Better! Even Better!

Think of any soup in the recipe-book—think of your favourite soup—arrange to have it for dinner to-day and make it better than ever before, like this:—

Prepare your soup in the ordinary way, and before you put it in to boil add a packet of "Edwards"—either the Brown, Tomato, or White variety.

EDWARDS' DESICCATED SOUPS

5c. per packet.

Edwards' Desiccated Soups are made in three varieties—Brown, Tomato, White. The Brown variety is a thick, nourishing soup prepared from beef and fresh vegetables. The other two are purely vegetable soups.

Montgomery were placed in the family plot on Friday. John O'Brien spent Sunday at St. Lawrence corners, N.Y.

Budget from Newboro. Newboro, Dec. 10.—The Women's Institute held a meeting on Tuesday. There was a very large attendance to hear Mrs. Watts, who speaks on "How Suffered For Years From Indigestion Until Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. J. D. S. Barrett. If you suffer from chronic indigestion, forget about the stomach and pay attention to the condition of the liver and bowels. Ten to one that is where the real trouble lies. The liver gets sluggish and fails to filter the bile from the blood, the bowels become constipated and the whole digestive system is upset. As to cure, you cannot do better than to read Mr. Barrett's experience with Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. There is no treatment so prompt and thoroughly effective. Mr. J. D. S. Barrett, Nelson, B. C. and formerly of Twillingate, Nfld., writes:—"For several years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. The least bit of food caused me considerable trouble, and often I could scarcely eat a meal a day. The many remedies I tried proved futile until in 1905 I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using about eight boxes I was completely cured. Since that time I have not been troubled with indigestion, which I consider a great blessing." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers. to be Beautiful." A dainty lunch was served at the close. The Farmers' Institute was held in the Victoria Hall. Mr. Bass deserves much credit in making the meeting a success. Miss Cunningham and Misses Mary and D. McCarthy were in Westport on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Chipman, of Crosby, spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. Fleming. Dr. Gordon Richards is visiting Kingston friends. Mr. and Mrs. Corkey are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brady. Mrs. Chamberlain and son, Goodson, attended the funeral of the late Mr. Miller, of Chantry, on Friday. Mrs. T. Cannon is ill. Mr. and Mrs. J. Freeman, of Phillipsville, visited here on Sunday. J. Nulton died at early hour this morning. R. Richards is home for the holidays. Mrs. Bushfield is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. Ackland. Mrs. J. F. Graham is visiting at daughter at Brockville. Mrs. T. P. Kelly, who has been visiting her mother-in-law at Ernestville, left on Tuesday for her home at Mount Pleasant. Mich. J. Moriarity left for Quebec this morning. Mrs. M. J. Burns, of Cleveland, is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. Hart. A number from here attended the concert at Westport on the 3rd. A number of children have whooping cough. Mrs. E. Wiltsy was a Brockville visitor on Thursday.

One Way to Size Up Farmers. Pittsburgh Dispatch. An observing farmer tells the Sylvan Grove (Kan.) News that the following rules may be regarded as to farm and see a large barn and a farm and see a large barn and a small house you may know that the man is boss; but when you see a fine house and a small barn you may understand that the woman has things her own way; and when there is a good barn and nice house you may take it for granted the woman and man are equals and work together in harmony.

A Chicago Girl Club. Boston Globe. Chicago has just seen organized a club of girls who pledge themselves to marry no man whose income is less than $5,000 a year. The next number on the programme, ladies and gentlemen, will be an attempt to dam the Mississippi with daisies.

Not Particular. Exchange. "What sort of a tablet shall we erect over your grave when you are gone?" they asked the man who had long suffered. "Well," said the cheerful victim of stomach trouble, "I think a dyspepsia tablet would be as appropriate as any."

BOILS--PIMPLES--ABSCESSSES

All Evidence of Impure Blood and a Run-Down Condition. When the blood becomes thin, poor, de-vitalized nature cries out through such external and often painful evidence for help, and the safest, surest and most helpful remedy we know is Vinol. This is because it is a combination of the two most world famed tonics—the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil (without the oil) and tonic iron for the blood. Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, purifies and enriches the blood, creates strength. Mary Lang, of Altona, Pa., says: "Ever since childhood, I have been delicate, and my blood poor, thin, and de-vitalized. Nothing seemed to help me until I took Vinol and it has built me up and made me strong." We say positively there is nothing like Vinol to purify and enrich the blood and build up weak, run-down people. If it should fail in your case we will return your money. A GIRL PLEADS FOR HUSBAND'S MURDERER

After Visiting Sing Sing She Asks Governor Dix to Pardon Slayer.

New York, Dec. 12.—Miss Kitty Grant, a show girl and artist's model, sent a letter to Governor Dix, asking him to pardon William Jones, otherwise known as Scotty, who is serving a term of not less than twenty years in Sing Sing for the murder of Miss Grant's husband, William Lysaght, on March 4th, 1911.

The request for a pardon Miss Grant says was the outcome of a motor trip to Ossining two months ago. The party, which included Miss Grant, went through the prison and the widow of the murdered man had an opportunity to see what not less than twenty years or more than imprisonment really means. She did not see Jones at the prison, but thought of him in the prison and a few days ago decided to do what she could to free him. She does not know the so far and never saw him, and so far as she knows Jones never knew the man he killed had a wife.

The reason why the young woman was so much affected by the thought of Jones serving so long a prison term is that she says she knows that her husband was a man of violent temper and that he carried a revolver. The killing was the result of a saloon quarrel and Miss Grant believes that if she had come forward and told on the witness stand what she knew of her husband's habits and temper it would have put the case to the jury in a different light.

Law and Logic.

New York Times. Frank Lockwood, an English counsel of whose wit many stories are told, sometimes got hit himself. He was defending a man at York who was accused of stealing cattle—"beasts," they call them there. "Now, my man," said Lockwood, "you say that you saw this and so; how far can you see a beast to know it?" "Just as far off as I am from you," promptly returned the witness. In another case a thief showed both wit and some logic. He had been convicted of stealing a horse. "Yours is a very serious offense," said Lockwood, sternly; "fifty years ago it was a hanging matter." "Well," replied the prisoner, "and fifty years hence it mayn't be a crime at all."

A Real Pusher.

Edmonton Bulletin. He was a new clerk in a Calgary real estate office, and he was doing everything he could for the interests of his employers. The other evening he was at a social gathering, and was asked to sing. He responded with "Home, Sweet Home." His friends were a little surprised at the selection, but he was heartily applauded. "Stepping forward," he said, "I am glad you like the song. There is nothing like 'Home, Sweet Home,' and let me say that the company I represent is selling homes on terms to suit within twelve minutes' ride of the city. Everybody ought to have a home. If you don't want to live there, it's the chance of your life for an investment."

Contagious Hysteria.

London Chronicle. Just before the fall of the curtain at the end of the opera "Don Juan" at the Opera Comique in Paris a spectator in the stalls fell off his seat. The humor of the incident so tickled one of the principal actresses on the stage that she went into peals of laughter. Her example was so infectious that one by one each of the figures began to laugh in turn, until all were incapable with mirth. Then the audience began to laugh, too, with the result that the curtain had to be lowered before the end of the opera had been reached.

The Uncertainties of Life.

LONDON Sketch. A story is going the rounds that Mr. Lloyd George being cornered the other day by a solemn philosopher who was determined to discuss the uncertainties of life, managed to escape by a story which temporarily floored the philosopher. "Yes," said the chancellor, "life is full of uncertainties. I have in mind a military friend who used to laugh at a timid little woman because she was alarmed at the noise of a cannon when a salute was fired. He subsequently married that timid woman and six months afterwards he took off his boots in the hall when he came in late at night."

Identified.

Harper's Bazaar. The teacher was addressing his pupils the subject of laziness and idleness. With the solemnity, as befitted the occasion, he drew a terrible picture of the habitual loafer—the man who dislikes to work and who begs for all he gets. "Now, John," said the teacher to a little boy who had been very inattentive during the lesson. "John was instantly on the alert. 'Tell me,' continued the teacher, 'who is the miserable individual who gets clothes, food and lodging and yet does nothing in return?'" "John's face brightened. 'Please, sir,'" said he, "the baby."

His Mother's Crime.

L.ondon Chronicle. A guild of godparents to save children from incongruous names is being suggested. The late Canon Bardeley, author of a book on English names, told the story of what was probably the most idiotic name ever bestowed upon an unfortunate infant. A woman had her son baptised. What for no other reason than to cause amusement in future years, when, being asked his name, he should reply, "What?"

Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine allays the irritation and soothes and heals the fevered membrane, because it goes beyond the surface and reaches the essential cause of cough and expectoration—impaired nutrition and lack of constitutional vigour. Doctors know! Dr. J. Dunfield—"I have pleasure in recommending Wilson's Invalids' Port as a tonic of rare quality for debilitated patients. It gives tone to the system by increasing the appetite and very greatly assisting digestion. I believe that it alone would cure many cases of 'run-down' constitutions assisted by any other medicine."

"BEAVER FLOUR" makes ideal bread and pastry, because it is a perfect blend of Manitoba Spring wheat and Ontario Fall wheat. You don't need to keep two kinds of flour for bread and pastry. Beaver Flour makes both—a pure, white, nourishing, light loaf that "stands up" in the oven, and pastry that is crisp and appetizing. It is more economical than other flours, and appeals to all thinking women. Order it to-day from your grocer. DEALERS—Write for prices on all Foods, Canned Grains and Cereals. THE T. B.
