, in her favorite ballet, "Leppla," which she danced with her sister. Miss Genee comes to the Grand on Tuesday, Nov. 26th.

Story of Sir John Macdonald.

Once when Lord Dufferin delivered an address before the Greek class of McGill University, a reporter wrote: "His lordship spoke to the class in the purest ancient Greek without missing the slightest grammatical solemnity." "Good heavens," exclaimed Sir Hector Langevin to the late Sir John A. Macdonald, "how did the reporter know that?" "I told him," was the conservative statesman's answer. "But you don't know Greek," said Sir Hector. "True," said Sir John; "but I know a little about politics."

The Auditor Should Remember

As an auditor you should remember that the Split & Normal Burroughs, which is different from 99 other adding machines out of one hundred, gives you Comparative Statements, in one operation—giving you invoice number, date and amount of purchases, and so shows your number and amount of return checks, and date, remittance number and amount of commission—and adds only those columns that you want added, all in one operation.

A little bit different from the machine you probably have seen. It does more and is worth more, but you will agree that the difference in price is small.

“CASCARETS” BEST FOR THE BOWELS
The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach, clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage-way every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box of your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.
