

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE IS STRONGLY ADVOCATED

By N. W. Rowell in Address at Peterboro

WILL BE MUCH BETTER THAN A COMMITTEE OF IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

It is Capable of Developing to Meet the Needs and Exigencies of the Future—Canada Would Have No Real Voice on Defence Committee.

Special to the Whig, Peterboro, Dec. 18.—A plea for the imperial conference as contrasted with the Committee of Imperial Defence was the feature of a speech delivered last night by N. W. Rowell, K.C., M.P.P., before the Peterboro Canadian club. "The position of a representative of Canada on the Committee of Defence," said Mr. Rowell, "would apparently be equal but not superior to that of permanent secretaries or other officers of the departments of the British government, and it is quite clear from the statements made by Mr. Asquith and others appearing recently in the London Times, that there is no intention on the part of the imperial government of making this committee, even with the representatives of Canada and the other dominions upon it anything more than an Advisory committee to the British government, a committee absolutely under the control of the prime minister of Great Britain.

"While representation on the Committee of Imperial Defence may serve a useful purpose when matters affecting Canada are under consideration, all must agree that no one would seriously suggest that giving Canada or the other dominions a seat on this committee would be giving them any real voice in the management of defence or of foreign policy. The imperial organizations of equal status and responsibility are impossible. Do not let us lose the substance in grasping for the shadow. Let us maintain the one to which the statesmen of the empire have for years given their best thought and which has proved such a bulwark for the promotion of the highest interests of both the dominions and the empire, an organization which, judged by its past history, as well as its representative character, is capable of developing to meet the needs and exigencies of the future."

Mr. Rowell contrasted closely the differences between the imperial conference and the Defence committee as follows:—
(1) The imperial conference is a conference between governments. The Committee of Imperial Defence is a committee of individuals.
(2) The imperial conference is composed of prime ministers commanding parliamentary majorities and can therefore make their decisions effective. The Committee of Imperial Defence is not so constituted, but is simply an inter-departmental committee of the British government, composed partly of cabinet ministers and partly of non-cabinet officials.
(3) In the imperial conference of permanent officials and can only all the governments are equally represented and have an equal voice and vote in its deliberations and decisions. On the Committee of Imperial Defence, Great Britain has an overwhelming preponderance and, from the very nature of the committee, must decide as the British cabinet may desire.
(4) The imperial conference recognizes the full autonomy of all the dominions and its decisions can only be made effective with the consent of these dominions. The Committee of Imperial Defence cannot, from the very nature of its object and constitution, do other than carry out the plans of the British cabinet.
(5) The imperial conference is organized to deal with all subjects of common interest to the empire. The Committee of Imperial Defence is limited to consideration of matters of defence and, only incidentally of foreign policy.

Mr. Rowell spoke on the question of imperial relations, dealing particularly with the imperial conference and the Committee of Imperial Defence.

KILLS ON MERCY ERRAND.
Autist Runs Over Man Rushing Boy to Hospital.
Cincinnati, Dec. 16.—While speeding his automobile to the limit in an attempt to save the life of a boy he did not know, Robert Dopke, a wealthy Cincinnati man, was the innocent cause of a man's death.

He was taking to an hospital Albert Cordes, son of a wealthy farmer, whom he found unconscious on the road after an accident. While driving his auto at a high speed he struck James Goodnight, killing him instantly.

Thinking there might be a spark of life left, he picked Goodnight up and placed him alongside of Cordes and continued the run to the hospital.

TO VISIT AMERICA.

Sir Ernest Shackleton is to Lecture on the Polar Situation.

SIR ERNEST SHACKLETON.

London, Dec. 18.—Sir Ernest Shackleton, the polar explorer, is one of the passengers for New York on the Lusitania.

"I shall remain in America for several weeks," he said, "and shall visit New York, Philadelphia and other cities, where I shall deliver a few lectures on the polar situation in general."

HEART PIERCED; RUS BLOCK.

Remarkable Exhibition of Nerve Shown by Victim.

Camden, N.J., Dec. 18.—With a stiletto through the centre of his heart, William Gallagher ran more than a block in pursuit of his unknown assassin early in the morning and then dropped dead in his track, the victim of a crime that mystifies the police.

The only information obtainable by the detectives is that Gallagher was a cab driver, 40 years old, was seen by Emma Williams, a colored woman, running after the men as she looked out of her window. As he approached them one of the men lunged at him, he fell, but recovered and started along the fleeing man when his wound caused his death.

From another source the police learned that Gallagher had been knocked down and robbed and was trying to follow his assailants when he was stabbed.

HOIST ON OWN PETARD.

Man Slips on Banana Peel He Had Discarded.

St. Louis, Dec. 18.—John Steinhauer of Belleville, fifty-eight years old, was taken to the city hospital suffering from a broken leg, fractured in two places above the knee.

Steinhauer was walking toward a Page car at Twenty-third and Walnut streets, eating a banana. He threw the peeling in front of him. He stepped on it and fell.

When the accident happened he was on his way to visit a daughter, Mrs. Ella Steinhauer, at No. 1645 South Jefferson avenue.

Hen Swallows $200 Ruby.
Lacrosse, Wis., Dec. 18.—A white Plymouth Rock hen, on display at the Western Wisconsin Poultry Show, which was valued at $200, was worth twice that sum after it had swallowed a $200 ruby which dropped from a setting in a ring worn by Charles V. Keeler of Winamac, Ind., one of the judges.

Keeler offered the owner $200 for the bird and subsequently increased the bid to $400, but both offers were refused and the loser left for home without his ruby.

ANTI-TREATING CLUB FORMED IN CALGARY

Roman Catholics Pledge Themselves Not to Buy Liquor For Others.

Calgary, Alta., Dec. 18.—For the purpose of eradicating the "treating evil," a strong movement has been inaugurated in Calgary, and an attempt is being made to secure pledges from as many men as possible to the effect that they will neither treat nor be treated.

A club has been formed in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, called the non-treating club, which already has a large membership, and those who join are pledged not to treat any man in a bar, and not to accept a drink bought by any other person in a licensed place.

Father D'Alton, the parish priest, states that in Dublin, Ireland, the idea has been adopted with the result that the liquor establishments have been decreased by fifty per cent. The local Protestant churches are also taking up the campaign.

Bank Teller Convicted.

Halifax, N.S., Dec. 18.—Henri Lagace, a former teller in the Bank of Montreal, was found guilty of stealing $135,765.

Rubbers for all, cheap. Dutton's.

PARLIAMENT TO ADJOURN.

Hon. W. T. White Introduces the New Bank Act.

Ottawa, Dec. 18.—At the opening of the house yesterday, Mr. Borden moved that the house adjourn on Wednesday, December 18th, and reassemble on Tuesday, January 14th. This was passed.

Mr. White then introduced the resolution which the Bank Act is founded. The resolution was formally passed and the bill introduced and read a first time.

Mr. White explained that it was proposed to institute a system of audit. The minister if he had reason to suspect the correctness of returns made by a bank and insist on an independent audit by the person appointed as auditors by the shareholders. Mr. Fielding's bill of 1911 made the external audit permissible and bill takes a step further by making the audit imperative. The shareholders of each bank would appoint an auditor and the government might call upon him for an inspection of the bank.

LITTLE BOY "GENEROUS."

Gave $17 of Parents' Money to Santa Claus.

Brockton, Mass., Dec. 18.—Fearing that Santa Claus would not have money enough to buy all the presents he wanted, eight-year-old George Gove took a bundle of bills from his mother's bureau, trudged down the street to where a Santa Claus collecting funds for a charitable organization stood and dropped the bills down the chimney of Santa's coin-box "house."

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gove missed the money and the police were notified. Shortly after little George began telling what he expected for Christmas. His father advised his son that Santa Claus could not get all that for one boy.

"Oh, yes he can," said little George. "I gave him the money so he could."

An investigation followed and $17 was returned by Santa on the corner.

WIFE HITCHED TO PLOW GIVEN DIVORCE DECREE

Ohio Woman, Was the "Off-Horse" in a Farmer's Agricultural Activities.

Lisbon, O., Dec. 18.—After telling the court how her husband, Jacob Zimmerman, had hitched her to a plow as the "off-horse" with her brother, Emma Zimmerman was granted a divorce by Judge Moore.

The court added that he never had felt more genuine pleasure in signing a decree in his life.

Although subjected to hardships and abuse, Mrs. Zimmerman, who is only twenty-two years old, still has the bloom of youth in her cheeks. She told on the stand how her husband had forced her and her brother, Walter Yeager, into the harness and hitched them to the plow. They were driven over the field like a team of oxen pulling the big share, she said.

Three witnesses were called to substantiate the charge, but their examination was cut short by Judge Moore, who remarked that he was thoroughly conversant with the facts as he had sentenced the husband to serve three months in the workhouse following his conviction on a charge of cruelty growing out of the plowing case.

SURGEONS BEAT PRAYER.

"Holy Roller" Seeks Hospital When He Breaks Leg.

Bartlesville, Okla., Dec. 18.—When George A. Snyder, an Oglesby man, sustained a second fracture of one of his legs, he decided medical aid, not prayer, was needed. "Take me to an hospital," he said.

Snyder, a member of the "Holy Roller," a religious denomination opposed to medical treatment, suffered a fracture of one of his legs three weeks ago. He refused medical attention, saying his only need was prayer. The bones failed to knit, and this morning, as he got out of bed a second break occurred.

"Prayer is all right, but not in a case of this kind," he said.

SHAKING SAVES AN INFANT.

Vigorous Treatment by Doctor Dislodges Penny.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 18.—Heroic measures were resorted to by doctors of the Children's Homeopathic hospital to save the life of Nathan Dubinski, five months old.

When the child was brought to the hospital it was in the last stages of strangulation by a penny which had lodged in its throat. After vainly trying the usual expedients the doctors picked the infant up by its feet and literally shook the coin from its throat.

The mother of the child had given him a penny to play with and he tried to swallow it. She made repeated attempts to extricate the coin from the child's throat, but was unsuccessful. She ran to the hospital carrying the baby.

THE PEACE CENTENARY.

Karl Grey Lauds Project as Worthy of Great Occasion.

London, Dec. 18.—Earl Grey, president of the British committee, writes to the press bespeaking public interest and support for the Anglo-American peace centenary. "In order to achieve a commemorative worthy of a great occasion."

He regards the celebration as having a first-rate importance, not only for the countries concerned but for the future of civilization in general, and says that it is worthy of a splendid commemoration which will do much to make its significance generally understood and prepare the way for future commemorations.

BODY AT STONEY CREEK

That of Woman Who Disappeared Six Year Ago.

Hamilton, Dec. 18.—There is little doubt now in the minds of the authorities about the identity of the headless body found at Stoney Creek being that of Miss Henderson, who disappeared six years ago, and has not been seen since. The body is so badly decomposed that it is impossible to identify it accurately. It finally fell to pieces when picked up. Crown Attorney Washington decided it would be useless at present to hold an inquest.

ONLY SIX NOW REMAIN

Of Suffragettes Walking From New York to Albany.

Osanising, N.Y., Dec. 18.—Only six remained to-day of the suffragettes who started on the walk from New York city to Albany to present a petition to Governor Sulzer. They expect to reach Peekskill, twelve miles north to-day, but most of the party are scarcely able to hobble along.

A ROUNDHOUSE WRECKED.

And Employees Had Narrow Escape From Death.

Rochester, N.Y., Dec. 18.—Twelve employees and four others had narrow escapes from here to-day when the New York Central roundhouse was wrecked by an exploding boiler. Fortunately the debris formed an arch over the men, enabling them to escape before complete collapse.

THIRTY-ONE KILLED

In a Mine Explosion at Dortmund, Germany.

Dortmund, Germany, Dec. 18.—Thirty-one coal miners were killed by fire damp in an explosion in the coal mines here this morning. Scenes around the mouth of the pit were distressing. Kaiser Wilhelm personally sent hospital and financial relief.

WAR'S TOLL IN FIFTY YEARS.

Over Two Million Men Have Fallen on Battlefields.

London, Dec. 18.—The Balkan war has given the generation some idea of what war means in detail. It is significant of the growing horror that a Savarig newspaper should present its readers with a striking record of the wars of the last fifty years.

Under a series of little pictures of fallen soldiers on the battlefield, it gives the number of killed in each great war of the past half century, with the strange exception of the Boer war. Here is the record:

Crimean war, 750,000; Italian war of 1859-60, 45,000; American civil war of 1861-65, 800,000; Danish war of 1864, 8,000; Franco-German war, 215,000; Russo-Turkish war, 250,000; Russo-Japanese war, 200,000.

The addition of these figures shows that no less than 2,313,000 men were killed in these wars.

BALKAN SITUATION LOOKS DESPERATE

Balkan Allies Insist That the Greek Delegates are Admissible to Conference.

London, Dec. 18.—The hitch in the peace negotiations looks to be serious. Delegates of the Balkan allies, to-day stated they would stick together in their demand that the Greek plenipotentiaries were admissible to conference.

The Bulgarian delegates made it plain that if Turkey refused to treat with the Greeks, things were all off. Independent diplomats admit that the situation is desperate.

KING'S VISIT TO IRELAND.

Will Not Go Until Home Rule Question is Settled.

London, Dec. 18.—The widely circulated statement that the king and queen will pay a visit to Ireland early next year, either as the guests of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire or the Duke and Duchess of Manchester, has been contradicted on the highest authority—that of Lord Stamfordham. The king does not intend to visit Ireland so long as the home rule question is a matter of debate in parliament, otherwise he and the queen would have gone to Dublin next March in order that he might preside over a charter of the Knights of St. Patrick in Dublin Castle on St. Patrick's Day.

The king realizes very strongly that any visit to Ireland in the present condition of affairs would at once have a political meaning assigned to it.

It is rather curious to recall that not very many years ago the king, then Prince of Wales, proposed to purchase a residence in the north of Ireland, but was ultimately dissuaded from doing so by the late king, who placed Frogmore at his son's disposal.

MORGAN IS IN CONTROL

Of Twenty-five Billions of United States Wealth.

Washington, D.C., Dec. 18.—The domination of twenty-five billions of United States wealth by eight leading financial firms, all of which are more or less controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan, was the stupendous evidence purporting to show the real existence of a money trust given before the Pujo Investigating Committee of Congress to-day.

It was indicated that Morgan's firm had directors in nearly all the big railroad and trust companies, also in the big Canadian monopolies.

SIR JAMES WHITNEY TO EXPRESS HIS VIEWS

On the Proposals of Liberal Leader Rowell Regarding Tax Reform.

Toronto, Dec. 18.—Considerable interest is being taken in the re-assembly of the special taxation commission of the legislature to-morrow, when Sir James Whitney is expected to express his views on the two proposals of Leader Rowell regarding tax reform, including the suggestion that the principle be adopted, providing for a moderate reduction in all assessments on improvements, and increasing of assessments on lands and also that local option be given in those municipalities desiring to further reduce the taxation on improvements.

A WIFE IS DIVORCED

By a German Count for Reducing Her Weight.

Berlin, Dec. 18.—The most remarkable cause for divorce known in legal annals has just been mentioned in the Berlin law courts. Three years ago, it appears, a Breslau magistrate, became disenchanted with the married state because by careful dieting his wife had reduced her weight by thirty-one pounds, with a view to attaining the appropriate figure for the exiguous costumes then becoming fashionable.

He, therefore, sued for a divorce, pleading that the reduction of her weight constituted a legal grievance and that his wife persisted in her course of action despite his protests. He also contended that the system she had followed had played havoc with her digestion, and had consequently had a bad effect upon her temper.

The divorce was granted on the ground that the diminution of weight had been intentionally brought about. This is the only case of its kind known in the annals of continental divorce courts, so the German jurists say.

BORDEN GOVERNMENT HAS AN UNHAPPY TIME

H. B. Ames, Conservative, Has Cut Adrift.

HE IS NOT IN ACCORD WITH THE PREMIER'S STATEMENT ABOUT NAVY.

The Liberals Poked Fun at the Fifties of the Government Whip to Adjourning Wednesday Night.

Ottawa, Dec. 18.—"The government is suffering from a real German scare this time," quoth Hon. George P. Graham, amid a militant roar of liberal cheers and laughter when at a quarter past eight last night the speaker directed a second ringing of the call bell for government members. W. M. German (Welland), who had used the few moments allotted him before the six o'clock rising in ridiculing the defence of the Borden naval policy, which the government had thus far attempted, was in his seat, waiting to proceed.

Fifteen minutes had elapsed, and not a minister was in the house, and but four of the ministerial supporters. A second ringing of the bell was ordered, amid continued cheering for Sir Wilfrid, and the liberal desks rattled and rattled again. It was a confident militant, happy opposition, which made the most of the situation.

Meanwhile Chief Whip Stanfield of the conservatives hurried around the corridors anxiously drumming up the conservative members. It was just twenty minutes past eight when Hon. Mr. Cochrane and Mr. Stanfield entered the chamber together, and were given an ironical reception by the well-lit liberal benches. It was a little incident, but it served to emphasize the significant situation that has developed during the past few days.

The debate now finds the government members holding off an ironical and somewhat forlorn practicality gone. On the other hand, Mr. German's concluding sentences, contrasting the two policies and challenging the government to a logical issue before the people, were received with ringing liberal cheers.

A Remarkable Exhibition.

Mr. German spoke with unusual vigor. Canada's dignity and Canada's self-respect were at stake, said he, and Canada could not be treated as a second-rate power. He pointed out that the country had been treated. Not one ministerial speaker who had yet addressed the house had attempted to submit anything which could be dignified by the name of argument in support of the present policy of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The conservatives had fallen back on the time-honored Tory slogan, "The old flag and an apologetic patriotism."

Mr. German's speech was a model of logic and patriotism and he had a good deal to say about the old motherland as on her knees in beggary, dropping to decay, in deplorable financial condition, and in pitiable straits. They had shouted, "The Germans will get you if you don't watch out!"

"They won't," said Mr. German, "make Christianity a farce and civilization a failure by heralding a war between two of the greatest civilized Christian nations of the earth."

Ames Deprecates Individualism.

Mr. German followed H. B. Ames, who, following the ministerial custom, talked out nearly all the afternoon. The member for St. Antoine declared that the Borden policy was a step forward to the day which was coming when our Dominion will occupy in the empire the same place as the provinces occupy in the dominion.

Mr. Ames, like the majority of Conservative speakers who have preceded him, read nearly all his speech, "There are those," he said, "who will try to conjure with the word 'autonomy.' The word was a good word in its day, and it has accomplished a good work, but when invoked as a slogan in the twentieth century it is taking up a weapon to slay an enemy already dead. The danger of to-day is not that autonomy will be entrenched, but that, under cover of this noble name, individualism may be pushed to excess."

Mr. Ames took one other significant position. He cut effectually adrift from the declaration of Premier Borden deprecating the creation of any Canadian navy, and emphasized the declaration that the present gift was only in the nature of an emergent offering, to be succeeded by the evolution of a permanent Canadian policy, along some such lines as those advocated by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. This spirit is becoming more manifest daily among the shrewder of conservatives, and many criticisms, some of an almost acrimonious character, are being made of the premier by his supporters for announcing those total abandonment of the Laurier policy of Canadian fleet units in Imperial defence.

Adjournment of House.

debate last evening, or rather early this morning, on behalf of Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, who will have the floor this afternoon. A small amount of business will proceed the special order of the day, and it is believed that Mr. Foster will take up the greater part of the afternoon. Hugh Guthrie, of South Wellington, will probably reply and that will end the navy debate for the year 1912.

Three weeks will give the members on both sides of the house an opportunity to consult with their constituents and the real debate in consequence is expected after Christmas. There still remains many effective speakers on both sides of the house.

NEGRO LABOR UNPOPULAR

In Hotels of Ireland, and Trouble Results.

Dublin, Dec. 18.—The negro, like the Italian, runs the risk of becoming an unpopular figure in Ireland. The aggressive side of his character, does not appeal to the Irish people, while his vulgar advances where females are concerned cannot be tolerated. Already there is an outcry against the employment of men of color in Dublin as well as in Cork and Waterford.

For the last year or two some of the syndicate hotels have been introducing negro labor with the view, no doubt, of lending picturesque to the surroundings, the result being that there is already a considerable negro element in these cities. It is not suggested that they are objectionable because they represent cheap labor, what is maintained is that their conduct and actions have a disastrous effect on the moral standard of those with whom they work and otherwise come in contact.

During the last ten days no less than a dozen colored men had to quit hotel employment in Dublin in order to avert a strike. Even Belfast, which does not claim any special distinction in the way of prudishness, does not take pleasantly to the negro. In the ship-building he must, if he is employed at all, accept a job in the lowest strata of labor.

It would pay you to visit our new store this Christmas for your presents. We have not quite completed our improvements but are ready with the best stock in the city to serve you. R. J. Reid, 250 Princess Street, at College Book Store $1.00 and $1.50.
