KINGSTON INDUSTRIES THAT HAVE FLOURISHED

The Davis Tannery is a Growing Concern

PROGRESSIVE COMPANY

IS PUSHING IT RAPIDLY TO THE FRONT.

The Davis Company bought the Old Carrington Tannery Here—Three Years Ago the Plant was Enlarged—Still Away Behind in Filling Orders.

Kingston is represented in the tannery business by one of the most progressive firms in the country, in its particular line. We refer to A. Davis and Son, whose plant is situated in the northeasterly end of the city, adjacent to River street, on the Catarqui river front. Near it the new smelter of the North American Smelting company has been erected and is now in operation.

The business of A. Davis and Son was first established in 1867 in York county not far from Toronto, by the late Andrew Davis. In 1872 he, with his son, now the Hon. E. J. Davis, formed a partnership under the style of A. Davis & Son, under which firm name the business has been carried on up to the present time. In 1884 E. J. Davis purchased his father's interest and became sole proprietor.

The firm's business was carried on by him until 1905, when the plant having been destroyed by fire, he purchased the plant and property in this city then owned and operated by the late Joseph Carrington, and formed the business into a joint stock company, under the style of A. Davis & Sons, Ltd., with offices at present as follows: President, Hon. E. J. Davis; vice-president and general manager, Elmer Davis; secretary-treasurer, Harold W. Davis.

Davis operated the local plant at full capacity up to January 1st, 1909, when finding it impossible to keep pace with their orders they decided to enlarge, and during that year erected the re-inforced concrete tannery and storehouse, giving them about three times the original capacity of the plant. The firm has been gradually increasing its output from time to time until now it is turning out triple the amount of leather it did in 1909, and is still away behind with orders.

The firm employs at present about 100 men, which will be largely increased during the coming winter. The hides, which are the chief raw material, are brought from all quarters of the globe, about ninety per cent. of them being imported, and about ten per cent. of Canadian cattle.

The leather which the Davis tannery produces is sold almost exclusively to shoe manufacturers direct, one fine only being supplied to harness manufacturers. Almost the entire output of the plant is dispensed in Canada, one line only being exported to the English market. With the continued growth and development of Canada assuring a still greater demand for that staple commodity leather, there is every probability that the firm will be compelled to still further increase its power in the near future.

VICTIM OF HAZERS ACCUSED.

Student Alleged to Have Fatally Stabbed Young Man.

Springfield, Mo., Dec. 7.—Murder in the first degree was charged against Marshall Copeland, a theological student at Morrisville college, Morrisville, Mo., in a warrant issued here.

Copeland, it is alleged, fatally stabbed Byron Crane, another student, last Saturday after a hazing in which Copeland was the victim. Crane, whose home was in Springfield, died in a hospital here Tuesday night.

An officer with the warrant left here for Freeburg, Mo. to arrest Copeland, who is twenty-six years old and has a wife and one child. Crane was sixteen. Memorial services for Crane were held at the college.

Not Sober for Seven Years.

Among the fast and furious lives of a hundred years ago the name of John Mytton—whose biography was written by "Nimrod"—deserves mention. Mytton was born in 1796. "He went to Westminster and Harrow," writes E. Lucas, being expelled from both, and came of age to £50,000 ready money and an income of £10,000.

It was in 1819 that he brought himself to sit in parliament for half an hour, in 1820 came the dissolution, and he legislated no more. He married twice—the first wife died and his second left him. His bounds, his race-horses, his cellars, his coverts, and his friends all did their work, and by 1850 he was a debtor in hiding in Calais. In 1834 he was dead of delirium tremens in the King's Bench prison. It is admitted by Mytton, by his biographer, that he was drunk for seven years on end.

NOT UP ON MATRIMONY.

Why Bishop Was Not on Divorce Board.

London, Dec. 7.—A good story is told of the Bishop of London in connection with the Royal Commission on Divorce.

Dr. Ingram was urged to take a seat upon the commission, but he steadfastly refused, saying with a beaming smile: "How could I, a poor bachelor who knows nothing about the joy and pain and mystery of the holy state of matrimony? But if things had been otherwise!"

FORCED OUT BY TRUST.

Brooklyn Jobber Gives Evidence as to Methods Used.

New York, Dec. 7.—Rudolph Epstein, one of the several Brooklyn tobacco jobbers, who claim to have been forced out of business by the American Tobacco company, testified to the drastic tactics employed by the trust, it is alleged, to crush competition. He is a witness in the suit for $300,000 brought by John A. Locker against the American company under the Sherman law.

He declared that A. T. Benheim, representing the trust, called a meeting of jobbers in 1904, and told them the American Tobacco company intended to form a combine of all the jobbers in New York, each member to receive 1,000 shares of preferred stock in a company to be known as the Metropolitan Tobacco company.

Epstein declared that when he refused to join Benheim warned him he would be driven out of business. He said the American company refused to sell goods to him, and after a time he was forced to "close up" entirely.

"My wife," he said, "cried many a night over our troubles with the American Tobacco company. It was a matter of bread with us."

LONGBOAT'S EARNINGS

FROM RACING AMOUNT TO $17,000, SAYS FLANAGAN.

The Indian Has Been a Professional Runner Four Years—He Made His First Money in Kingston, Getting Seventy-five Dollars.

By Thomas Flanagan.

"Tom" Longboat has made a good deal of money in the four years of his professional career. I figure that he collected something like $17,000, and he has a fair amount left. His store at the reservation cost him $3,000, and his house here between $8,000 and $9,000. It is worth all that now. And he has a little ready money. That isn't at all bad.

The first real money Longboat got for running was $75 at Kingston, where he met a relay of three. The same sum was raised shortly after at Niagara and then he splurged into $300 for two races at New York. A race with Smallwood at Philadelphia netted him $125 and a beating.

That was living expenses. When he beat Dorando at New York he received the biggest purse of his career, $3,900. And in this race he was in the best condition he ever was in his life. He showed it, too. The night he trimmed Dorando at Buffalo he earned $1,800. It was at this race that some of my "friends" tried to get him to break from me.

His next big race, and the best one he ever ran, was at Mansey Hall, when he took to wife the fine little woman he now has. And it too was a good financial win. I don't think it was ever announced, but Sir Hugh Graham presented him with $500 on that occasion, and he received many good presents besides.

Sir Hugh was extremely kind to "Tom." He it was who offered to pay all his expenses to the Olympic Marathon and did furnish the money, though Longboat was not allowed by the amateur rules to use it. On another occasion he offered to invest "Tom's" $10,000 for him to give him income enough to keep him well for the rest of his life, but Tom wouldn't trust anybody.

"Tom" cost me many a heartache. I was bonded under $2,000 to produce him to run Alf. Shrubbs in New York. "Tom" was advised by some of those same friends of his and mine I mentioned above not to run. And I firmly believe he would have thrown it up. It was then I sold the contract.

Pat Powers ordered "Tom" to report at ten o'clock every morning for work and provided him with a first-class trainer. All the running he did in these morning dashes never hurt him. They told me that the most strenuous hustling he could do was to run a few yards beside a dashing horse before the camera.

They couldn't do much with him. Mr. Powers sent for me to handle him against Shrubbs. I saw in a minute he was in no condition at all. There was only one thing to do. I told "Tom" that the race was fixed and that he was to pay no attention to Shrubbs at all, because he would drop out near the end; that all he had to do was to keep going and finish.

The race wasn't fixed, but I figured that Shrubbs, who was not a man for the Marathon distance and knew little about it, would kick himself.

He did but believe me I had an awful time keeping "Tom" going. He tried to quit twice. "I can't go any farther," he wailed at me. "Walk if you want to." I shouted back, "only finish." And it was all he could do to stagger along after Shrubbs quit. He earned $3,800 in that.

That sort of thing was what you were up against all the time. In the famous $10,000 Marathon won by St. Yves, the Indian was under Mr. Powers. He offered Longboat $2,000 win or lose, but Tom refused and said he would take a chance on the prizes $5,000 first, $3,000 second, and $2,000 third. He quit and got nothing. Under Mr. Powers he did but believe me I had an awful time keeping "Tom" going.

He ran since then at the Island, Montreal, and got $1,000 at Chicago. I couldn't say how much he made under Mintz or himself, but the total with us all has been fairly respectable. Alf. Shrubbs planned to tour with him through Britain and it would have made both of them a lot of money, but "Tom" refused.

He has pattered around for the last year without earning much. His faint to be remembered by all. His cables for financial aid served to remind me that "Tom" still has a place in his heart and mind for me—on occasion.

WAS OFF COLOR.

Four Children Saved by Father's Poor Aim.

Chicago, Dec. 7.—John Robert fired several times at his four little daughters with a shotgun and pistol but because of his poor marksmanship none of the shots took effect and he was outpowered by Detective Laughlin before he could do the children any harm. He will be examined as to his sanity.

Laughlin was in front of the Robert home when he heard shooting inside. He broke down the door. Robert stood in the center of the room, a revolver in one hand and a shotgun in the other. The children were huddled in a corner.

The children's mother died four years ago.

THE SPORT REVIEW

THE LATEST IN HOCKEY AND RUGBY CIRCLES.

Ottawa College May Play With American Rugby Teams Next Season—Football Now Played in the Holy Land.

The Parkdale Hockey club has been invited to play exhibition games at Cleveland on Dec. 20th and 21st. O.H.A. clubs will not be allowed to play exhibition games in Detroit and Cleveland this winter.

In order that the schedule may get in the rule books, it is likely that schedules to be drawn up by next Thursday at the latest.

Frank Patrick, the coast mogul, will give $500 towards defraying the expenses of an amateur team to come east after the Allan cup.

Montreal Herald: A party of Montreal hockey players left Montreal last night for Syracuse, N.Y., to play for the Syracuse team against the New York Athletic Club, of which is the kingdom of amateurs.

Here is the team Ottawa College expects will represent it this season: Goal, Deen or Power; point, O'Leary or O'Neill; cover-point, Heffernan; rover, "Sid" Dion; centre, Nagle; right wing, McArt; left wing, Chartrand.

The British Columbia hockey league commences its season on Tuesday night when New Westminster plays in Vancouver. A record crowd is anticipated.

Ottawa Free Press: Hockey fans are eagerly looking forward to the second volume of the Carwright reminiscences which is expected to contain the true facts about the "salting" of the ice when Rat Portage Thistles came down east in 1905.

In Rugby Circles.

Toronto Varsity will have its entire back division for 1913, but will lose the majority of its present line-men. Lou Cory may be in Ottawa, and it is possible that he may figure on one of the local teams.

The Hamilton Rough Riders will receive watches from the club, and the city will likely give them jobs. The Alerts will likely be given enamel rings appropriate to the occasion. Only the players who played in the games will receive these.

While it is the belief that Ottawa College will be back in the Intercollegiate Union next season it is known that in case they do not return to the student league they will play American football entirely, and play a schedule of exhibition games with Cornell university of Syracuse and other institutions close to the border.

The men who will represent the Tigers and Alerts in the Intercollegiate game at Toronto on Saturday will be as follows: Backs, Leckie, Carr and Becker; Alerts, McKelvey, Manson and Burton; Tigers, quarter, Harper, Alerts; and Alerts, Tigris, scrimmage, McCarthy, Pfeifer and "Wain" Alerts; Young and McCann, Tigris; wings, Rose Craig, Heakley, Flannery, Clark and Fisher; Alerts; (beater, Wilson, Gatenby, Glassford, Thompson, Tigris).

Toronto Telegram: Ottawa College want to come back to the intercollegiate. Have they, like the products of old, expanded their ambitions, and are they looking forward to a session of husks and forms of breakfast food? If so let them have a little experience of it—that it may teach them some of the rudiments of the sport. A club that plays their home games, pocketed the proceeds and then jumped the schedule are not only not entitled to consideration, but should be made an example of. They should be kept out in the cold for a season and not allowed to play with anyone except Hamilton Alerts. After that they'd be good.

Football in Holy Land.

For the first time in the history of the Holy City, its people have thronged around a field almost within the shadow of its sacred walls, where contending football teams strove to gather for victory, says a writer in the December Strand.

The victorious team, too, was composed, entirely, of American students from the Hyrian Protestant college at Beirut, and Uncle Sam's boys can claim to have introduced the sport of football into the Holy Land.
