QUEEN'S WILL SEEK FRONTENACS ELECTED

AMENDMENTS TO THE RULES OF RUGBY.

It Will Apply for a Permanent Board of Referees, and Ask That the Question of Offside Interference be Clearly Defined.

Queen's rugby club will make an effort to have some of the rules at the intercollegiate union amended at the annual meeting in December. It will apply for the appointment of a permanent board of referees, these officials to be appointed for the inter-university games at the beginning of the season.

This has been doubtless brought to a head by most of the officials in charge of games this past season, ever looking irregularities as to offside interference and holding in the line in all backs and fake plays, conspicuously indulged in by Varsity and McGill. Both of the above teams practiced it. One of the most outstanding examples of this work was in the Queen's varsity game in Kingston. It followed the scrimmage in the last quarter from which Maynard cleared and passed to Campbell who scored the winning try. Queen's wings were held.

Coach E. O. Slier, of Queen's, feels that a board of referees must assemble and agree upon a definition of offside interference, and to what extent this holding is to be allowed.

Referee Frank Robins, of Hamilton, was criticized for his work in the Queen's-Varsity game, but it has been pointed out that the officials allowed McGill and Varsity to indulge in this work all season.

Again, the position of one referee, in particular, when the ball was being scrimmaged out is criticized. He placed himself about five or more yards back of the scrimmage of the team not in possession. Was this the most advantageous position? Rugbyists and experts say no. In the rear of the team scrimmaging the ball, or on the wing line, at right angles to the ball, is the best position.

An ex-cadet, who has played English as well as Canadian rugby, has pointed out what controls irregularities, (particularly roughness) in the English game. The rules of the Canadian game say that if a man is guilty of a certain offence, the official shall award a prescribed penalty, which for a second offence, is increased. Occasions arise, and the player is tempted to indulge in an irregularity. He, realizing the penalty, generally takes a chance of the referee "not spotting him." But the English rules differ. They specify that a player "shall not" do this or that. A player is generally punished with the man being reprimanded for the season, or often, disqualified for the season. The ex-cadet, who has played on the Royal Military College senior team declares that the sooner the rules of the Canadian game are amended to this effect the better.

IN NAME OF RELIGION

THE DENOMINATIONS HAVE CRIPPLED RELIGION.

So Said Principal Gordon in an Address at Ottawa on Friday Night—Religious Teaching in Schools Needed.

"We have suffered much as a people from denominational divisions, and we have allowed these to prevent the teaching of religion in our schools. In the very name of religion we have crippled religion." So said Principal Gordon, Queen's University, before a large audience in the Normal school, in Ottawa, on Friday night, when he summarized a strong plea for religion in the common schools. Important, in view of the present agitation in regard to public and separate schools and the teaching of religion in the latter, Dr. Gordon's address caused much interested comment.

"Religion and education must go together," he said. "The moral and spiritual side of the intellect must be cultivated, and unless the teacher can do his part in this he has no place in our schools."

The church had once been the great fount of education, and there were those who thought this should still be so. Prof. Gordon, however, did not agree with this view. The state's place in society was now a recognized one, and it must take care of education. This, however, did not make it one whit less necessary to have a moral and spiritual training. Not by the church's control of the state, but by the church's co-operation with the state, could this best be done. It was most important that some place should be found for Bible instruction in school life. The day in the public schools should start with the recital of the Lord's Prayer, and there should be Bible reading and the memorization of passages from the scriptures. Of the educational value of scripture reading there was no better example than Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with his apt use of biblical quotations.

"We have suffered much as a people from denominational divisions, and we have allowed these to prevent the teaching of religion in our schools. In the name of religion we have crippled religion. The parents of the children are more anxious that their offspring should receive a moral training than we are ourselves."

The lecturer also referred to other phases of the educational question. Was there too much anxiety on the part of teachers and pupils merely to pass examinations? Was there an effort made to do too much and to cover too great variety of subjects?

THEIR OFFICERS AND CAPTAIN FOR THE COMING YEAR.

Will Enter a Senior and a Junior Team in the O.H.A.—Some Talk of Also Placing a Team in the Interprovincial.

The annual meeting of the Frontenac hockey club was held on Friday evening in the city council chamber. It was decided to enter two teams in the O.H.A., a senior and junior. Reginald Crawford was elected captain of the senior team. The junior captain will be chosen later. It was also decided by the meeting to have a committee draft a constitution to make the working of the club's business easier.

The treasurer's report showed a surplus now in the bank of $439.76, which puts the club on a more independent basis than it has been heretofore.

The following honorary officers were elected: W. F. Nickle, M.P., Dr. A. E. Ross, M.P.P., Mayor F. J. Hoag, Col. A. B. Cunningham, Col. G. H. Ogilvie, Major W. S. P. Hughes, James Spence, J. G. Elliott, G. H. Williamson, A. W. Wheatley, Major Charles Lowe, Col. T. Benson, W. R. Givens, Sergt.-Instructor Jordan, Quartermaster-Sergeant Slade, George Thompson, Thomas Gaskin, Edward Hunt, Thomas Stewart, Dr. J. J. Hartley, Capt. H. T. Hughes, Dr. R. Hanley, William Driver, Bert Abernethy, D. J. Millan.

President—George B. McKay. Vice-presidents—John Cousins, Harvey Milne, E. Hartrick, Robert Sutherland, Edward Hiscock, John McDonald.

Secretary—Stanley Trotter. Treasurer—W. Y. Mills. Manager—James Sutherland. Assistant manager—George Vanhorn. Publicity secretary—Kent Martin. Trainer—S. McCullagh.

Assistant trainer—J. Powell. The executive committee was made up of the officers-elect with President George Richardson, Supreme Chief Roster J. Cousins, John McDonald, W. Hipson, E. Hunt and J. Angrove.

The club placed itself on record, on the motion of W. Y. Mills, as regretting that Eaton's team had seen fit to withdraw from the O.H.A. and as being pleased that Toronto has at last secured a large sheet of ice on which to meet their competitors.

It was made clear during the course of the meeting that any player in the city should feel a welcome to the Frontenac hockey team, no matter to what other club or team he was associated with.

The possibility of entering a team in interprovincial hockey was discussed, but did not seem to be practical, more owing to a lack of rink accommodation than for any other reason.

A resolution, moved by James Sutherland and seconded by George McKay, was passed at the meeting, expressing the sympathy of the club to its ardent friend, "Chaucer" Elliott, in his illness and its hope for his speedy recovery.

Among the new men who will probably be on skates this winter are D. Gallagher, of the Bank of Commerce, Doc, formerly of Mount Allison College, N.B., and Sutherland of the Bank of Montreal, formerly of Ottawa.

New men are needed and every one will have a fair chance, says Manager James Sutherland. Nothing is cut and dried, and every player is invited out to practice with Kingston's representative team.

What Ottawa Says.

If Ottawa II wins at Hamilton today, it will play the Royal Military College team in Ottawa next Saturday. If it loses it will likely play the saw-off with the cadets at Kingston.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS.

Notes and Comments by the Scout Watchman.

The Sydenham troop of Kingston Boy Scouts took part in a mock trial in the lecture hall of Sydenham street Methodist church, at this week's meeting Tuesday evening. The story of the case which occupied the attention of the scoutmaster, who acted as judge, was drawn up by Troop Leader W. Chown, and afforded much scope for arguments on the part of the lawyers. Some property of the troop had mysteriously disappeared from the chest, which contains a number of the belongings of the scouts, and the case was woven around this. The court's decision was reserved.

The prosecuting lawyers were Patrol Leaders W. Stewart and A. Bond, while the counsel who defended the accused, Troop Leader W. Chown, were Patrol Leaders Keil and W. Shaw. The witnesses were Scouts C. Gibson, E. Keil, Gordon Honey, J. Renton, J. Turner, H. Chown, C. Elliott and A. Pense. Scout "Charlie" Chown acted as constable, and Scouts H. Corbett and W. Riggs as clerk and crier respectively.

Rev. Canon Starr, of St. George's troop, on Friday evening, gave an address before a gathering of the Boy Scouts of York, Newburg, Camden East, in the latter village. The scouts from Camden attended the camp at Brousey's point last summer, and won the prize for general proficiency.
